UMATILLA RESIDENTS DENOUNCE BROWNELL

DECLARE THEY DO NOT WANT DEPOT MOVED

Brownell's Speech Before the Pendleton Commercial Club is Resented by Citizens of the West End Town.

Speaking in the vernacular of the slang artist, D. C. Brownell, the sage of Umatilla, has been "handed a package." Citizens of that little town resent his activity in an attempt to change the depot of that town and repudiate him in a letter to Pres. Dan P. Smythe of the Commercial club of this city.

At a recent meeting of the Commercial association, Mr. Brownell made what was considered a splendid speech in behalf of Umatilla and asked that Pendleton assist him in moving the O-W. R. & N. depot a mile or so west. Residents of that town assert Mr. Brownell's motives in seeking the change are selfish in that he owns the land about the proposed site for the location of the depot.

The letter to President Smythe follows: Umatilla, Ore., May 15, 1911. Pendleton Commercial Club, Pendleton, Ore. Mr. Dan Smythe, President.

Gentlemen: Our attention has been called to a speech made before your body by Mr. D. C. Brownell of this city in which he states he is representing the town of Umatilla in seeking the aid of the Commercial bodies of Pendleton in securing certain railroad changes at this point.

While we agree with Mr. Brownell in his talk as to the future prospects of Umatilla, its position as a distributing point for the county and section, and other similar matters, we wish to state that in asking for the support of the Pendleton Commercial club in an attempt to secure the removal of the Umatilla depot of the O-W. R. & N. Co. Mr. Brownell did not represent the City of Umatilla nor its property holders and citizens.

There has been no discussion, nor is there at this time, relative to the removal of the depot here. Its present location is satisfactory to the citizens of this locality and furthermore, should we at any time desire to see such local improvement initiated and carried into effect it will be a matter which will be settled between ourselves and the railroad company, being strictly of local interest.

We wish to assure the Pendleton Commercial club that we are at all times willing and ready to reciprocate with Pendleton in matters of county-wide interest; but we do not wish matters of private concern placed before you as a local issue in which you are asked to co-operate.

Respectfully, (Signed) W. H. Switzer, H. C. Means, E. A. Gonsler, J. B. Switzer, S. A. Saylor, T. S. Tillson, J. W. Duncan, H. N. Dryer, F. W. Cline.

AT OREGON THEATER TUESDAY, MAY 23

(Minneapolis Daily News.) "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" at the Metropolitan, is a play to dream about.

You leave the theater with a picture in your mind's eye that comes again and again in afterthoughts.

The "Mummy" is a scientist who, without knowing it, neglects his wife. The "Humming Bird" is a Sicilian, an author and a glass-of-fashion man with pose-and-curl-your-mustache ways.

Result: Estrangement of the man and wife, something in the latter very akin to love for the "Humming Bird," compromising situations and then everything ending well by the master moves of the master man.

In a quiet and forcefully reserved way Paul Gilmore, as Lord Lumley, lived up to the character of the scientist from first to last.

His right hand man in the dramatic climax was Paul Terhune, who as Giuseppe, the Sicilian organ grinder, did unusually well.

Miss Kathryn Hutchison, as Lady Lumley, played her part with feeling. She is remarkably pretty.

Most dogs would refrain from chasing cats if the cats were not so willing to run.

STATE MONEY FOR BRIDGE ON SALMON

Grangeville, Idaho.—The commissioners this afternoon awarded the contract for constructing the steel wagon bridge across the Salmon river at the town of Goff, 50 miles south of here, to the Security Bridge company of Minneapolis and Lewiston at $15,950. There were five other bids, but this company was the lowest by $500. The company was represented by F. W. Straw, who established headquarters at Lewiston about a year ago. The board also awarded the contract for constructing 495 feet of wagon road leading to the approach of the bridge. Charles Johnson of Grangeville receiving this work at $998.

Johnson will start work on the road next Monday and it is expected that 90 days will be required to finish the job. Of the distance to be constructed 250 feet is through solid rock.

The bridge proper will be 260 feet in length, with a 64-foot trestle approach. The state will pay $15,000 of the amount to be spent and the remaining amount to be spent and the remaining portion will be appropriated by the county board. The piers will be of concrete, the only work being that of constructing the 18-foot driveway.

WAS A LITTLE MIXED.

Exchange Recently Got a Marriage Notice and Sale Bill Blended Together.

