

HOW TO LIVE LONG

Use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as prescribed. It builds up the nerve tissue, tones the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood; it brings into play all the vital forces and stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment.

ROBIN SHOWS GRATITUDE.

Tender Hearted Man Set Bird's Broken Leg Last Year.

Mont Clair, N. J.—A grateful robin awakens George Washington Da Cunha every morning by singing his praises at his bedroom window.

The redbreast migrated last autumn but Da Cunha recognized it instantly when it reappeared recently, for one of the bird's legs is shorter than the other and the robin lists to starboard when it hops.

When the robin's leg was broken last summer Da Cunha took in the bird, put the fractured leg in tiny splints and tended his patient until the delicate bones had set, though not perfectly. Now the robin, with swelling throat, gladly pours forth a glee in daily installments.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?
No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles, and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Pretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only 50c at Koepsen's.

It is Unnecessary to Suffer This Terrible Trouble.
Keen torture is the everyday lot of the sufferer from piles.

And yet that suffering is needless. Pendleton Drug Co. and druggists everywhere will sell you Hem-Roid and later return you your money if it fails.

We have sold Hem-Roid that way for two or three years and refunds asked have been less than 3 per cent. We therefore recommend it with confidence.

Hem-Roid is an internal remedy, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

WARNING AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.

Keep as well as possible, for the healthier your body, the harder for the germs of tuberculosis to grow therein. To keep healthy, observe the following rules.

Don't live, study or sleep in rooms where there is no fresh air. Fresh air and sunlight kill the tubercle bacilli and germs causing other diseases. There fore have as much of both in your room as possible.

Don't live in dusty air. Keep your rooms clean. Get rid of dust by cleaning with damp cloths and mops. Don't sweep with a dry broom.

Keep at least one window open in your bed room at night, and air the room two or three times a day.

Don't eat with soiled hands. Wash them first.

Don't put your hands, pencils or any candy or chewing gum that other persons have used in your mouth.

Don't keep soiled handkerchiefs in your pockets.

Take a warm bath with soap at least once a week.

Don't neglect a cold or a cough but go to a doctor or a dispensary.

If you or any one in your family have tuberculosis, you must obey the following rules if you wish to get well.

Don't waste your money on patent medicines or advertised consumption cures, but go to doctor or a dispensary. If you go in time you can be cured; if you wait, it may be too late.

Don't drink whiskey or other forms of liquor.

Don't sleep in the same bed with anyone else, and, if possible, not in the same room.

Good food, fresh air and rest are the best cures. Keep out in the fresh air and in the sunlight as much as possible.

Keep your windows open winter and summer, day and night.

If properly wrapped you will not catch cold.

Go to a sanitarium if you can before it is too late.

A person who has pulmonary tuberculosis or consumption is not dangerous to those with whom he lives and works if he is careful and clean.

TREATISE ON HOUSING HOGS.

Issued As Farmers' Bulletin by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The author of this bulletin, Mr. J. A. Warren, a practical hog raiser, made a thorough field study of pork production in Nebraska and Iowa for the office of farm management. In the introduction the author says:

"How raising has probably made more clear money for the corn belt farmer than any other enterprise. In few of this fact one might expect to find hogs the best housed of any animal on the farm, but the opposite is the case. There is no animal on the farm which requires better protection from the cold than the hog, none for which a good bed is more necessary and none so much in need of sunshine as the little pig. The horse and the cow have good coats of hair—even a calf or colt when left in the cold is provided with a good fur coat; the hen's feathers are the best protection against cold; but the hog has almost nothing between the skin and the weather."

"One of the first requisites for success with hogs is a shelter where young pigs can be kept warm and well supplied with sunshine and fresh air. A little pig takes cold very easily and recovers slowly, if at all. To prevent taking cold he must be kept dry, warm, away from drafts, and provided with fresh air."

