SPOKANE DAIRIES TO ABOLISH WHISKERS

Spokane, Wash., June 16.—Managers of dairies in and near Spokane will issue a joint order on June 21, compelling milkers and other male workers in their establishments to shave every other day. Thomas S. Griffith, president of the Glen Tana Dairy farm, said he believes the plan originated by J. B. Haggins, a millionaire dairyman in Kentucky, will be adopted in all parts of the country. The local dairymen already have ruled against tobacco chewing and have installed wash basins and laundries in connection with the milking stables. The milkers wear white suits, which are changed every day. Some of the dairymen say that, while a ban on whiskers is without question one of sanitary importance, such an order might make it difficult to secure sufficient help, even at the present wage scale, which ranges from $25 to $45 a month. In any event, it is announced, facial adornments in the way of whiskers must go.

Bill White Crates.
Lincoln, Neb., June 15.—Alma White, novelist, editor of the Emporia Gazette and author of the famous query, "What's the matter with Kansas?" was the commencement orator at the fortieth annual exercises of the University of Nebraska today. The day's program will close with a reception by the chancellor this evening.

HILLS' MURDERER SUSPECT IS SEEN

Startling evidence that the man who murdered the four members of William Hill's family last week is still in the immediate neighborhood of Ardenwald, where last week's murders took place, came early today when Gus Obrist, a dairyman, was attacked by a man believed to be the murderer, says the Portland Journal.

Obrist works for A. J. Dysle, a young dairyman, recently married, who has lived in Ardenwald for the past month. For three weeks, late at night and early in the morning, Dysle and Obrist have seen a rough looking man hanging about the barns and the house, who would disappear in the woods across the road when he saw that he was observed.

Dysle thought the man might be one of the many tramps that infest the neighborhood, owing to the proximity of the Southern Pacific tracks, which run near the house, until he saw the man after the Hill murders. Then he notified the police and sheriff's office and took care not to leave his young wife alone in the house.

At 2 o'clock this morning, Obrist had finished milking the cows in the barn, behind the Dysle house, and was walking down the lane that runs from the barn to the house when the same man whom he had seen a number of times before ran up behind him and struck him in the back of the neck at the same time bringing his knee up so as to strike Obrist in the back. Obrist is a young Swiss who has been in this country but a short while. He is sturdy built and managing to shake off his assailant, ran for the house.

The man who had attacked him ran on down the lane, jumped the fence into the road and crossed it road into the thicket of woods that lies between the road and the Johnson creek bottoms.

It is the belief of those who have been working on the Hill case for the past six days that the man who murdered the Hills and the man who has been prowling about the Dysle home and other farms within a short distance of Ardenwald, are the same.

Deputy Sheriff Phillips, Deputy Sheriff John Talley and T. F. Cowing, Jr., a brother of Mrs. Ruth Hill, one of the victims of Friday morning's murders, hurried out to the Dysle place early this morning and spent the day scouring the woods into which the man fled and from which he has been seen to come on the occasions of his visits to the Dysle place and neighboring farms.

These woods are about a mile long, and not more than a quarter of a mile wide, but are extremely thick and cover a hillside that slopes down to the Johnson creek bottoms, and the right of way of the railroad.

When Obrist told Dysle of the attack this morning Dysle telephoned the sheriff and the police. Two policemen got to the Dysle place within half an hour but were unable to find anything of Obrist's assailant. They heard dogs barking loudly at a farm the other side of the Johnson creek bottoms, however, and it is supposed the man ran in that direction.

It is said that Gov. Wilson's commendation of certain editors for the independence they have shown in criticizing public men and his declaration for publicity as one of the chief safeguards of the people will lose him the support of certain governors in the southern states.

Ohio progressives have started a campaign to obtain a more liberal constitution for their state next year. Persons of every political party who believe that the new constitution should be drafted in the interest of the people rather than of special privilege have banded together in the campaign.

Governor Colquitt of Texas has refused to permit the Methodist church of which he is a member, to expel him without a fight from membership because of his political views regarding prohibition. Colquitt made his race for the nomination on the prohibition question, taking the anti-prohibition side. For his fight for the anti he has been severely criticized and asked to resign from the Methodist church.

From now on to the time of the national democratic convention a year hence, there promises to be a merry war between Governor Harmon of Illinois and William Jennings Bryan.

Harmon has lost no time in announcing that he will not be a candidate for the presidential nomination again, but he does not like Harmon and Harmon has already given notice that there is no love lost between himself, Bryan and Governor Wilson of New Jersey. He will stand on his record as a progressive, and one of the proudest things to which he directs emphasis in the series of bills—17 in all—which he was forced through after Ohio had vainly demanded their passage for years.

Recreation—there is not so much in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which refreshes tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla this summer.

A political campaign involving a United States senatorship, the governorship and other important state offices will soon be on in full blast in Kentucky.

MRS. LOVE STATES HUSBAND WAS CRUEL

CAME HOME TO DINNER
MUCH INTOXICATED

Wife of Sidney Love Takes Witness Stand to Defend Herself Against Charges Made by Husband—Has Quit Cigarettes.

Baker, Ore., June 16.—Looking pale and worn out, Mrs. Marjorie Burnes Love took the witness stand yesterday to defend herself from the charges brought against her by her husband, Sidney C. Love, in his action for divorce. She was under direct examination all the forenoon by her attorney, Benjamin Tuska, and answered questions readily at most times, flinching occasionally when her home life was brought up. Once she was visibly affected when the events just prior to the birth of her baby were discussed.

She wore a heavy veil, as she has all through the hearing.

