Eph Williams Dies from Injuries Received by Jumping from Building

CLAIMS VICTIM

PROPRIETOR OF HOTEL

Be $7000—Only Partially Covered Insurance-Proprietor Will Continue Business in the Marshall

Dying at the county poor farm yes- JOE VEY PLANS TO terday from the result of injuries sustained while escaping from the burning Hotel Royal early Sunday morning, Eph Williams today lies a corpse in the Folsom undertaking parlors. Williams was askep in his room at the time the fire broke out and when he was awakened every avenue of escape was cut off except the windown. Hastily tying two sheets together he began lowering himself down but the sheets became untied from the strain and he was precipitated to the ground with the result that his hip was broken and his head badly bruised. He was brought to the poor farm out from this city, but medical science could not save him, Klein Lost Heavily, According to J. N. Klein, proprietor of the burned Hotel Royal, he is a clear loser by the fire to the extent of about $3500. He valued his hotel and furniture at $7000 and he had served as pasture. it insured for but half that sum. Consequently he is a heavy sufferer.

At this time Landlord Klein is preparing to conduct his hotel business building farther up the street which he has had leased as an annex to his hotel. He does not own that building but owns the furniture therein.

Origin a Mystery. At the time of the fire Mr. Klein, his wife and their younger child were all asleep in the room on the first the hotel building. He was awakened by the noise of falling glass and rushing to the office found that the entire room was a mass of flames, Quickly getting his wife and child out of danger the landlord then strove to get the others to safety. His older son was sleeping in a room on the second floor and there were two guests on that floor. Other regular roomers at the hotel were at Walla Walla that evening, having gone over to the aviation meet, So fiercely was the building burning that Klein could not get to the second floor, but he shouted himself hoarse in his efforts to rouse the sleepers. He was afterwards informed that they did not hear him at all. However, they all awoke and made their escape, though all three were more or less injqured in doing so.

Did Not Use Ropes. According to the landlord he had provided each room on the second floor with a rope that could have been use in making the descent to the ground. But so excited did his son and the guests become that they him fall.

FARM RICH LAND TRACT

By use of Traction Engine he is Clearing Land of Trees and Brush -Levy Will Hold Out Waters of Umatilla River.

While the United States government and a number of private companies are spending fortunes to recounty land by directing the waters of the river over a thirsty area, Joe Vey, well known stockman of this county is spending a part of his accumulated wealth in reclaiming a tract of land near this city by building a levee to divert the waters of the river from the land. Recently he purchased the McKay tract about a mile east of the city limits from G. M. Rice and immediately set to work to make tillable land which has heretofore only

There are about 200 acres in the tract and it is rich bottom land but it has been so covered with large balm trees and dense undergrowth of alin the Marshall house, the brick ders, crabapple thorn and other brush that clearing of it has always seemed too difficult for undertaking Vey, however, thought he knew an expedient way in which to remove the Klein personally owned the Hotel trees and brush.
