TWO BAD ACCIDENTS OCCUR IN COUNTY

STANFIELD WORKMAN HAS BACK BROKEN

George Mustard Suffers Bad Fall Which May Cost Life—Son of Burr Johnson Badly Bruised in Runaway.

Two serious accidents are reported in Umatilla county today, one in Pendleton and one in Stanfield and at least one of the victims is in a precarious condition.

George Mustard, a young man recently of Hermiston and formerly of Pilot Rock country, fell from a scaffolding while working on the new warehouse of the Umatilla Storage and Commission house at Stanfield with the result that his back was broken. He will be brought to Pendleton on the local tonight and taken at once to the hospital.

Byron Johnson, son of Burr Johnson, was the victim of the second accident which occurred in the west part of this city when the team attached to the water wagon ran away throwing the young man to the ground with such force that his right shoulder was dislocated, and the whole left side of his face and body badly bruised. Dr. C. J. Smith was called and attended the injuries and at last report the young man was resting easily.

A LONGFELLOW CONVERT.

A dried up old colonel and a very sentimental young lady were together watching the sunset.

She inquired gushingly, "Oh, colonel, don't you love Longfellow's poems?"

"Can't say I do," he replied, "Never read them, in fact. Consider all poetry absolutely drivell."

"But," she persisted, "surely you cannot help admiring this verse of his out of 'The Day is Done,' you know. 'And the night shall be filled with music, and the cares which infest the day shall fold their tents like the Arabs and as silently steal away.'"

"By jove!" he exclaimed, "there is something in that. I know those Arab beggars, they would simply steal anything."—Tit-Bits.

JUST THROUGH THE MOTIONS.

"Tell me, Simkins," asked one man from Bryn Wawh of another, "is your wife crazy about shopping? Does she waste your money coming into town five times a week and sometimes twice a day to run down bargains?"

"No, she doesn't. She goes shopping seriously twice a year," said the second man, "and goes through the motions twice a week, coming into town and rushing through the shops, wasting money for carfare, but, thank goodness, not spending all my income."—Philadelphia Times.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

One Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued today from the county clerk's office to Lester L. Carllie and Katherine Heifrickson, both of this county, the former being a resident of Weston.

One Man Is Vagued.

Judge Fitz Gerald this morning suspended sentence just one hour on James Connor, charged with vagrancy, allowing him just that much time to sever his connection with this city.

Train No. 1 Changes.

Beginning with yesterday, the departing time of train No. 1, known as the Portland local, is 9:05 instead of 9:25. Unfortunately for Sunday travelers, the notice of the change was crowded out of Saturday's issue.

Auto Cab Goes Too Fast.

James W. Bohl, the auto cab driver with headquarters at the Evans cigar store, was arrested Saturday on complaint of the chairman of the police committee for violating the speed limits. He appeared in police court and paid a fine of five dollars.

First Trips to Wenaha.

Taking advantage of the fact that the road to Wenaha Springs has been thrown open to traffic, several automobile parties from this city and Walla Walla spent yesterday at the popular resort. Among the cars going from Pendleton were the Oliver, Judd, Vincent and Ankeny cars.

District 4 To Enlarge.

County School Superintendent Frank K. Welles has received a petition from residents of District No. 4 asking that considerable territory lying to the east of the present boundaries be included in it. District No. 4 is what is known as the Moore district and lies near the state line east of Ferndale.

Carnations and Fans.

Every person who came out of the Quelle yesterday brought a perfume with him for the new proprietress presented every patron with a carnation from a huge bouquet on the counter. Fans were also passed out to the baseball fans that they might stir up a small breeze at the game in the afternoon.

To See Daughter's Graduation.

Rev. Nathan Evans, pastor of the local Methodist church, has gone to Ellensburg, Wash., to attend the graduation exercises of the normal school at that place, his daughter, Miss Lecl Evans being a member of the outgoing class. She will accompany her father home Wednesday and next fall will enter upon her duties as a teacher in the Pendleton grade schools.

Has Appendix Cut Out.

Charles Vinler, popular salesman for Bond Bros. and first lieutenant of Company L, is today minus his appendix according to Dr. E. O. Parker who performed an operation on him this morning. Vinler went to the hospital after the ball game last evening and underwent the surgical treatment early this morning. He is recovering rapidly and suffering no bad effects.

Starts on Long Ride Tomorrow.

Carl Power, junior member of the firm of Power & Son, will start in the morning on his horseback ride to Portland for the purpose of scattering Round-up advertising matter. He will ride through Echo and Galloway to Ione where he will stop two days and make a side trip to Heppner and Lexington. From Ione he will then go down The river to The Dalles. He has not yet decided what route he will take on to Portland.

Picture of Baker Shown.

Gale Sturdivant, popular clerk at the Peoples Warehouse, this morning received a copy of the Boston Globe of June 2 sent to him by Harry McEwen, formerly in the employ of the same store but now living in the Hub City. The paper contained a large picture of Tracy Baker of this city who recently joined the Boston Red Sox and the caption stated that he had been seen in practice for the first time June 1. The picture was a splendid one showing "Bake" in the act of whipping a ball.

May Have Hose Races.

Hose races such as occurred on every festal occasion several years ago may again be seen in Pendleton if the efforts of the Fourth of July committee to interest the local fire companies are successful. The proposition has been put up to the companies and it is probable that each will put a team in the field to determine which can lay hose and get water with the greatest speed. The races if held, will probably occur on West Court street so that the crowd at Round-up Park can witness them.

