

EXTRA SPECIAL SHOE SALE

For The Week

1000 pairs pumps and oxfords in patent, gun metal, Suede and kid. Black and tan. Notice the following prices then act at once.

- All $3.50 Oxfords and Pumps $2.90
- All $4.00 Oxfords and Pumps $3.15
- All $4.50 Oxfords and Pumps $3.45
- All $5.00 Oxfords and Pumps $3.65

300 pairs last season's Oxfords in black and tan, button and lace, patent and kid. Regular price $3.50 and $4.00 to close out at $1.50

Don't Overlook Our $1 Shoe Counter

F. E. LIVENGOOD & CO.

July Ladies Home Journal Patterns Ready

PERSONAL MENTION

J. A. Hymer of Boise, is registered at the Pendleton.

F. E. Brown of Denver, is registered at the St. George.

J. Hoffman of Walla Walla, is a guest of the Bowman.

J. R. Dickson and son Frank left on the afternoon train for Portland.

F. R. Boyle and wife of Hood River, spent last night in Pendleton.

L. T. Link of Gardane was transacting business in Pendleton yesterday.

J. S. Thornton of Walla Walla, was a Pendleton business visitor last evening.

P. A. McPhee, manager of Wenaha Springs, is a business visitor in Pendleton.

J. S. Norvell of Helix is back from Portland where he was a grand lodge delegate.

Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Vincent left on No. 17 this afternoon for a visit in Portland.

Mrs. Art Grover of Helix was an incoming passenger on the Northern Pacific train this morning.

Charles Campbell of Vansycle came in from his ranch on the Northern Pacific train this morning.

J. B. Switzer of Umatilla came up from the railroad town yesterday and remained in the city over night.

Andy Larsen of Vansycle was among the passengers on the incoming Northern Pacific this morning.

M. J. Maguire of Meacham, was down from that summer resort last evening and spent the night here.

Leon Cohen, one of Pendleton's leading merchants, took the through train this afternoon for Portland.

Principal A. C. Hampton of the high school assumed his duties for the summer in the First National bank yesterday.

Miss Edith Slusher returned home from Portland this morning after completing the year's studies at St. Helen's Hall.

R. W. Fletcher, circulating manager of the East Oregonian, spent yesterday in Hermiston and is working among Stanfield people today.

Mrs. Seth Catlin and little son, John, returned to their home in Portland today after visiting for several weeks with Mrs. Catlin's mother, Mrs. Leona Thompson.

Secretary Jack Keefe of the Commercial association and Leon Cohen drove out to the Umatilla Indian agency last evening to attend the annual exercises in observance of the closing for the summer.

John W. (Don) Campbell of Hermiston, came up from the project town last evening and returned on the local this morning. He was accompanied by R. C. Hazen of Seattle who has been visiting him for the past ten days.

Miss Iva Hill of this city passed through on No. 17 this afternoon enroute from Boise where she has been the guest of Mrs. Charles Baxter for several weeks to Portland where she will spend the summer with her sister Mrs. W. H. Lytle.

SELFISH, MAY LOSE FORTUNE.

Nephew, Unaware, Refuses to Pay for Uncle's Funeral.

San Bernardino, Cal.—Ignorant of the fact that the estate of his deceased uncle, R. E. McDonald, may turn out to be worth many thousands of dollars, A. R. Urquhart, a nephew, has refused to be responsible for the aged man's funeral expenses. McDonald, who spent years prospecting on the desert, died at the county hospital. The remains were removed to the Shaw undertaking parlors and Mark B. Shaw telegraphed the dead man's nephew, Alex R. Urquhart, at Denver, requesting funds for the burial.

The following answer was flashed back over the wires:

"R. E. McDonald owes me $2000. I cannot advance any funds."

H. L. Lee, McDonald's partner in the mining business, arrived from the desert. Lee says the mines in which they have long been interested are just beginning to pay and rich prospects are ahead.

