MANAGING BOARD HAD BUSY SESSION

TARIFF EXPERT SHAW GUEST AT MEETING

Cheaper Lights and Power. Fourth of July and Other Topics Discussed—Portland Commercial Club Invited to Round-up.

For the first time in several weeks the Commercial club managers met at luncheon today and many subjects of interest were up for discussion. A guest at the luncheon was Prof. Edward L. Shaw, technical expert who is investigating the cost of producing wool. He gave an interesting talk relative to the work he and his men are doing for the tariff board.

Portlanders to Round-up.
A communication was read from Secretary C. C. Chapman of the Portland Commercial club stating that a delegation from that organization might be brought here for attending the Round-up celebration on Saturday, the closing day of the big show. Accordingly a motion was adopted that in the name of the local Commercial club an invitation be extended to the Portlanders to come on that day and to be the guests of the Pendleton club while in the city.

Fourth of July.
As chairman of the fourth of July celebration committee T. G. Montgomery reported the progress being made with the celebration. The forenoon program will be held at the Round-up park. In the morning parade an auto will be provided for each state in the union and these will be filled with little children. Features of the afternoon will be a wild mule race and a ball game. The committee is still seeking contributions for the celebration as more money is needed for the celebration.

For Cheaper Light.
The question of lower electric light and power rates was brought before the meeting by Dr. C. J. Smith who presented newspaper clippings telling of reductions granted at Walla Walla and North Yakima by the Pacific power & Light company. The matter was referred to the committee on city interests.

The long standing problem of securing an amicable settlement of the controversy over the closing of Aura and Lillesh streets was discussed and Secretary Jack Keefe was authorized to take the matter up with residents who are remonstrating against the closing of the streets.

An invitation from the ladies civic club was extended all members of the Commercial club to attend the lecture on the house fly to be given by Dr. Calvin S. White at the city hall Monday evening.

By action taken today Secretary Keefe is authorized to collect club dues quarterly in advance and also to ascertain the cost of an electric sign to be installed in front of the club quarters.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Echo People to Marry.
A marriage license has been issued to George L. Goodnight and Luella M. Harden, both residents of Echo. The young lady is only 17 of age and her parents' consent was necessary.

Plans for a New School.
District No. 113, the youngest school district in the county, has just voted bonds for the erection of a new school house. This district is located on the reservation just east of Adams.

Sues for Divorce.
A suit for divorce has been instituted in the circuit court by Olive Blinifer against her husband, Walter Blinifer. The papers in the case are withdrawn. Carter & Smythe are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Injured Men Improving.
George Mustard, the young man who had his back dislocated by a fall from a building at Stanfield during the early part of the week, is improving very slowly at the local hospital, according to Dr. C. J. Smith. The spinal cord was badly injured and it is not yet certain whether or not he will be left a cripple. Byron Johnson, the young man who fell off the city water wagon and was run over, is improving rapidly.

Will Be Here With Exhibit.
Charles Ogilvy, one of the best known ranchers of the Pilot Rock country, is one of the many enthusiasts over the district fair. On his last visit to the city he assured Secretary Fitz Gerald that he would be present with a bumper exhibit of his farm products whether or not the town of Pilot Rock made up a display. Mr. Ogilvy has had considerable success with his exhibits heretofore; one year bringing in 62 different products which had been grown on his farm.

Indian Exercises Original.
Secretary Jack Keefe of the Pendleton Commercial association attended the closing exercises of the agency school last night and declares he listened to the most original program in his life. He was called upon to make a short speech and did not leave any room for doubts in the minds of his hearers regarding the enjoyment which had been his. By way of reciprocating he rendered a couple of his famous "planology" lectures which he says were given the most enthusiastic reception of any in his long career.

