CONTENT.

- Sweet are the thoughts that savor of content;
- The quiet mind is richer than a crown;
- Sweet are the nights in careless slumber spent—
- The poor estate scorns Fortune's angry frown;
- Such sweet content, such minds, such sleep, such bliss,
- Beggars enjoy, when princes oft do miss.
- The homely house that harbors quiet rest,
- The cottage that affords no pride or care,
- The mean, that grees with country music best,
- The sweet consort of mirth's and music's fare,
- Obscured life sets down a type of bliss;
- A mind content both crown and kingdom is.

—Robert Greene.

ROOSEVELT'S DENIAL.

Here is the way the Atlanta Constitution discourses on the recent report that Roosevelt had endorsed President Taft for a second term and the swift following and emphatic denial voiced by the strenuous colonel: "With usual vehemence Colonel Roosevelt brands as false the report that he would support President Taft for re-nomination. The original story had been sent out the day before, seemingly well authenticated. It got fine position on newspaper first pages, and gave the real friends of the president one of the happiest half hours they have enjoyed in many political moons.

"And now comes the colonel, and incontinentally clubs the yarn to death. "Whereupon, speculation will take a fresh grip on the situation and chew away with growing assiduity. What does it all mean? Does the spark of ambition yet linger in the colonel's bosom? Does he think the present turbid status will eventually resolve itself into 'Roosevelt in 1912' regardless of the iniquitous third-term precedent? Or does he want to 'hold out' until he can tell whether it will be best to support an out-and-out 'insurgent'?

"Nobody knows. For a talkative man, the colonel is most secretive, and the gods haven't yet cast the dice for 1912.

"Meanwhile—it's summer, republicans and near-republicans, democrats and almost-democrats are perspiringly contending for political advantage, and everybody is as welcome to his guess as the flowers that bloom in the spring."

HYDROPHOBIA.

Although the cry of "Mad dog" is seldom heard in this part of the country, there is always a danger, more or less constant, of hydrophobia during the hot summer months, not because the disease is only menacing in the summer time for, according to medical authorities, it is as easily contracted in the coldest as the hottest weather, but because dogs, the principle vehicles in the distribution of the disease, run more at large during this period of the year. "An ounce of precaution is worth a pound of cure" and "a stitch in time saves nine" so it is, well for people in any section to know a few facts about rabies and the necessary prophylactics for it. Here is the advice one authority gives:

The principle to be most strongly borne in mind is not to trifle with a bite from any dog, or any animal. Go at once to the nearest competent physician. He will give the proper direction for ascertaining if the animal is, or had been, suffering from rabies. Never destroy the body of an animal suspected of having had hydrophobia. Wait until it can be examined by the proper authorities. Take the preventive Pasteur treatment at the earliest possible moment. If you haven't hydrophobia, it can't hurt you. And if the germs are lurking in your system, the chances are ninety-nine out of a hundred that it will kill them before they get a grip on you.

"Avoid panic. It is about the most senseless and dangerous procedure in the face of a disease so easily controlled when duly taken in hand."

There is considerable complaint among business people especially from such ones as keep open after six o'clock, of the early operations of the street sweeper. Pedestrians, too, are prone to murmur a few words of protest when they come down town of an evening and are driven from one side of the street to the other by the clouds of dust arising from the revolving brush. Some one might suggest that the sweeping of the main streets be deferred until later in the evening.

At last Pendleton people are to have an opportunity of gazing heavenward to marvel at the creations of man. It is well that an aeroplane is to soar above Pendleton for in this day and age, no city can be called modern and progressive that has not had its skies explored by a birdman.

Illinois people have a right to rail against nature. When the heat and cold records for the month are broken in a week, when one day the people are sweltering under a burning sun and the next shivering while snow falls, it is high time to complain. The gods have no right to disport themselves in such a contrary manner.

The latest imitator of Harry Tracy is in the hands of the law and it is safe to predict that a hempen necktie will be his portion.

Uncle Joe will not go in vaudeville. He still has a few shreds of self-respect left.

There is one consolation in the fragile electrical storm of last evening. It has had few predecessors and will probably have few successors.

CIVIC LOVE.

Luther Burbank and a thousand other scientists and experimenters the world over are carefully watching millions of plants in the hope of something new. If any new, strange or peculiar trait appear, the little seedling is nursed and watched as priceless; all of the misdeeds of the cold and uniform are thrown away. But we of the human garden reverse this.

Loss of Appetite

Is loss of vitality, vigor or tone, and is often a forerunner of prostrating disease.

It is serious and especially so to people that must keep up and doing or get behindhand.

The best medicine to take for it is the great constitutional remedy

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Which purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the whole system.

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

Who Owns the DOG

At Snyder Music Store

We cherish the million which are all alike, and if, by the infinite miracle of the Infinite, one new and different appear, we beat him, uproot him, deprive him of rain, light, air, all that makes for growth; and if he finally triumphs and, in a later day, a monument is erected to him as a rare human flower, he has triumphed not in the sunshine of society, but in spite of its pitiless persecution. Can we not for our Festival time create a religion of joy and hope and tolerance by which it shall be our creed to listen well to him who preaches new doctrines? To crown him with flowers now and make glad the living heart—not with bronze when that heart has perished.

The citizens of Florence loved her as if she were a veritable mistress of their affections. It is so we ought to love our city. She sits in the Seat of the Mighty, prepared for her from the beginning. She is crowned with beauty. Her breath is fragrant. All things of joy and greatness lie at her feet. But all will be as iron, hard and black, if she be not spiritually beautiful. Her citizens who love her as their mistress must bring to her as jewels for her wearing: Freedom, Charity, Broad Tolerance, Beauty, Hope. These be above gold.—Chas. Erskine Scott Wood in the June Pacific Monthly.

Twenty-one new hydro-electric plants were completed in Sweden during the past year.

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alternative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous poisons nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Sylvania), Black Cherry bark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no druggist could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.