SUPPOSED DEAD MAN WALKS INTO COURT

Chicago.—Dan Richardson, who was supposed to have died August 15, 1909, at Waukegan, and for whose estate an administrator had been appointed Monday by John W. Rainey, assistant to Probate Judge Cutting, walked into the probate court yesterday and demanded his estate, which amounts to $142.15.

"Why you are supposed to be dead and an administrator has been appointed," said Assistant Judge Rainey.

"Why, I'm not dead," said Richardson.

Last Saturday morning Mrs. Ella Stade, a sister of Richardson, who lives in Lewis street, applied to Mr. Rainey for letters of administration.

Attorney A. J. Moran was appointed administrator.

"Mrs. Stade received information that her brother had died in Waukegan, and not having heard from him for two or three years, believed it to be true," said Attorney Moran.

"The letters of administration were issued and I was appointed administrator."

ABERNATHY KIDS TO CROSS CONTINENT

New York.—The famous Abernathy "kids," Temple and Louis, are at it again. They will see Broadway next week, coming direct from their Oklahoma home, and on Monday, June 19, will begin a trans-continental ride on the same ponies they rode last summer from Oklahoma.

Colonel Jack Abernathy, former sheriff of the plains and guide extraordinary on Colonel Roosevelt's famous wolf hunting expedition, told Frederic Thompson of the ambition of his "kids" to saddle their ponies in the Atlantic surf and unsaddle them in the Pacific, which means a ride of at least 3,600 miles.

A wager of $5,000 was made between Colonel Abernathy and Mr. Thompson, and the boys will start from Luna park a week from Monday. They will neither sleep nor eat in hotels. They will ride every foot of the distance and unsaddle their horses in Pacific waters, after sixty days, excepting Sundays, from the time they start.

"OLD HOMESTEAD" IS RURAL MASTERPIECE

"The Old Homestead," the masterpiece of New England rural drama, is now in the twenty-fifth season of its success. It is still owned and controlled by Franklin Thompson. No one interested in the theatre should miss seeing "The Old Homestead" this season, for the play will probably not last forever, and time slips past with a whirr these days, and the changes are great as they are unexpected and no one who holds the theatre as vile and contaminating should miss seeing "The Old Homestead," or they will lose their chief argument of what might have been. If you belong to the first class, you say you have seen it before, even twice before, you may be sure you will enjoy it as much as the third time; if you are of the second set, you say that you have heard that originally "The Old Homestead" was broad and unseemly, then all more credit should fall to him who has lifted it out of the mire and cleansed and purified it. It is one of the plays that can be recommended to all sorts and conditions of men and while this advice is an old story, it naturally follows in the wake of this classic among heart-plays. "The Old Homestead" contains the best comedy the purest homely sentiment and the sweetest breath of naturalness the stage knows, which comes to the Oregon theatre, Sunday, June 18.

At least the joyrider doesn't have to whistle for the wind.

AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.

Pendleton's favorite picture theater offers fine program for Friday and Saturday.

1. "A Case of High Treason," from "The Under Man." By Thomas A. Hanshaw. He has given to the world of soundless drama a thrilling romance of love and revenge, of Southern atmosphere and military vigor in his tale entitled "The Under Man," which the Edison company has transplanted from printed pages into life upon the white canvas of the motion picture screen, telling his tale in a most graphic manner, infusing into it all the vigor and romance its author has so delightfully told us between the covers of a book.

2. "The New Dress." Biograph. Jose weds Marta, the little Mexican girl, and later when she accompan-

Real Savings in Desirable Wash Goods

12 1-2c Figured Batistes and Lawns for 9c

15c Dimities, Lawns and Batistes for yard 11c

18c Figured Flaxon for 14c

25c Lawns and Organdies for 18c

35c Organdies, Lawns, Etc. 24c

50c Novelty Wash Fabrics 37c

Wohlenberg Dep't. Store

BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY.

les him and her father to the market where they go to sell the products of their farm, she sees and is fascinated by a pretty dress. Jose promises to buy it for her so she returns home with her father. He gets the dress but gives it away while under the influence of wine. He tells Marta he has lost it, but she sees the dress later on another woman. The shock unbalances her mind, in which condition she remains until the advent of a little one, which restores her reason and blots out the thought of the dress.

