M'BRIDES FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY

FORMER UNITED STATES SENATOR PASSES AWAY

Dies at His Home in Portland Sunday After Long Illness—Was Native of Oregon—Member of Prominent Family.

The funeral of George Wycliffe McBride, former United States senator from Oregon, who died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, will be held tomorrow afternoon at Trinity Episcopal church, says the Portland Journal. Rev. A. A. Morrison assisted by Rev. W. A. M. Brock, will conduct the services. The Masons, of which order Senator McBride was a prominent member, are expected to attend in a body. The remains will be cremated, services at the crematorium to be private.

Senator McBride's death did not come as a surprise, as he had been an invalid for several years. Three months ago an operation was performed, which further sapped his remaining strength. He failed gradually from that time until the end came yesterday.

Mr. McBride was 57 years of age, and was born in Yamhill county. After finishing school he engaged in the merchandise business at St. Helens. His political career began there in 1882, when he was elected a member of the legislature and made speaker of the house. In 1886 he was elected for a second term four years later. While occupying this office he studied law and was admitted to the bar.

In the last day of the session of the 1895 legislature he was chosen United States senator to succeed J. N. Dolph. He had been a supporter of Dolph during the tempestuous session of that year. He served six years as senator, retiring in 1901. His last public service was as a commissioner to the St. Louis exposition.

The McBride family name appears often in the political history of Oregon. A brother John R. McBride, was the first republican member of congress from this state. Another brother is Thomas A. McBride, a justice of the Oregon supreme court. His father, James McBride, was minister to Hawaii under President Lin-
