Mrs. Anna Selkirk Norton of Walla Walla, spent Friday in Pendleton.

The Duplicate Whist club met on Monday afternoon with Mrs. F. E. Judd.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Taylor went to Athena today to attend the second day of the Caledonian picnic.

The Misses Harriet and Sadie Young attended the Russian Symphony concert in Walla Walla Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nolen and daughter, Miss Marie Nolen, will leave in a few weeks for Boise, Idaho, where they will make their home.

Bishop Robert L. Paddock was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Judd during the convocation at the Church of the Redeemer.

Mrs. J. R. Dickson and John Dickson were among the Pendleton people who went to Walla Walla to hear the Russian Symphony orchestra Wednesday night.

Mrs. Dean Tatom entertained three tables of bridge on Tuesday afternoon complimentary to her sister, Mrs. Gerald Tuttle of Spokane, and Mrs. Catherine Eppinger.

James Sturgis, who is attending the University of Washington and who is on tour with the baseball team of that institution, will spend Sunday in the city with his mother, Mrs. Lina H. Sturgis.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Simpson were guests of Judge and Mrs. G. W. Phelps during the Episcopal convention. They have recently returned from a three years' residence in the Hawaiian Islands.

Miss Mabel Dand left Thursday morning on No. 5 for Los Angeles, California, to meet her fiance, Mr. H. E. Browne, formerly of this city, but now of Los Angeles, where he is in charge of the State hospital. Miss Dand and Mr. Browne will be married on her arrival in that city and will make Los Angeles their future home.

Invitations have been received in this city to the wedding of Miss Frances Paine and Mr. Rufus Douglas Ball at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren Paine in Walla Walla, Wednesday, June 7. Mr. Ball is district manager of the Blake-McFall Paper company and has many friends in this city.

Mrs. C. J. Crandall of The Dalles, who was a delegate to the Episcopal convocation, is a guest of Mrs. Edwin P. Marshall for several days. Mrs. Crandall is considered an authority on Oregon history and last night at the home of Mrs. Marshall gave a very interesting talk on the early history of the state to a number of friends.

Miss Edna Wissler was a charming hostess to the young ladies of the Bridge club Thursday afternoon. Besides the members she had as her guests Mrs. C. J. Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Brown, Miss Mary Dunlap (Dayton), Miss Lavelle Florence (Portland), Miss Edna Storie and Miss Florence Curran. The prize for the play was won by Miss Paralee Halley.

Invitations are being sent out by the seniors of the high school for the annual commencement and the next week will be a crowded one for the graduates. The class day exercises will be held Thursday evening and the regular commencement exercises on the following evening. Besides these two crowning events, there will be a number of parties, last reunions of the classmates who have been together now for four years.

Miss Berniece Crawford, 222 Jones street, entertained yesterday at a 1 o'clock luncheon complimentary to Miss Frances Paine, whose marriage to Mr. Douglas Ball of this city, will occur on June 7th. The luncheon table was charming in the appointments of pink sweet peas and pink tulle, covers being placed for 12 guests. After luncheon, the guest of honor was given a tin shower, receiving many gifts. Those present were: Miss Lulu Hubbard, Miss Mildred Baker, Miss Helen Snyder, Miss Winnie Offner, Miss Olga Baumelster, Miss Lula Paul, Miss Marion Paxton, Miss Edna Keylor, Miss Leah Keylor, Miss Rowena Ludwigs, Miss Paine and Miss Crawford.—Walla Walla Union.

Mrs. Ben S. Burroughs entertained informally yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Elmer P. Dodd of Hermiton. Her guests were the Mesdames G. W. Phelps, Edward Burke, Seth Catlin, W. L. Thompson, Augusta Moule and Miss Celeste Moorhouse.

At 11 o'clock this morning, Rev. Nathan Evans of the local Methodist church united in marriage Mr. Diedrich Louis Behrens and Miss Ruby Agnes Post at the parsonage. The groom is a well known young farmer of Albee and the bride has been one of the popular school teachers of Helix.

The Fourth annual banquet of Sigma Epsilon Omicron Sorority will be given this evening at the Pendleton hotel. The members of the sorority to be present are Mrs. Lester Cronin, Mrs. Walter Cresswell, Edna Zimmerman, Ermal Mann, Edith Johnson, Mary Shea, Edna Storie, Edna Thompson, Pauline La Fontaine, Ida Cherry, Nona Johnson, Iva Hill, Una Smith, Irene Shea, Gertrude Campbell, Ina Cherry, Sybil Cole, Blanche Badley, Viola Shea, Laura McKee, Mildred Berkeley, Clare Raley, Beth Smith, Alice Forshaw, Zella Thompson, Francis Saling, Muriel Saling Martha Hudeman. Mrs. Henry Dixon Jones will act as chaperon, she being the mother of the sorority.

Mrs. James A. Fee entertained the Current Literature club on Friday of this week. The program was fourth in a series that embraced the delightful subject of "Florence—Her Art, Literature and Associations." The following is the program: My Visit to Florence, the Beautiful, Mrs. Bishop.

Flying Mercury, Mrs. Moorhouse, Early Florentine Painters, Mrs. McAllister.

Raphael of Urbino, Mrs. Berkeley. Vocal Solo, Selected, Mrs. Landers. Romances in the Lives of Great Italians, Mrs. Temple. Vocal Solo, Selected, Mrs. Dickson. Scene from Philip the Second (Alfieri). Characters—Isabella, Mrs. Vaughan; Don Carlos, Mrs. Hampton; Philip the Second, Mrs. Winter. The papers and music were excitlent, but the most entertaining feature, perhaps, was the final scene in Alfieri's tragedy of Philip II. The characters were well sustained and the interest intense. Mrs. Vaughan as Isabella, the innocent but injured wife, was beautiful. The impassioned speech of Don Carlos by Mrs. Hampton was admirably done and Mrs. Winter as Philip, the jealous husband and heartless despot, showed great dramatic power. Refreshments were served in the dining room, Mrs. W. R. Ellis and Mrs. G. M. Rice presiding.