3. "The Redemption of Rawhide." Miles, Rawhide, Arizona, was certainly a tough town when Parson Simpson first blew in from civilization and started his campaign of redemption. His daughter, Mary, had the Bible class and they were all in it. The result was the hottest contest known in the west, and it turned out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

4. "Matrimonial Epidemic." Kosmik. In which old uncles and aunts are so impressed by the ardent love of a young couple that they too return in spirit to the springtime of life and become exceedingly coquettish and flirtatious. The love germ finds lodgement and develops to laughable proportions and finally conquers a trio of fond couples. A high class comedy you must see.

5. "Lafont and Pala's Last Flight." Gaumont. The ascending mechanical bird majestically wends its way through the air currents and is seen as but a speck in the heavens when a mishap causes the machine to drop. The unbroken fall allows the speed to increase until there appears to be only a streak of black descending from the skies, and with a tremendous crash machine and human cargo strike the earth.

The Pastime.

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad boy he didn't mean any harm, but oh, what a lot of excitement he caused.

"The Accomplish." Pathe. The baron's safe has done its deadly work.

"Winter Sports at Lucerne." Scenic.

The Cosy.

Another fine program for Friday and Saturday:

"The Cossack Duke." Gt. Northern. A dramatic story of the Russian army. A lieutenant loves the young wife of a general, who becoming suspicious of them, forbids the lieutenant the house. A duchess becomes the medium for the exchange of notes between the two. The duke finds one of the notes and thinks his wife is false, so he accuses the lieutenant of conspiring against the czar. The duke finds out his mistake just in time to prevent the execution of the lieutenant. Beautifully colored and tinted and superbly acted.

"The Opium Smuggler." American. This is a story of the Pacific coast, which is very interesting, as it shows some beautiful ocean views. It is a story of a girl and her accepted lover, to whom her father objects, as he wishes her to marry an opium smuggler. The father is saved from death in the sea during a storm by the girl's lover, and the smuggler's treachery is discovered. Filled with remorse and gratitude, the father gives his daughter to the one she loves.

"A Red Man's Gratitude." Bison. An Indian is robbed and wounded by three desperadoes and is given kind treatment at a pioneer's cabin. The bandits capture the pioneer's daughter and the Indian and pioneer pursue them and get the drop on them and the Indian fights a duel with them, killing them one by one.

"Engaged in Spite of Themselves." Eclair. Two young people were angry because their parents wanted them to marry and they arrange a plot to fool the old folks. But after success has crowned their efforts, they find they are in love with one another and must undo their work of deceit. A good comedy, finely colored.

"The Pastime."

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad boy he didn't mean any harm, but oh, what a lot of excitement he caused.

"The Accomplish." Pathe. The baron's safe has done its deadly work.

"Winter Sports at Lucerne." Scenic.

The Cosy.

Another fine program for Friday and Saturday:

"The Cossack Duke." Gt. Northern. A dramatic story of the Russian army. A lieutenant loves the young wife of a general, who becoming suspicious of them, forbids the lieutenant the house. A duchess becomes the medium for the exchange of notes between the two. The duke finds one of the notes and thinks his wife is false, so he accuses the lieutenant of conspiring against the czar. The duke finds out his mistake just in time to prevent the execution of the lieutenant. Beautifully colored and tinted and superbly acted.

"The Opium Smuggler." American. This is a story of the Pacific coast, which is very interesting, as it shows some beautiful ocean views. It is a story of a girl and her accepted lover, to whom her father objects, as he wishes her to marry an opium smuggler. The father is saved from death in the sea during a storm by the girl's lover, and the smuggler's treachery is discovered. Filled with remorse and gratitude, the father gives his daughter to the one she loves.

"A Red Man's Gratitude." Bison. An Indian is robbed and wounded by three desperadoes and is given kind treatment at a pioneer's cabin. The bandits capture the pioneer's daughter and the Indian and pioneer pursue them and get the drop on them and the Indian fights a duel with them, killing them one by one.