Man Dies at Pilot Rock.

Coroner Ralph Folsom was called to Pilot Rock Saturday night by a message stating that a man had been found dead near there. The deceased was George W. Winslow, presumably of Prineville, who with W. R. Smith of The Dalles, had arrived in Pilot Rock at 2 o'clock looking for work. After eating their supper, they went to the camp after which Winslow wandered off at a short distance. He had gone but a little way when he fell dead from heart failure. He was about fifty years of age. A message from relatives in Prineville requests the coroner to bury the body here.

Bulldogger in Pictures.

Dell Blanchett, world's champion bulldogger who has been engaged to appear at the Round-up this fall, can be seen before he arrives here by a visit to the Cosy theater as he is representing one of the leading characters in the film, "Shifty's Claim." He will be known by his size, being the largest man in the picture. His wife, Bertha Blanchett, champion of all woman broncho busters, also appears in the picture, being present at the shooting of the highwayman. Both Mr. and Mrs. Blanchett are posing for the Bison company and are now in the mountains of California.

Making Record Auto Run.

Considerable attention was attracted by a Knox 40 car laden with a camping-equipment which pulled into Pendleton shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon. The machine was being driven by H. Bohr of Spokane and had besides as occupants Mrs. V. D. Williamson and Mrs. Carter of the same city. The party is enroute to central Oregon and are trying for a record run. The distance between Spokane and Walla Walla was made in nine hours, three hours better than that made a short time ago by a big Pierce touring car. From Walla Walla to this city 1 and 3-4 hours were consumed, and after inquiring the road of local autolists, the journey to Heppner was started, the Morrow county city being the destination for the night.

TICKET SELLER QUILTS JOB AND WINS A TITLE

Washington.—Viscount Jean Baptiste de Ventura, a French nobleman and former army officer, strolling along Pennsylvania avenue, waiting for the time to arrive when he would keep an engagement with a friend at the capitol, decided to while away an hour in a moving picture show. He started to purchase a ticket at the first theater on the route, but, instead of buying a ticket, he got a wife and hastened to a nearby parsonage.

Miss Althea Price was selling tickets at the theater, and she happened to be the same young lady with whom the young Frenchman had plighted his truth months ago, only to lose all track of her when he was called to France to settle up an estate.

Viscount Jean Baptiste came to Washington a year ago and, becoming financially embarrassed, got a job. He happened to get a position where Miss Price was working. He soon lost his heart and gave up his job to go home to get some money which he had inherited. He was to return as soon as he got the cash and make Miss Price Viscountess de Ventura.

Months passed. Miss Price moved to another boarding house, and when the viscount returned with the cash he could not locate her. After months of futile search he left Washington and established himself in New York. He came here on business, still on the lookout for Miss Price, but little believing that he ever would have the luck of finding her again.

When the viscount saw Miss Price, his hat, arms and voice all went up into the air. As soon as the girl could extricate herself from the realm of tickets in which she became entangled she forgot all about business until the manager of the theater hastened to remove her for ruining his trade by keeping the crowds watching a show on the outside instead of on the inside. The viscount scoffed at the manager and arm in arm he and the erstwhile ticket seller hurried around to the residence of the Rev. W. I. Devries. The parson tied the knot and the pair left on a train for New York, where they will reside.

Spokane Favors Bitulithic

SPokane IS LEARNING ALL IT CAN ABOUT ALL KINDS OF PAVING.

Editorial in Spokesman-Review:

There is no more important problem confronting the city of Spokane than that of street paving.

Much has been done. Much more is planned. It is of the greatest importance not only to the property owners and residents directly affected, but to the city at large, that the pavement still to be constructed should be the best pavement that can be secured.

Toward this end there is nothing more valuable than the experience of other cities. Writing from Portland, T. S. Griffith of Spokane notes the poor condition of the asphalt paving and the good condition of the "bitulithic" paving.

Spokane has about 22 miles of asphalt paving and only four blocks on Seventh avenue of "bitulithic."

Spokane has approximately three miles of granite paving. Portions of Indiana avenue are being laid with "Hassam" paving. According to Chicago and New York paving experts these two pavings are no better than "bitulithic" in wear and are inferior in resiliency and ease on traffic.

"Bitulithic" is as cheap as "Hassam" paving and less expensive than "granitoid." All are declared to be superior to asphalt.

These pavings mentioned are adapted to light traffic. For the heavy traffic of a large city the experience of both Chicago and New York has demonstrated that crosote blocks are superior to any other paving, including granite cobbles.

The experience of other cities need not be taken as conclusive, but, considering the amount of paving still to be done in Spokane, too much information cannot be secured regarding the value of the various types of paving before actual construction is undertaken.

THE BOSTON STORE

filed with County Recorder Flannery, here, Ghaneya, a Hindoo, purchased from May Frewer five acres of land in the Ohleyer tract, a few miles from town.

This is the first Hindoo to buy land in this county, and, so far as known here, in the state. Restrictions are placed upon the sale of land to Japanese and Chinese, but there seems to be nothing in the state law to prevent a son of India from purchasing land wherever he pleases.

Ghaneya's unwilling neighbors are indignant. District Attorney Schilling owns a fine farm which adjoins the Hindoo's five acres, and does not relish his new neighbor. Frank Donaldson also has a complaint coming. The land the Hindoo bought is directly in front of his home, and Ghaneya is planning to erect a domicile for himself near.

Electric light is compulsory in nearly all dry cleaning shops because it is the only safe light where large quantities of naphtha and gasoline are being used.
