Mrs. Lillian McMarris of Portland is the guest of Pendleton relatives.

Mr. Clarence Bishop left Thursday for Portland for a visit of several days.

The Duplicate Whist club met with Mrs. J. R. Dickson on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Hamilton has spent several days in town with her mother, Mrs. Ruth Strahan.

Mrs. William Slusher has returned to her home in the city after being absent for a week.

Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield of Stanfield is a guest at the home of her father, John F. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer P. Dodd have spent the past week with Mrs. Dodd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander.

Mrs. Gerald Tuttle and baby, Val Jean, of Spokane, are visiting Mrs. Tuttle's sisters, Mrs. Rose Campbell, Mrs. J. H. Parks and Mrs. Dean Tatum of Pendleton.

Many of Pendleton's music lovers will take advantage of the opportunity to hear the Russian Symphony Orchestra at the Keylor Grand in Walla Walla next Wednesday night.

Mrs. Max Baumelster and Mrs. Charlotte Baumelster-Thompson who came over from Walla Walla Tuesday for the recital Tuesday evening, were the guests of Mrs. W. L. Thompson while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Thompson, who have lived at 321 South Main street for the past eleven years, have rented the Vert house, 617 College street, which was formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hendley and will move into it immediately.

The last of the series of the five dances of the Young Peoples' club was given in the Eagle-Woodman hall Thursday evening and, although there was but a small number of society folk out, an enjoyable evening was spent. Splendid music was furnished by the United Orchestra and the hours before midnight flitted past rapidly. This has proved a most enjoyable series of dances and the club will in all probability be reorganized next year.

Harold Warner, formerly a well known and popular member of high school society in this city, has been selected by the University of Oregon chapter of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity to attend the annual convention of that organization which will be held at Niagara Falls in July. While in the high school he represented the local chapter of Lambda Sigma at a convention which was held in the same city. The Oregon chapter of Beta was represented last year by James Johns, also a Pendleton boy.

Mrs. P. H. Buchholz and sons Lloyd and Vine, of Stanfield, returned home last evening on the motor after a pleasant visit with Mrs. W. E. Rinehart of this city.

A most enjoyable time was had by all who attended the Saturday night dance at Eagle-Woodman hall last Saturday night. Seven pieces of the United Orchestra furnished excellent music.

The silver tea given at the home of Mrs. J. F. Robinson Thursday evening by the Sanctuary Chapter of the Church of the Redeemer, was a success socially as well as financially. A novel feature was the playing of the Kinder Symphony orchestra, which was roundly applauded. The house was decorated in spring blossoms and refreshments were served in the dining room. A goodly sum was realized for the treasury of the chapter.

Mrs. Catherine Eppinger, a former favorite in local society circles, is visiting at the home of her brothers, John L. and Tom Vaughan. Mrs. Eppinger was just recently graduated from the Deaconess hospital in Spokane and has received many flattering offers since. She will make no decision, however, until she has rested herself completely, but will remain in Pendleton for two weeks, after which she will visit in Portland at the home of her brother, Eugene Vaughan.

The many friends of James McCool in this city will be interested to know that he is soon to lead to the altar a bride, Miss Kathleen Hayden, niece of J. H. Monaghan, a millionaire mining man of Spokane. Mr. McCool was formerly a well known young man of Walla Walla and visited frequently in Pendleton. He was appointed to the United States naval academy at Annapolis but later resigned from that school to take up journalistic work and is now connected with the Oregon Journal in Portland. Miss Hayden was formerly a student at St. Joseph's Academy in this city.

Miss Edith Johnson was responsible for a most pleasurable evening at cards when she entertained about twenty young ladies of the city at her home on Johnson street Tuesday evening. Progressive bridge was played, five tables being filled. The prize was won by Miss Jennie Perry. The following young ladies were invited guests of Miss Johnson: The Misses Genevieve Clark, Edna Zimmerman, Lavelle Florence (Portland), Edna Thompson, Daphne Leasure, Una Smith, Jennie Perry, Edna Wissler, Gertrude Campbell, Iva Hill, Paralee Halley, Ermal Mann, Ida Cherry, Norma Alloway, Ina Cherry, Bertha Anger, Edna Storie, Gertrude Jordan, Mary Shea, Pauline La Fontaine, Florence Curran and Nona Johnson.

Jointly celebrating the sixty-second birthday of both R. Alexander and Judge W. R. Ellis was a stag dinner last evening at which the latter was host to a number of his friends at his home on Lewis street. The table was laden with good things to eat, to which the men did full justice. A beautiful centerpiece of lavender sweet peas made the air heavy with its fragrance until the chairs were set back and the guests engaged in social conversation while their cigars burned. The guests of the occasion were R. Alexander, W. J. Furnish, James A. Fee, G. W. Phelps, C. J. Smith, F. W. Vincent, W. L. Thompson, E. J. Sommerville, Thomas Thompson, E. W. McComas, E. P. Marshall, J. H. Raley, W. E. Brock and A. J. McAllister.

The Misses Ida and Ina Cherry were hostesses to a number of their young lady friends last evening at their home on Stonehill Jackson street and a most enjoyable time was spent with cards, five tables playing at progressive bridge. The prize for the high score was carried off by Miss Edna Thompson. Following the games, refreshments were served to the guests who were Mrs. Ben L. Burroughs and the Misses Bertha Anger, Laura McKee, Edna Zimmerman, Mary Shea, Edna Wissler, Daphne Leasure, Edna Storie, Nona Johnson, Norma Alloway, Irene Shea, Jennie Perry, Edna Thompson, Ermal Mann, Mary Zurcher, Gertrude Campbell, Viola Shea, Winnie Boylen, Edith Johnson, Pauline La Fontaine and Florence Curran.

The Current Literature Club was charmingly entertained on Friday afternoon by Mrs. James H. Raley and Miss Raley. The program, "Buried Cities of Italy," was in charge of Mrs. C. P. Bishop and was as follows:

I. Roll Call; some noted treasure of art and its history.
II. Ancient Rome, ruins and excavations, Mrs. Vaughan.
III. Heroulanum; its story, Mrs. Boney.

IV. A Day in Old Pompeii; Dife as revealed by the excavations, Mrs. Fee.
V. Review of "The Last Days of Pompeii," (Lyttton).

At the conclusion of the program a delightful social hour was spent. Dainty refreshments were served, the ices and candies being in the club colors, lavender and white.

VOLIVA FOLLOWERS ARE DRIVEN FROM ZION CITY

Chicago.—Constable Hicks went down to Zion City today from Waukegan and did with a flash of his star and a twist of his ingenuity what hundreds of Voliva followers have failed to do. He drove the last handful of "original Dowleites" from Shiloh House, the tradition-haunted one-time abode of the "Phophet."

As a result of the visit of Constable Hicks the remnant of John Alexander Dowle's Church of Peace is without home or tabernacle and is composed of wanderers, for all the Zion City of today cares, on the face of the earth.

For six weeks Shiloh House, garrisoned by Elder John G. Taylor and 20 disciples whose lives still pivot about memories of "Phophet" Dowle, has been beleaguered night and day. Mrs. Emily Grind, who bought Shiloh House from the receivers of Dowle's estate and insisted on coming into her own, generated the besieging army. The garrison guarded the place so vigilantly and resolutely however, that every attempt to obtain entrance had been blocked until it was suggested that the Constable might find a way out—or in.

Constable Hicks kept Elder Taylor and his men busy at the back door while as many fearless souls as would volunteer climbed into the front windows on the second floor from scaling ladders. The besiegers struggled desperately against the storm of Voliva followers but were overpowered and driven out.
