MOB THROWS COAL INTO BAY

Citizens of Cordova, Alaska Dumps Cargo into Water from Ocean Dock

OFFICIALS POWERLESS TO CONTROL INDIGNANT MEN

Action is Caused by the Government's Delay in Opening up the Coal Fields of Alaska—Young Says Act of Mob Was Not Against Company But Against Government.

Seattle, May 4.—Conservationists here today look upon the dumping of the British coal into Cordova bay by the citizens, as the work of men dependent on the Guggenheims whom they allege instigated the coal party, in the interests of the Guggenheims' fight for the opening of the coal lands by the government.

It was not the act of a mob against us," said Young, "but against the government. I presume the government is responsible to us for the coal, but I am unprepared to say what steps we will take if we have to lose the coal."

The "Coal Party." Cordova, Alaska, May 5.—The excitement caused by the government's failure to hurry action on the Alaska coal land cases reached a climax here yesterday, when 300 business men and citizens formed a mob and armed with shovels marched to the ocean dock of the Alaskan Steamship company, where they proceeded to throw several hundred tons of British Columbia coal into the bay.

JOHN BRADBURN IS REFUSED LICENSE

CANNOT ESTABLISH SALOON NEAR PILOT ROCK

After Considering the Matter All Day County Court by Unanimous Vote Decides Not to Grant Petition.

John Bradburn, dealer in wines, whiskies and all kinds of intoxicating beverages, can not establish a drink emporium just outside the city limits of Pilot Rock. At 2:30 this afternoon after considering the matter all day, the county court by unanimous vote decided not to grant the petition of 164 Pilot Rock voters asking that Bradburn be given a county license.

Pilot Rock was one of the towns in Umatilla county which voted wet at the recent election, but the council of that town decided that only one drinking house should be allowed within the limits of the town. Bradburn was one of the applicants for this license but was not the successful one. He then conceived the idea of opening a house just without the city limits under a county license. To that end application was made to the county court and a petition with more than a hundred signers sent in.

With the assistance of Deputy District Attorney W. C. E. Pruitt, the court has been considering the question all day. The law giving the court power to grant licenses was made in 1889 before local option had ever been tried and is not applicable to present day conditions, in the opinion of the authorities. The court also decided that the legalizing of a saloon just outside the city limits would be equivalent to encouraging lawlessness as the town officers would be without any jurisdiction over the place.

Wild Horse Road Granted.

The county court yesterday granted the petition asking that the Wild Horse road be returned to the bed of the creek where it was formerly routed. The sentiment for this change strong and the decision of the court will be popular.

TO USE ALIBIS IN DEFENSE

McNamaras' Counsel Intimates That This Will be Method Adopted to free Suspects

TWENTY-ONE INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

Nineteen Are Against McNamara Brothers, While Two Are Against Ortie McManigal—No Further Testimony Will Be Taken at Present—Attorney Fredericks Present During Session.

Los Angeles, May 5.—Twenty one indictments charging murder in connection with the destruction of the Times and the partial wrecking of the Llewellyn Iron Works were returned by the grand jury at noon today. The bills were signed by Judge Bordwell. Names of those indicted withheld.

Los Angeles, May 5.—Volleys of alibis will be fired in the defense for the freedom of the McNamaras when the case comes before the court. The defense intimated that James McNamara will be the particular beneficiary as it never was contended that John was in California during the time of the Times explosion. An attempt will be made to show that James was in another section of the country, so he could not have possibly participated in the dynamiting. The defense attorneys conferred long today following the return of 21 indictments by the grand jury. They seemingly believe that the McNamara testimony is responsible for them. It is said 19 of them charge the McNamaras with murder and the other two connect John and McManigal with the Llewellyn iron works explosion.

No More Testimony.

Los Angeles, May 4.—No other witnesses have been summoned to appear and it is understood no further testimony will be taken for the time being. Fredericks was present at times during the session.

Moyer Replies to Roosevelt.