She recited at length the details of her acquaintance with Love. "During his courtship," she said, "he was affectionate, and my marriage with him was one of pure love. He told me always during those days that we were to live in New York, as he would not care to live in Chicago at all."

Home Drunk, Ugly, Sullen.
"The beginning of my illness was one night when he came home to dinner very much intoxicated. I had never but once before seen him so much under the influence of liquor. His condition was such that he swayed and I had never seen that before. All through dinner that night he was ugly and sullen to me, and while I was too ill, I went to the theatre with him. Some friends were with us and saw how I felt, so would not accompany us. We returned home in the motor and when we arrived he did not help me out, but left me to alight as best I could. He then ordered the chauffeur to drive him to a club and left me standing alone on the street at midnight."

"The next day the doctor told him what was the nature of my illness and he was greatly pleased. He came back and was very kind to me indeed."

She then told how they had gone to Newport, and while she lay ill in bed he had the house full of guests every night, making so much noise I could not sleep."

Visited Hospital Sleepily.
Shortly afterward, when she was taken to the Roosevelt hospital in New York, for an operation for the removal of her appendix, the wife testified that he came to see her every day, corroborating Love's statement, "but," she added, "he never stayed long, and often-times laid down and slept while he was there."

She also acknowledged that he was very kind and good to her after her return from the hospital.

She dwelt at some length on the details of his failure in business, saying that after the crash came, he had asked her to lend him some money, and that she had done so, to the extent of $7000 and later had given him a check for $3000. About this time, she testified, the baby was born, and her mother suggested the trip to England. Her mother, she said, came to her room and they talked the plans over and Mrs. Burnes called to Sidney, who was in the next room, to ask him if he and Marjorie would not go to England with her and live as her guests.

"He agreed," she added, "and with tears in his eyes thanked my mother for her kindness and showed in every way that he was deeply affected by her act."

Has Quit Cigarettes, She Says.
On cross-examination, which was started by Attorney Rand shortly before noon, she asserted she had given up smoking since she left New York. She said she did not think it nice of Mr. Rand to ask her if she had smoked today, after testifying that she denied that Love had not known of her smoking until after their marriage, saying he had encouraged it during their engagement.

ALL "GRADS" ARE TO HAVE A VOTE

O. A. C. ALUMNI ASS'N
ADOPTS REFERENDUM

Important Questions of Policy Will be Submitted to Membership as is Done in Eastern Colleges—Association Has Paid Secretary.

Corvallis, Ore., June 16.—As a result of action taken at the annual meeting of the Oregon Agricultural College Alumni association the principle of the reforms will henceforth be used at times in connection with alumni affairs. The executive committee of the association is authorized to take a vote of the entire alumni membership on any question of alumni policy when in the judgment of the committee it is desirable to do so.

The plan of submitting important issues to the vote of all the graduates of the institution is in vogue in many of the large eastern colleges and it is believed the scheme will work particularly well in Oregon where the uses of the initiative and referendum are well understood.

One question has already been referred to the membership of the O. A. C. alumni and the vote will be taken within a short time. The question is upon the adoption of a motion introduced by Carl Abrams, '09, of Salem, to the effect that the O. A. C. alumni recommend one man for membership upon the board of regents. It is probable that during the coming year several questions will be submitted to the O. A. C. grads though at the time the one mentioned above is the only question ready for submission.

Officers of the O. A. C. alumni association for the ensuing year are E. B. Aldrich, president; A. G. Hoag, vice president; and Harry Holgate, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee consists of the president, secretary and the following, Mrs. C. M. McKellops, Corvallis, Mark Weatherford, Albany, and Mrs. John Fulton, Corvallis.

The secretary-treasurer is to be paid a salary, the amount to be regulated by the executive committee.

Angler Gets "Paddle Cat."
Strange Creature Is Taken From the Chippewa River.

Chippewa Falls, Wis.—William Leipnitz of this city, while fishing in the Chippewa river, caught the strangest specimen of the finny tribe ever seen here. It is called by old rivermen a "paddle cat," and who say it had been many years since one has been seen in these waters.

This fish was fifty-two inches long and weighed twenty-two pounds. The reason it is called a "paddle cat" is on account of the queer shape of the head. The "paddle" is the nose of the fish, and on this one it measured twelve inches. The fish had ears that hung down six inches below the gills. The mouth opened at least six inches. In color the fish has a bluish cast.

The fish is said to be a salt water specimen where it is often found, but it is a mystery how the fish has strayed up into the cool fresh waters of the Chippewa.

LOCAL FIRM WILL CONTINUE VALUABLE AGENCY

The Pendleton Drug Co. of this city has just closed a deal whereby it will continue to be agents for ZEMO—the well known remedy for eczema, dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

The extraordinary leap that this clean liquid external treatment for skin affections has made into public favor in the last few years proves its wonderful curative properties and makes it indeed a valuable addition to the fine stock of remedial agents carried by the Pendleton Drug Co.

They have a limited supply of samples, one of which will be given free to any skin sufferer who wishes to test the merit of the medicine. A booklet "How to Preserve the Skin" will also be given to those interested.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.
Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Pendleton Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy is Dean's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Pendleton people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. Thomas Myers, 309 E. Court street, Pendleton, Oregon, says: "A member of our family complained a great deal of sharp pains in the back and was also caused much trouble by two frequent passages of the kidney secretions. When a trial of Dean's Kidney Pills was suggested, this remedy was procured and the contents of two boxes restored the kidneys to a normal condition, bringing relief from all the distressing symptoms of kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.