Wants Property Divided.
Otis R. Arnold has commenced suit in the local court for a division of property, in which he claims a one-third interest. The defendants in the suit are his sister, Hazel Arnold Dupuis, and her husband, Edward Dupuis, and his brother, Walter Arnold, and B. S. Kelsay and wife, A. C. Friedly F. H. and C. E. Critman. The other two-thirds interest in the property, which consists of 36 lots in this city and two in Weston, he alleged to be owned by his sister and the Kelsays. His brother and the latter three defendants are made parties to the suit because of liens off the Kelsay one-third which they claim. Otis R. Arnold is the elder son of Prof. John C. Arnold, who formerly conducted an academy in Pendleton and who was at various times county surveyor and at one time appointed surveyor general of the state. At his death, W. J. Furnish was appointed guardian of the three minor children and administrator of the estate, which was considerable. Carter & Smythe represent the plaintiff in the suit.

Crazy Man With a Gun.
Chief of Police Tom Gurdane had an experience with a crazy Greek this morning that he does not care to repeat during his life time and he considers it fortunate that there was no tragedy attending it. The insane man was noticed on the street several days ago and on Tuesday the force at the First National Bank had considerable difficulty in dispelling the idea from his mind that he was the owner of that institution. This morning about 8 o'clock he was observed running madly down Main street toward the depot and a little later appeared on the corner of Webb and Cottonwood streets with a revolver in his hand and peering cautiously about. George Doane notified the chief of police who took up the hunt. He was next discovered on the corner by the 10 and 15 cent store still with gun in hand and still peering about him alertly. He started south toward the city hall and Chief Gurdane hid behind the feed barn of A. T. Mathews in wait. Fortunately the man put his revolver in his pocket just before reaching the corner. The officer grappled with him, and although he was a slight built fellow, he fought with maniacal strength, biting, kicking and scratching. Three other men came to the chief's assistance and it took their combined efforts to manacle his hands. This done he fell exhausted and was taken to the county jail. His revolver, when taken from him, proved to be an automatic Savage containing eleven cartridges.

WOMAN FINDS HUSBAND HUMAN RAINBOW

Chicago.—A prospective husband seen through the rose colored tint of a convivial evening is a much different sight from the real thing as seen "the morning after."

And, although Marie Clark McKillop has been used to colors and costumes of all kinds during her experience on the stage, she objected strenuously when her newly made friend-husband, whom she had acquired as the result of a wager made known his sartorial ideas.

"He wore a yellow tie, green striped socks, a suit that could be heard half a mile, a hat with a noisy band yellow gloves and blue underwear," she complained yesterday in a suit for divorce. "Live with a human spectrum like that? I should say not."

And therefore, Mr. McKillop, who is a board of trade operator, is the defendant in divorce proceedings.

Last January McKillop and Miss Clark met while she was playing a Chicago vaudeville house. A few days later at Rockford McKillop gave a dinner in honor of Miss Clark.

"Let's get married?" he suggested between two of the liquid courses.

"Not for mine," returned Miss Clark.

"I'll bet you a box of gloves you're afraid to get married," said some one at the table. Miss Clark looked at McKillop, who was faultlessly attired in evening dress.

"Done," she said, and a minister was found and the linking of wine glasses served as wedding bells.

But then came the "morning after" and McKillop's appearance in his idea of Beau Brummel attire.

"A few weeks looking at that perpetual rainbow ended love's sweet dream," says Miss Clark in her suit, and a separation followed.

McKillop is said to be well-to-do.

SIXTY SENATORS FAVOR RECIPROcity BILL

Washington, June 16.—A canvass of the senate shows sixty favor reciprocity and that more than sixty are against the Root amendment. Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, stated today that he would hold the senate in daily session and oppose any adjournment until a vote was taken. He expects the bill to pass as soon as his opponents finish their speeches.

King George never knew, until now, that he had so many loyal American subjects.

CHIEF SEYMOUR HAS RESIGNED HIS OFFICE

San Francisco, June 16.—Chief of Police John H. Seymour, who has held office for several days past by virtue of court injunctions, resigned office last night after all pending charges against him had been dismissed. D. A. White, recently named by the police commission, assumed control of the department when Seymour's resignation had been accepted.

The police department has been the center of a political storm for more than a month. The struggle in the courts, which ended last night in Seymour's resignation and White's installation, was marked by the resignation of three police commissioners and a bombardment of writs and injunctions, during which time the city had White as an acting chief unrecognized by the courts, and Seymour as a chief with court sanction, but no power to act.

Three separate sets of charges were filed against Seymour, the main alle-