Denver, May 5.—Replying to the articles by Roosevelt on McNamara, Charles Moyer, president of the Western Federation of miners, said today: "If another man of Roosevelt's prominence had made such declarations they might have weight. Roosevelt is inconsistent. When Hayward, Pettibone and myself were awaiting trial Roosevelt declared we were 'undesirable.' He virtually tried and convicted us yet he could not have known whether we were guilty or innocent. I venture to say the country would hear Roosevelt's protests if any of his friends were treated as the McNamaras have been."

Arraign Suspects Today.

The judge set 2 o'clock this afternoon for the arraignment of the McNamaras and McManigal.

Socialists in Protest.

Chicago, May 5.—Aroused by Roosevelt's editorial on the McNamaras in the outlook the entire socialist press of this country today inaugurated a campaign of protest. "Roosevelt," says the Daily Socialist, editorially today, "butted into the Moyer-Haywood case and became infamous by referring to the kidnapped miners as undesirable citizens. Now he has butted into the McNamara case and is trying to shoo workers away from their bounden duty to rescue their imprisoned fellow workers."

WANT CELEBRATION AND WANT IT HELD AT ROUND-UP GROUNDS

That the businessmen of the city want to have a Fourth of July celebration and will supply the money for the same, provided the celebration is held at the Roundup park and not on Main street is declared by members of the Commercial club committee named to make a canvass of sentiment among the people.

"We found people practically unanimous for a celebration," says May E. J. Murphy, who was one of the scouting brigade. "There are a few who declared themselves opposed but nine men out of ten went on record as favoring a celebration and they said they were ready to contribute."

"But we also found sentiment strongly opposed to the old time practice of holding the celebration on the streets. Man after man declared he wanted to see the celebration held at

SMOOTH FORGER IS CAPTURED

Man Who Victimized Pendleton Merchants was Arrested at Boise Last Night

WOMAN IS SAID TO BE PARTLY RESPONSIBLE

Sheriff Was Certain That Man Had Left for Boise and Wired to Idaho Officers to be on Lookout—Will Bring Young Criminal Back to This City.

Louis Livingston, the forger who victimized nearly a dozen of Pendleton's leading merchants Wednesday afternoon by passing bogus checks upon them, enjoying the fruits of his crime but a few hours. A telegram was received late last night by the local officers that the man had been captured in Boise and Sheriff T. D. Taylor left on the early train this morning to bring him back.

It seems that the sheriff was almost certain that the man would land in Boise, having received information which led him to that conclusion. It was known that he took the Walla Walla train out Wednesday evening but that he did not shake the sheriff's belief. He wired to the officers at Boise to be on the lookout, and, true to predictions, Livingston walked in to the net.

Livingston had been about the city for the past six weeks coming here from Salt Lake City. He secured employment with the city water works and later, when the pipe line to the asylum was started, was given a job by Contractor George Sutherland. This job he held until last Monday when he quit.

Woman in Case. It is rumored about that there was a woman at the bottom of the young man's crime. It is said he was infatuated with her and was led to his forgeries by this infatuation.

Livingston, while he was here, boarded most of the time with Walter Wells and the officers secured a complete description as well as a picture of the young man from Mr. Wells. Sheriff Taylor will probably arrive with his prisoner on No. 17 tomorrow.

L. Moses, proprietor of the Workmen's Clothing company, and Geary Taylor, head clerk at the Boston Store, deny that their establishments were victimized. Taylor states that some of his friends put up a job on him which was responsible for the report circulated about him taking a bad check.

The apprehension of Livingston is another feather in the head-dress of Sheriff Taylor. His success in running criminals to earth is almost unbroken. Charles Bond states that since he has been in business he has been victimized twelve times by bad check artists and that every one has been captured by Sheriff Taylor and all but one before the money secured had been spent.

BAILEY AND PERRY RETIRE FROM SUIT

TWO OF ST. DENNIS BOYS DISMISS THEIR ACTION

New Development in Famous Law Suit—Jerry and Nelson St. Dennis Want Suit Dismissed—Joe Experiences Change of Mind.