An editor in a neighboring city recently got a marriage notice and a sale bill mixed as follows:

William, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Smith, was disposed of at public auction to Lucy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Anderson; on my farm one mile east of this place in the presence of several guests including the following, to-wit: 2 mules, 12 head of cattle. Rev. Johnson tied the knot averaging 1220 pounds on the hoof. The beautiful home of the bride was tastefully decorated with Sivan clam spades, a sulky rake, 1 feed grinder, one set of double work harness nearly new, and just before the ceremony was pronounced, Mendelssohn's inspiring wedding march was softly given by 1 milch cow, five year old, 1 Jersey cow to be fresh in April carrying a bunch of flowers in her hand and looking charmingly in her gown made of light spring wagon, 6 boxes of apples, 3 ricks of hay, one grind stone mauseline de sole trimmed with about 100 bushels of spuds.

The groom is well known and has always stood in society circles of 12 Berkshire hogs, while the bride is an accomplished and talented teacher of Poland China pedigree furnished if desired.

Among the beautiful presents were two sets of silver knives and forks one spring harrow, one wheel barrow go cart and other articles too numerous to mention.

Orpheum. Pendleton's favorite picture theater offers another Biograph special feature film for Sunday and Monday. Four full reels at each performance.

1. "A Knight of the Road." This Biograph subject shows the real nature of a hobo. Being of a sentimental turn, he is impressed by the daughter of a ranch owner and in consequence becomes her and her father's protector against the machinations of several of his type. The owner in gratitude offers him a home and job on the ranch, but work and the hobo never agree, so he steals away to remain ever a "Knight of the Road."

2. "The Insurrecto." Urban, "Special." A story of the Mexican uprising. A thrilling photoplay on the Mexican border.

3. "The Haven of Refuge." Selig. This is a picture of California ranch life, with a romance. The story takes place in the early thirties when all that country was under Spanish rule, and is woven around the old San Fernando ranch.

4. "The Last Curtain." Gaumont. St. Leon, an old actor, retires from stage life, but finds the days of inactivity grow very long. He makes his home in a small country town, where there is ample opportunity to rest. On the occasion of a road show's visit to the village he is requested to play the leading part. In spite of a serious illness he accepts the opportunity, enjoys the greatest triumph of his life, but plays with such vigor that he dies within a few hours.

5. "At Eventide." Gaumont. Twilight in the mountains, on the river, over the fields, on the ocean and in the village gradually dissolving into moonlight views of the same scenes.

The Pastime. The house of quality. Sunday's program follows and is a good one. "The Wooing of Winifred." Vitagraph. This polite drama presents a series of complications resulting from the will of an uncle who decreed that cousins shall marry if they are to inherit his property. The cousins, strangers to each other, meet, and in a novel way discover each other's identity and then, quite contrary to the usual practice in such instances, lose no time in marrying. It is all cleverly worked out and makes an attractive picture, full of situations that give the Vitagraph Co. an excellent chance to use its remarkable power of making comedy.

"The Erring Son." Kosmit. This is a domestic story of considerable heart interest. The actors have performed their parts with sympathy and discretion and the closing scene uniting the family is all that could be desired.

"The Black Bordered Letter." A detective story of absorbing interest, by the Edison Co. The opening scene introduces us to Miss Mable Renshaw just prior to her leaving for a visit to her aunt. Here we are also shown her fiancé and at once become interested when we discover that he is deeply in love with her sister Alice. This fact does not seem to disturb Miss Renshaw and she proceeds on her visit to her aunt. This is the last we see of Miss Mable Renshaw, who is an heiress and into whose possession upon her marriage day will fall a considerable amount of wealth. Watch the detective locate Miss Renshaw and punish the guilty party.

"The Indian Maiden's Lesson." Es-sany. A thrilling story of how an Indian maiden saves a white man from committing a terrible deed.

Cosy. Friday and Saturday. "So Shall Ye Reap." Imp. This is a story that will linger long in memory, telling as it does consequences of a woman's sin and the penalty she paid for her folly. After many years the mother is reunited with her daughter, but a priest intervenes and prevents the mother from making herself known, and she goes to the nuns for consolation. It presents a true view of the consequences of sinning and the sympathy of the audience will be aroud for the unfortunate woman.

"Five Hours." Rex. A finely colored film, telling a novel story with plenty of action, and well cated. A young man bets that it is easy to enter a house and steal something. The complication with the girl adds interest, as well as what comes after. But, however, he wins the bet.

"The Tallman." American. The story of a young man, who when about to commit suicide, is given a lucky talisman by a stranger. It surely brings good luck, but on opening the box at the end of the year he gets a great surprise. A splendid dramatic story finely told.

"Venice, the Queen of the Sea." Itala. Views of beautiful Venice, the wonder city.

"The Woman Who Gets Thin." Itala. A good comedy presenting in lively fashion a fat man's frantic attempts to reduce his weight, and how he was nicely fooled by a clever fakir.

Illustrated song, "Your picture says remember, though your letter says forget." Special feature for Sunday.

The ordinary woman's vocabulary runs about 400 words—but some surprising results are obtained from intensive cultivation.
