great preparations to win. In the box they had a man playing under the name of Walker, but who was none other than "Mysterious" Mitchell, the man who set the whole coast agog last year when he played with Prisco by his eccentricities and by his refusal to reveal his true identity. He only lasted seven innings, however, for Buerstatte ordered him to the bench when he refused to quit "ragging" at a decision. Hanson supplanted him on the mound and pitched good ball but could not hold the local batters in pinches. According to the gate keepers, fully 1300 people witnessed yesterday's contest and there was an unusually large number of ladies present. Walla Walla swelled the attendance with an excursion party of over a hundred and the rooting for both teams was vociferous throughout.

Story of Game. Walla Walla was blanked during the first four innings but Pendleton put one over in the first when Dickson's three bagger brought in Bliss who had received a pass. In the fifth, however, the Bears took the lead when they chased in three runs as the result of four errors, a single and a home run by Pembroke. The Buckaroos came back in their half by getting a run with two men down. Bliss was hit by a pitched ball and took second on an error. Nevins bumped the ball, sending Bliss home and landing safe when the ball was booted. In the seventh the score was tied, Walla Walla making another and Pendleton scoring twice. The visitors' score came as the result of two hits and an error while the locals made their two through a base on balls, a passed ball, a hit and two sacrifices. Walla Walla again took the lead in the eighth, but Pendleton promptly came back with a run to tie the score again, Berger and Whitten being responsible with clean hits.

For four innings then the game went without a score being made by either team, but it took some mighty good baseball to shut both out for several times runners got dangerously near to the plate. Then in the thirteenth, Walla Walla won the game with a run made on two errors, only to lose it a minute later when the Buckaroos sent two runners over the rubber after two men had gone down. MOVED BY GRIEF TO END LIFE.

Mother Uses Same Revolver as Son in Committing Suicide. Scranton, Pa.—Mrs. Stephen C. Whitmore, one of the most prominent women of this section, shot and killed herself at her home in West Mayfield today, using the same revolver with which her son killed himself at their summer home at Crystal lake two months ago. In a note she said grief over her son's death was unbearable.

EBINGER CASE IS CAUSE OF RUMPUS

Canton, O.—The airing of charges of heresy against Rev. Paul Ebinger, pastor of the Tillamook Reform Church and a member of the Portland, Or., classis, accompanied by a sharp tilt between delegates representing the Portland classis and those from the Northwestern Synod, enlivened the meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed Church here this afternoon.

It is alleged that Rev. Mr. Ebinger said to his congregation that the word of God was contained in the bible, but that not everything in the bible was the word of God. Also, that in a sermon he expressed doubt as to whether Moses wrote the ten commandments. Another complaint is that he said that while the Israelites left Egypt to be sent to the Promised Land, few of them ever got there.

The Synod referred the charges to the judicial committee, which asked for the minutes of the Portland classis containing the charges. The Northwestern Synod representatives, who had brought the subject before the Synod after having declined to act on it, said that the classis delegation had the minutes. The delegates denied it, a lively discussion followed, in the midst of which one of the delegates produced the minutes. The Synod will act on the charge before adjourning.

TRAIN HITS TWO MEN NEAR MABTON

Mabton, Wash.—A serious accident happened last night on the outskirts of Mabton, in which one man was killed and another injured so that he is not expected to live. The men had been stealing a ride on the freight and upon reaching Mabton they were put off at the station. The train then pulled on to a sidetrack waiting for No. 47 to pass. About this time the two men tried to board the freight again. It is not known just how the two men happened to both be struck by the incoming train, but the opinion is that they were pushed off by the train crew as No. 47 was passing and were in this way struck by the moving train. No papers or marks of identification could be found on either of the men. The dead man was left in Mabton, where he will be buried tomorrow. The injured man was taken to North Yakima and placed in the hospital.