"Engaged in Spite of Themselves." Eclair. Two young people were angry because their parents wanted them to marry and they arrange a plot to fool the old folks. But after success has crowned their efforts, they find they are in love with one another and must undo their work of deceit. A good comedy, finely colored.

"The Pastime."

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad boy he didn't mean any harm, but oh, what a lot of excitement he caused.

"The Accomplish." Pathe. The baron's safe has done its deadly work.

"Winter Sports at Lucerne." Scenic.

The Cosy.

Another fine program for Friday and Saturday:

"The Cossack Duke." Gt. Northern. A dramatic story of the Russian army. A lieutenant loves the young wife of a general, who becoming suspicious of them, forbids the lieutenant the house. A duchess becomes the medium for the exchange of notes between the two. The duke finds one of the notes and thinks his wife is false, so he accuses the lieutenant of conspiring against the czar. The duke finds out his mistake just in time to prevent the execution of the lieutenant. Beautifully colored and tinted and superbly acted.

"The Opium Smuggler." American. This is a story of the Pacific coast, which is very interesting, as it shows some beautiful ocean views. It is a story of a girl and her accepted lover, to whom her father objects, as he wishes her to marry an opium smuggler. The father is saved from death in the sea during a storm by the girl's lover, and the smuggler's treachery is discovered. Filled with remorse and gratitude, the father gives his daughter to the one she loves.

"A Red Man's Gratitude." Bison. An Indian is robbed and wounded by three desperadoes and is given kind treatment at a pioneer's cabin. The bandits capture the pioneer's daughter and the Indian and pioneer pursue them and get the drop on them and the Indian fights a duel with them, killing them one by one.

"Engaged in Spite of Themselves." Eclair. Two young people were angry because their parents wanted them to marry and they arrange a plot to fool the old folks. But after success has crowned their efforts, they find they are in love with one another and must undo their work of deceit. A good comedy, finely colored.

"The Pastime."

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad boy he didn't mean any harm, but oh, what a lot of excitement he caused.

"The Accomplish." Pathe. The baron's safe has done its deadly work.

"Winter Sports at Lucerne." Scenic.

The Cosy.

Another fine program for Friday and Saturday:

"The Cossack Duke." Gt. Northern. A dramatic story of the Russian army. A lieutenant loves the young wife of a general, who becoming suspicious of them, forbids the lieutenant the house. A duchess becomes the medium for the exchange of notes between the two. The duke finds one of the notes and thinks his wife is false, so he accuses the lieutenant of conspiring against the czar. The duke finds out his mistake just in time to prevent the execution of the lieutenant. Beautifully colored and tinted and superbly acted.

"The Opium Smuggler." American. This is a story of the Pacific coast, which is very interesting, as it shows some beautiful ocean views. It is a story of a girl and her accepted lover, to whom her father objects, as he wishes her to marry an opium smuggler. The father is saved from death in the sea during a storm by the girl's lover, and the smuggler's treachery is discovered. Filled with remorse and gratitude, the father gives his daughter to the one she loves.

"A Red Man's Gratitude." Bison. An Indian is robbed and wounded by three desperadoes and is given kind treatment at a pioneer's cabin. The bandits capture the pioneer's daughter and the Indian and pioneer pursue them and get the drop on them and the Indian fights a duel with them, killing them one by one.

"Engaged in Spite of Themselves." Eclair. Two young people were angry because their parents wanted them to marry and they arrange a plot to fool the old folks. But after success has crowned their efforts, they find they are in love with one another and must undo their work of deceit. A good comedy, finely colored.

"The Pastime."

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad boy he didn't mean any harm, but oh, what a lot of excitement he caused.

"The Accomplish." Pathe. The baron's safe has done its deadly work.

"Winter Sports at Lucerne." Scenic.

The Cosy.

