MEN FIGHT DUEL TO DEATH IN MISSOURI

St. Louis.—To decide who was "the better man," E. N. Moval and William S. Scott, of Hardin, Ill., fought a duel with knives Tuesday afternoon in the rear of the Perry hotel in Hardin.

Scott was killed. He received five wounds, one directly over the heart. Moval surrendered and is in jail awaiting his preliminary hearing.

Moval is the son of one of the wealthiest farmers in Calhoun county, Ill. He is 24 years old. Scott was a laborer and resident of Hardin. He was 25 years old.

Hardin is ten miles from a railroad and twenty-two miles from Jerseyville. Until the duel there had not been a killing in Calhoun county for nine years. There is not a railroad in the county. The Hardin jail has not had an inmate for more than a year.

So far as Coroner Platt of Calhoun county was able to learn at the inquest over Scott's body, there were no witnesses to the killing.

The men had a quarrel Tuesday night. In the afternoon they again met and had several drinks together in a friendly manner. In the chat which followed, the old quarrel was renewed and one remarked that they "would go out and see who was the better man." Both men had knives.

The two walked to the rear of the hotel and the issue was settled with steel blades. Moval gave himself up to the authorities.

The town was filled with people from the surrounding country, owing to the presence of a traveling circus, the first which had visited Hardin for years.

CARNEGIE HAS $185,000 IN OREGON LIBRARIES

Salem, Or.—That Carnegie is now interested in new library buildings in Oregon to the tune of $185,000 was the statement of Miss Cornelia Marvin of the state library commission, who returned from the National American Librarians' convention at Pasadena, Cal. These new buildings, which are either just planned or in the early stages of construction, are:

Ashland, $15,000; Medford, $20,000; Newberg, $10,000; Albany, $12,500; Salem, $25,500; Union, $5000 and three in Portland, $105,000.

Upon returning to the state house Miss Marvin found the new $2000 order of books, for which an appropriation was made at the last legislature, had arrived. These consist principally of a high class line of domestic economy and agricultural works for the benefit of the high schools of the state. Oregon was well represented at the convention, Portland having six delegates, the university one, O. A. C. one, and Salem two. The convention went on record strongly against a municipal civil service rule for librarians, as competent librarians cannot always be found locally.

UP AGAINST IT.
John," said Mrs. Dorkins, "what is a 'political con game'?"

"Why, it's—it's a frame-up, you know."

"Yes, but what is a frame-up?"

"A—er—piece of bunk, of course; can't you—"

"What is a piece of bunk?"

"Oh, shucks!" exclaimed Mr. Dorkins. "What's the use of trying to tell a woman anything about politics?"