The most successful hog raisers usually raise two litters of pigs a year. They have the sows commence farrowing about March the first, but without good houses this is impracticable. Early pigs are the most profitable for the following reasons:

1. If crowded they are usually large enough to market before the winter sets in.

2. They are usually large enough to begin to eat forage as soon as pasture is ready. This permits the hog grower to have his pigs on pasture throughout practically the entire season.

3. Early pigs make more economical gains because they can be finished for the market before the cold weather sets in.

Without good houses two litters a year can seldom be raised to advantage. The author of this bulletin claims that his investigation shows that good hog men average seven pigs raised to the litter, while the general average raised on the farm does not exceed four pigs to the litter, this wide difference is due largely to housing. This bulletin discusses the prevailing poor conditions of hog houses; the cost of housing pigs; varieties of hog houses; examples of faulty construction; two well built permanent houses; hog cots or individual houses; ventilation; how to get sunlight into the pen.

collected by the youthful monarch yesterday from all his brother rulers of Europe.

While efforts have been made to keep the condition of Alfonso a secret, the intrinsically asserts authoritatively that the king is seriously ill from tuberculosis and that his physicians have decided that he must receive rigorous treatment if his life is to be prolonged. It is understood that he will have to spend next winter in Switzerland, as the climate of Spain during the winter months aggravates his complaint.

Alfonso XIII was born May 17, 1886, nearly six months after the death of his father, Alfonso XII. He has never enjoyed good health, and his father was a semi-invalid. Specialists have recently performed several operations on the king's nose and throat for growths described as tuberculous. It is alleged that the young crown prince is below the average of intelligence for children of his age. Prince Jaime, the second son of the king and queen, who will be three years old next month, will be taken to Switzerland by Queen Victoria about the end of June to undergo an operation to correct a difficulty of speech. If the operation fails, it is alleged that the prince will be dumpy for life.

Personally Alfonso is popular even with his enemies, and it has been suggested that in case the monarchy is overthrown he might be chosen as the first president of the republic. To the anarchists, however, Alfonso is but a king and therefore to be killed.

SALEM TO USE NEW KIND OF PAVEMENT

The Universal Construction Co., of Portland has just signed up with the city of Salem for paving North Summer street with their Standard El Oso Asphalt pavement. This is one of the prettiest residence streets in the Capital City, running north from the state house.

The company will, at the same time pave with El Oso asphalt, what is known as the Oaks' addition, an exclusive and swell residence district recently laid out adjoining North Summer street. The entire work contains over 36,000 square yards of El Oso pavement.

While the El Oso asphalt is something new to Oregon, it is rapidly gaining in favor from discriminating property owners who desire a first-class, fully guaranteed water-proof pavement at a moderate cost. The company expects to start work immediately and intends fitting those interested in good pavement to come to the Capital City and see the pavement under actual construction.

COLDEST APRIL ON RECORD.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., May 18.—"The month just past is the coldest April on record," says W. L. Powers, weather observer at the Oregon Agricultural College, in a report just issued.

"The nearest approach to it was in 1903, when the monthly mean temperature was 1.2 degrees higher. The mercury dropped below freezing nine times during last month. In previous years it has not fallen below the freezing point more than three times. The minimum, 25 degrees, is 3 degrees colder than any in the past 13 years.

"At 6:30 p. m. on the 12th the dew point, as determined by the wet and dry bulb readings, was 32 degrees, and the hard freeze the morning of the 13th was not unexpected. Frost may be expected when the dew point is found to be within about 5 degrees of freezing at 6:30 p. m. and the other conditions are favorable to frost. Several degrees below freezing is about the extreme amount that might be combated by smudges, but it is possible that damage might have been prevented in some cases had smudges been used.

"Peaches are reported to have suffered most, while cherries and other fruits were injured in certain localities.

"The total precipitation for the month was 3 inches, a departure from the normal of .15 inches. The greatest rainfall in any 24 hours was
