WITH THE PUGS.

Leach Cross, the New York dentist-fighter, and Matty Baldwin, the crack Boston lightweight, will fight ten rounds at the National Sporting club New York, this evening.

Cyclone Johnny Thompson, now a middleweight with a decision over Bill Papke, is going up against Hugo Kelly in a ten round bout to be pulled off tonight at Racine, Wis.

After his bout with Kelly, Cyclone Johnny, who recently returned from Australia, will leave for England, where he has been offered several good bouts at Hugh McIntosh's club in London.

Jimmy Gardner, the New England fighter, who is one of the "logical candidates" for the middleweight title, and Bob Moha, a promising Wisconsin scrapper, will go ten rounds in Milwaukee this evening.

Roy Driscoll, an English lightweight, will be tried out in New York tomorrow night against Jack Leonard, the fast Philadelphia boy who recently made a good impression on the fans by defeating Young Fitzsimmons.

Willie Lewis of New York, and Young Loughrey of Philadelphia, who are now Parajists, have been matched to scrap twenty rounds before the Cirque de Paris, the leading boxing club of the French capital, tomorrow night.

Sallor Burke, who recently knocked out Montana Dan Sullivan, has been matched with Jim Smith for the main ten round bout at the stag of the Olympic Athletic Club of New York on Monday night.

Porky Flynn, the Boston light heavyweight, arrived home this week from England, where he won three fights and lost one. He expects to return to the other side after a rest of a few months. He was accompanied by his manager, Joe Woodman, who also manages Sam Langford.

Jose Rivers, a Mexican featherweight who has been doing some great fighting in California, is signed up to meet Johnny Kilbane, the Cleveland featherweight, for twenty rounds at 122 pounds at Tom McCaffey's Pacific Athletic club, Los Angeles, tomorrow night.

Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, will probably be matched soon with Packey McFarland for a ten round bout at one of the New York clubs. All of the other lightweights are manifesting a disposition to sidestep Packey, who is now the real goods in the lightweight division, despite the fact that Wolgast holds the title.

An Artist's Joke.
Holman Hunt, who began life as a clerk to an auctioneer and estate agent, was constantly drawing portraits when he should have been drawing up leases, and in his chosen profession he was never slow to seize the flying moment. The windows in his room were made of ground glass, and as he had little to do he spent much of his time in drawing flies upon the roughened surface. A blot of ink sufficed for the body and some delicate pencil strokes for the wings, and at a distance the deception was perfect. Day by day the number increased, and one morning his employer came in, stopped before the window and exclaimed: "I can't make out how it is. Every day that I come into this room there seem to be more and more flies. And, taking out his handkerchief, he attempted to brush them away."

Patchwork.
The idea that patchwork had its origin in America is not founded on fact. A thousand years before the Christian era a queen of Egypt went down the Nile to her last resting place under a wonderful canopy of skins that were dyed and pieced together in a mosaic pattern. Years before this work had reached perfection and acquired a definite place among the arts. Then, too, patchwork quilts were made in England in the eighteenth century, as witness the lines written by Cowper to a Mrs. King upon receipt of "a kind present of a patchwork quilt of her own making."—Woman's Home Companion.
