INDIAN NOT EQUAL TO THE WHITE MAN

Washington.—Three centuries of civilization have not brought the full-blood Indian to the point where his rights are equal to those of the white man. Such was the decision today of the supreme court of the United States in holding constitutional the twenty-five-year restrictions on the sale of Indian lands. The twenty-five-year restriction was imposed by congress in 1906. Previous to that time individual members of the five civilized tribes in Oklahoma were prevented from making sales of their lands within five years of the time of allotment. The contention soon arose that the full-bloods had rights as citizens which made the extension unconstitutional. Marchie Tiger was one of the Indians concerned. He transferred this inherited land to real estate companies, but later he changed his mind and brought suit to have the transfers set aside on the ground that the restrictions forbade his conveying the land. The supreme court of Oklahoma held that the restrictions merely referred to lands allotted directly to the full-bloods and not to lands inherited by them. The supreme court of the United States holds that they applied to inherited lands as well. The court held also that only congress could determine when the Indian became free from the white man's guardianship and that congress had not yet so found. It is just what the system needs at this time and will do you great good. Sharpens the appetite, steadies the nerves. MILTON PREPARING FOR STRAWBERRY DAY

THREE DAYS CARNIVAL IS ALSO INCLUDED. Twin Towns Will Hold Annual Celebration Friday—Many Attractions Have Been Secured for the Occasion. Milton people will celebrate with a carnival May 25, 26 and 27, and Friday, May 26 will be turned into the annual "strawberry day," says the Walla Walla Union. More than 5,000 boxes of the juicy, red berries have been bargained for to fill the demand at this big event. Walla Walla, Watsburg, Dayton, Yakima, Kennewick and all neighboring towns of the Walla Walla valley have been cordially invited to attend this annual event and join in the festivities. The carnival will start on Thursday and many attracting features have been secured for the Oregon hosts for this event. Merry-go round, lemonade stands, with concessions of all descriptions will be there while Saturday, the final day of the entertainment will feature a horse show around which the fine stock for miles around will be exhibited for the blue ribbons. Ball games have also been added to the festival program. Milton will cross bats with the Whitman college aggregation on Thursday, while Bads Bears will play the Milton team on Friday and Saturday.

THREE STUDENTS ARE PUNISHED FOR DRINKING

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis—Because they violated the rules prohibiting the use of intoxicating liquors by the students of this institution, Melville Herren, a senior; Otto Gitton, a junior, and Harry Barrett, a freshman, have been placed on probation by the student council and further punished by the recommendation that the report of the council be given general publicity. The student council, which is the governing body under the new system of student self-government, has been carrying on an investigation and after a thorough consideration of the matter recommended to the president of the college that these students be punished. It is said that the men accused have pleaded guilty. In discussing the case members of the council said they felt the offense was grave enough to warrant suspension from the institution, but in view of the fact that the offenders did not understand that the rules were enforced during the time of an excursion, and that they did not become intoxicated, they were justified in modifying the verdict. The students against whom the verdict was found insisted that they did not intend to violate the student rules and believed that there was no wrong in drinking a glass of beer while at the seashore. The members of the council, however, have taken a different view of the matter and insist that the regulations must be strictly adhered to under all circumstances. The action of the council in these matters has created a great deal of interest about the institution, as it is the first time the new governing body has had occasion to deal with individual violations of the student regulations. "Spooners" Must Behave. New York, May 24.—When New York's spooning half, or whatever is the proportion that elects to make love in the public parks, saunters forth into the city's playgrounds this evening, the keen edge will be taken off the lovers' ardor by a rude sign erected by Park Commissioner Stover. These signs are not at all conspicuous, but nevertheless disturbing. They are calculated to put an end to the "spooners" monopoly. A Boston inventor has brought out an ice harvesting machine equipped with a motor to propel it over a frozen surface and to operate a circular ice saw.

RAILROAD SURVEYORS ARRIVE AT ECHO

(Special Correspondence.) Echo, May 24.—A company of O. W. R. & N. railroad surveyors arrived here last evening. There are 12 or 15 men in the gang, bringing full camp equipage with them, but they put up at the Hoskins hotel last night. It is hoped and expected that the long mooted question of where the east end of the Coyote cutoff will begin will soon be decided. Miss Bertha Holmington left last evening for Spokane via Umatilla. Mrs. Ruth Young is visiting the past two days with her parents at Hermiston. H. C. Means of Umatilla, was a business visitor here on Monday. Frank Sloan came up from his home at Stanfield yesterday on a short business trip. Mrs. Perry Whitworth and daughter Gladys, and Mrs. Thad Barnes went to Pendleton yesterday on No. 2. C. J. Williams returned yesterday from a business trip to Pendleton. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Robinson went to Stanfield this morning to spend the day. Oscar Dobbie who attended school here the past winter, left today for his home at Irrigon. Master Lester Norman left by team this morning for Weston, where he will visit a few days. W. J. Stapish was a passenger to Pendleton on the motor this morning. Silver Jubilee of Fireman. Newark, N. J., May 24.—A celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the New Jersey Exempt Firemen's association was held here today. The silver jubilee attracted members from nearly all the exempt organizations and paid departments of the state. OLYMPIC GAMES ARE SOUGHT FOR FRISCO FAIR. San Francisco.—The initial steps towards securing the Olympic games as an athletic attraction for the Panama-Pacific exposition were taken today in a telegram to James E. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, from Charles I. Moore, president of the exposition company. Moore has requested Sullivan to use his influence with the International Olympic committee, which meets at Budapest, Hungary, to arrange the program of events for the next Olympic games, scheduled for Stockholm, Sweden, in July, 1912. In providing for the Olympic games here in 1915, the international committee would be forced to move the date of the sixth Olympian one year, as the usual arrangement of holding these games every four years shows a schedule with the event following the Swedish Olympic games dated for 1912. Cleveland has also sent in a request to hold the Olympic games in that city in 1916, this motion having been ratified at the last annual meeting of the A. A. U. officials, held in November, 1910. Heretofore the Olympic games have never been conducted out of the regular order, every four years, and an alteration of this program will no doubt receive serious consideration on the part of the foreign officials. Germany has also sent in a request for the big attraction in 1916, as has Italy. The American representative on the international Olympic games committee is Professor William M. Sloans of New York. England has two delegates on the committee, including Lord Desbrough, Baron Pierre de Coubertin, of France, is president. Illinois Foresters. Aurora, Ill., May 24.—Illinois members of the Independent Order of Foresters opened their state convocation in this city today. The convention meets every three years, and this is the first time that it has been held in Aurs.