Another fine program for Friday and Saturday:

"The Cossack Duke." Gt. Northern. A dramatic story of the Russian army. A lieutenant loves the young wife of a general, who becoming suspicious of them, forbids the lieutenant the house. A duchess becomes the medium for the exchange of notes between the two. The duke finds one of the notes and thinks his wife is false, so he accuses the lieutenant of conspiring against the czar. The duke finds out his mistake just in time to prevent the execution of the lieutenant. Beautifully colored and tinted and superbly acted.

"The Opium Smuggler." American. This is a story of the Pacific coast, which is very interesting, as it shows some beautiful ocean views. It is a story of a girl and her accepted lover, to whom her father objects, as he wishes her to marry an opium smuggler. The father is saved from death in the sea during a storm by the girl's lover, and the smuggler's treachery is discovered. Filled with remorse and gratitude, the father gives his daughter to the one she loves.

"A Red Man's Gratitude." Bison. An Indian is robbed and wounded by three desperadoes and is given kind treatment at a pioneer's cabin. The bandits capture the pioneer's daughter and the Indian and pioneer pursue them and get the drop on them and the Indian fights a duel with them, killing them one by one.

"Engaged in Spite of Themselves." Eclair. Two young people were angry because their parents wanted them to marry and they arrange a plot to fool the old folks. But after success has crowned their efforts, they find they are in love with one another and must undo their work of deceit. A good comedy, finely colored.

"The Pastime."

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad boy he didn't mean any harm, but oh, what a lot of excitement he caused.

"The Accomplish." Pathe. The baron's safe has done its deadly work.

"Winter Sports at Lucerne." Scenic.

The Cosy.

Another fine program for Friday and Saturday:

"The Cossack Duke." Gt. Northern. A dramatic story of the Russian army. A lieutenant loves the young wife of a general, who becoming suspicious of them, forbids the lieutenant the house. A duchess becomes the medium for the exchange of notes between the two. The duke finds one of the notes and thinks his wife is false, so he accuses the lieutenant of conspiring against the czar. The duke finds out his mistake just in time to prevent the execution of the lieutenant. Beautifully colored and tinted and superbly acted.

"The Opium Smuggler." American. This is a story of the Pacific coast, which is very interesting, as it shows some beautiful ocean views. It is a story of a girl and her accepted lover, to whom her father objects, as he wishes her to marry an opium smuggler. The father is saved from death in the sea during a storm by the girl's lover, and the smuggler's treachery is discovered. Filled with remorse and gratitude, the father gives his daughter to the one she loves.

"A Red Man's Gratitude." Bison. An Indian is robbed and wounded by three desperadoes and is given kind treatment at a pioneer's cabin. The bandits capture the pioneer's daughter and the Indian and pioneer pursue them and get the drop on them and the Indian fights a duel with them, killing them one by one.

"Engaged in Spite of Themselves." Eclair. Two young people were angry because their parents wanted them to marry and they arrange a plot to fool the old folks. But after success has crowned their efforts, they find they are in love with one another and must undo their work of deceit. A good comedy, finely colored.

"The Pastime."

Special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Blowing Up and Sinking of the Battleship Texas." This topic is indeed a feature of extraordinary merit. The battleship Texas stood the brunt of the fight off Santiago and was undoubtedly responsible in a very large share, for the American victory over the fleet of Admiral Cervera. The use of the big naval guns, the very close photography showing the loading and firing of the guns, are indeed extremely interesting. The effects of broadsides from battleships upon the water are exceptionally peculiar. The examination of the battleship after the cannonade, showing the results of our excellent American marksmanship, should be a source of pride to each and every American.

"Wild Animals in Captivity." Esanay. Educational. Lincoln Park Zoo of Chicago to go around the world in moving pictures. All of Cy De Vry's happy family are snapped by the moving picture man. Nero, the ferocious lion, Princess the elephant, friend of the children, big Dan, the polar bear, Dick, the almost human monkey. Everyone, from the ring-tailed monkey and the talking parrot to the big herd of buffaloes and the trained sealions are going abroad—in moving pictures. Every part of the zoo has been faithfully reproduced and we have it right at your door.

"That Awful Brother." Lubin. That bad