Today marked another development in the famous St. Dennis-Watts case which has involved three lawyers in an investigation by their associates and it now seems as if the suit itself will never be threshed out in court. Two of the four plaintiffs have had the suit dismissed as far as they are concerned, while a third is ready to take similar action. The fourth, Joe (Peno) St. Dennis, came to Pendleton with the intention of doing likewise, but it is assumed that a little whiskey and a little button-hole persuasion made him change his mind. He has therefore been given until May 13 to secure a new attorney and to make further appearance in court.

Bailey and Perry Retire. Attorneys D. W. Bailey and J. B. Perry are no longer connected with the prosecution of the suit. For reasons of their own they introduced a motion in court this morning asking permission to withdraw and their motion was granted.

A Change of Mind.

The three St. Dennis boys, Jerry, Joe and Nelson, came to the city this morning with the intention of asking that the suit against Homer I. Watts be dismissed. Soon after reaching the city, however, it is claimed, Joe began drinking and his speech and manner in court certainly bore out this claim. Just before going into court he encountered Attorney J. B. Perry, who had just filed a motion of withdrawal from the suit. According to St. Dennis' own statement, Perry advised him to stay in the suit as there was more money in it.

Therefore, when his two brothers asked that the suit be dismissed, he declared his intention of prosecuting it. When asked by Judge Phelps if he had not signed a motion for dismissal and another for a change of attorneys, he stated that, if he had, he must have been drunk at the time. The judge thereupon gave him until May 13 to secure another attorney and to appear in court for further action.

Thomas Breden, the fourth plaintiff in the suit, was also cited to appear in court on that date but the general sentiment is that he wishes the suit dismissed. Attorney Homer I. Watts declares he has in his possession certain sums which he is ready to turn over to the four children of Breden as soon as the court appoints a guardian.

FOREIGNERS TO FIGHT REBELS

Residents of Mexico City Will Tender Their Services in Case of Siege

GENERAL MADERO RESIGNS AS PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT

Provided Peace Terms Are Reached Between Madero and Diaz, Both Armies Will Cooperate in Order to Quell Spasmodic Outbreaks in Northern Mexico.

El Paso, May 5.—Madero's demands that Diaz resign immediately brought negotiations to a crisis. Within two days it is believed that either peace or fighting will be resumed. All minor considerations are being ignored. The entire question of peace hinges on Diaz's answer.

Mexico City, May 5.—Impressed with the idea that a siege of Mexico City by the rebels is probable soon, the foreign residents are today seriously planning to protect themselves. It is the suggestion of the French club that all able bodied foreigners be prepared and that they tender their services to the government if the gararrison leaves the city. The plan is much favored and will probably be put into effect.

Armies May Incorporate.

El Paso, May 5.—Provided that terms of peace are reached soon between Madero and Diaz the rebel leaders here are seriously considering a plan to incorporate Madero's army with the federal troops in order to quell the spasmodic outbreaks in northern Mexico. Diaz' army cannot cope with the situation, while Madero's men are all hardened campaigners. This scheme it is believed will keep the peace if terms are arrived at.

Madero Issues Statement.

El Paso, Texas, May 5.—The peace commissioners of the Mexican revolutionists formally presented yesterday to Judge Caramajal, the federal envoy, a statement signed by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., appealing to President Diaz to make public the assurances given privately that he intended to resign.

After offering his own resignation as provisional president of the republic, Senator Madero suggested that both President Diaz and Vice President Corral resign and that Minister of Foreign Relations de la Barra become president in the interim, until a general election shall have been held. The statement, couched in most courteous Spanish phrases, informs President Diaz that there is no other way out of the present difficulty and that a word from him will bring peace in a few days.

Senator Madero, in his statement, calls on President Diaz particularly to make known to the people of Mexico his "irrevocable resolution to retire from power as soon as peace is established in the country," which General Madero declares was made to go between interested in restoring the peace.
