ANNUAL REPORT OF PENDLETON LIBRARY

Statement Shows Total of 15,978 Volumes Were Used by Patrons During Year.

By the annual report of Miss Lotta Fleek, librarian of the Pendleton public library, it is shown that during the past year 15,978 volumes were used by the patrons of the library during the year. The annual report is given below but the explanation is made by Miss Fleek that the report does not deal with the money from the city tax nor from the Sturgis fund, the financial statement being merely a statement of the desk finances:

Pendleton, Ore., April 18, 1911. To the President and Board of Trustees: Ladies and Gentlemen: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the report of the annual report of the Pendleton public library, as a free library, was open to the public on Saturday, May 1, 1909. It had been previously organized, catalogued and put into running order by Miss Mayme Batterson, a graduate of the Illinois state library school, and Miss Batterson continued in office as librarian until May 1, 1910, when she resigned to accept a position in the Green Lake branch of the Seattle public library, September 1, 1910. Lotta L. Fleek of the Wisconsin library school, class 1910, was elected to the position vacated by Miss Batterson. The continued and increasing interest in the library, during the past year, has been shown, not only in the number of readers, but also in the gifts of our friends.

Circulation.

The total number of books loaned for home use during the year was 15,928, of these 11,397 were from the adult department and 4531 from the juvenile room. There was a slight decrease in the circulation from the juvenile department compared with the statistical record for 1910. This may be partially accounted for from the fact that it was the first year the library was open, and the fact that we have had very few new books in this department may have had some effect.

On the whole the circulation has been very satisfactory and we feel we are serving the public generally with fair adequacy.

Accessions.

Three hundred fifty-two volumes have been added to the library during the year, of these, 71 were children's books, 49 were purchased from the Sturgis fund, 67 were gifts, and the remainder were purchased from the regular library fund.

The total number of volumes in the library April 1, 1911, was 4705. Some of the pamphlets, reports and unbound books which are not of permanent value are not included in this number.

Registration.

Five hundred eleven new borrowers were registered during the year, 374 adults and 134 juveniles. Ten non-resident borrowers were registered and there have been 10 deposit borrowers since September 1.

During the year 39 cards have been withdrawn on account of death or removal from the city. Total number of borrowers April 1, 1911, 1621.

Binding.

Fifty volumes have been rebound. No accurate account has been kept of the mending that has been done, but all books have been repaired so far as practical, too much mending unfits books for rebinding.

Cataloguing.

All new books have been catalogued as they have been received and whenever a book has been found on the shelves, not catalogued or not well analyzed, the work has been done.

Periodicals.

We now have 23 magazines and 5 daily papers on our reading tables. In ordering the magazines for this year "The Air Scout," an aeronautic magazine, was substituted for Munsey. Mrs. J. A. Fee is supplying us with Munsey, and Mrs. Louis Anderson "The Woman's Home Companion" for this year.

Reference.

The amount of reference work done indicates clearly that the library is coming more and more to be looked upon as an information bureau and study room and that the people turn to it naturally when they "want to know."

Gifts.

In addition to the donations of books, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Tweedy recently presented the library with a large framed picture of the authors of the United States.

Juvenile Department.

Four thousand, five hundred thirty-two books were issued from this department during the year and more than half of these were from the non-fiction classes.

The grade schools were visited in the fall, the library and its use explained to the children and a general invitation extended to them and their teachers, to visit the library especially when help was needed in connection with their work.

A story hour has been conducted each week on Saturday morning from 10 to 10:30 o'clock, for the children between five and ten years of age and the interest and attendance has been decidedly gratifying. We sincerely appreciate the assistance we have had for this hour, and much of the success of this work has been due to the teachers, who have so kindly and willingly given their services.

The circulating books from the school libraries have been turned in to the public library, an acquisition which we heartily appreciate. It is to be understood that the teachers are privileged to borrow these books in any number as they may have need for them through the school year, but during the vacation they will be returned to the library where they will be available for the use of the children during the summer months.

Press.

I wish to extend sincere thanks to the papers of the city for their kindness in supplying us with copies of their papers, printing lists on many subjects, and various items of library news.

I also wish to express my heartiest appreciation for the support and cooperation given me by the board of trustees. Respectfully submitted, Lotta L. Fleek, Librarian.

PLAN CENTRAL OREGON DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE

The Central Oregon Development League will be organized at a meeting to be held in Prineville, June 30 to July 1, says the Portland Journal. From Prineville have been issued invitations to the various communities interested and the call will go out officially in a few days from the office of Secretary C. C. Chapman of the Oregon Development League.

The league, it is planned, will cooperate in every way with the state organization.

"The value of the smaller development league," said C. C. Chapman, "is that each operates in its own section and ever so much more good will come from central Oregon in being organized as a unit.

"A separate league will give that territory an entity that never would be received by the individual localities. The expense of maintaining a central organization can be made very small, the chief expense for the publicly work being that of maintaining its own club in its own community. The work of the central organization will supplement that done by each unit on its own behalf."

Cities of Crook, Wheeler, Grant, Harney and the north half of Lake and Klamath counties, will be eligible to membership in the proposed league. Central Oregon is taking an interest in the matter, and it is expected there will be a generous turn out of representative citizens of the interior at the Prineville meeting. The matter will be agitated thoroughly among business men with a view to making the attendance as large as possible.

Mississippi Teachers Meet.

Jackson, Miss., May 4.—Leading educators of the state are arriving here today for the annual session of the Mississippi Teachers' association, which will extend through three days.

Purify Your Blood

The cause of pimples, boils and other eruptions, as well as of that tired feeling and poor appetite, which are so common in the spring, is impure and impoverished blood.

The best way to purify and enrich the blood, as thousands of people know by experience, is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla

It was not every day, the captain explained, that he had time to make an entry. There were occasional lapses in the record, but an entry, after several days' silence, usually covered the missing days.
