TO LAY CORNER STONE FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

STANFIELD HAS ARRANGED PROGRAM FOR EVENT

W. T. Reeves is re-elected School Director—Teachers Are Employed for Next Year—Other Interesting Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)

Stanfield, Ore., June 20.—At the annual meeting of school district No. 61 held here last evening, W. T. Reeves, who has served as school director for several years, was re-elected to serve for the ensuing three years and G. L. Dunning was elected for one year, being the unexpired term of J. A. Mendenhall, who recently resigned, owing to the pressure of other business matters demanding his attention. It was reported that teachers had been employed for next year as follows: Frank D. Carruth, principal; Miss Minnie E. Baker and Miss Iona Applegate, re-elected, and Miss A. Chezik.

Work on the school building has so progressed that the corner stone will be laid next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and a committee consisting of E. N. Wheeler, J. E. Fancett and Frank Sloan was appointed for the purpose of arranging the program for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Marchand of Lewiston, Idaho, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bucholz of this city the past week have returned to their home accompanied by Mrs. Buchholz.

Mayor James M. Kyle visited Pendleton yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Crawford of Hermiston were in Stanfield Sunday.

Tom Means came down from Pendleton Monday.

H. D. Burroughs of Hermiston was transacting business here yesterday.

Hon. W. J. Furnish returned last evening from a few days' sojourn at his country home at Wenaha springs.

Attorney A. W. Gray is attending to legal business in Pendleton today.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT.

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Samose does not contain a particle of starch or pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat, and which does not build up good healthy tissues. Samose has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner, and absolutely restores health to all the organs.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Samose, Koepen Bros. will return your money without any quibbling.

DECLINE OF THE TERRAPIN.

Prediction That Toothsome Reptile Will Follow Buffalo.

Warning comes from Baltimore that the public must not be deceived by the sudden plenty of terrapin in the markets. They are in abundance now, but the said prophecy is made that pretty soon Bre's Terrapin will be no more found on the tables of even the richest epicures. A new method has been found for harvesting these delectable reptiles which has caused the sudden plenty. It appears that about this time of year the diamond backs come up out of the deep mud in which they have hibernated to rest a while on the upper stratum before beginning the season's activities. A Yankee genius has invented a sort of rake which sweeps the bottom of the sounds and rivers, and thus gathers bushels of the animals into the steam dredges which are now at work. But we are solemnly informed that three seasons of this sort of work will make an end of the species.

It is not a great issue, but it is interesting to that small body of persons who consider terrapin the most delicious dish that can be served on the table. Some cannot abide it, other pay willingly the high price demanded. Many persons do not like reptile food at all. In the South rattlesnake is considered a great delicacy. If one can forget his prejudices, it must be admitted that the flesh is tasty and quite as refreshing as dried codfish, for instance. Many persons, too, like terrapin simply because it is costly and has a reputation.

An ancient colonial law of Maryland has just been dug up. It shows that slaves were not treated as well as they deserved, particularly in the matter of food; hence it was ordered in council that no slave should be fed on terrapin more than four times a week! Think of that, ye epicures, who have to be content with a few portions each season. Things have changed mightily since terrapin was considered unfit food for slaves as a steady diet. It seems likely, however, that part of the duty of the slave was to hustle for his terrapin after working hours, and this may have been the greater part of his injury. It may be considered by some in the nature of a gastronomic calamity that the terrapin is to disappear. As a fact, most persons find snapper just as good, or would if it only cost enough. Imagination has a lot to do with our likes and dislikes, even in the fashions that pertain to the things we eat.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

BOY GARDENERS TO EXHIBIT PRODUCTS

Portland, Ore., June 21.—Two hundred boy gardeners, who have raised vegetables on city lots this spring under the direction of the Y. M. C. A., will exhibit their products in the auditorium of the local institution next Friday and Saturday and receive prizes.

Not less than 250 boys engaged in vegetable raising this spring as the result of the Y. M. C. A. campaign for a healthful outdoor avocation for school children that should be pleasant and at the same time instructive. Not all, however, will enter the competition for prizes, but the 200 whose gardens have scored over 80 per cent will participate in the contest.

Local merchants have taken great interest in the competition and have donated prizes for the boys with the best gardens, while the Y. M. C. A., which has had the help of the Oregon agricultural college in carrying on the work, will give a number of memberships in the association as rewards.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, complexion and perfect health. Try mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely them. 50c at Koepens.

FISHHOOK IN MOUTH POISONS.

Constable May Die of Lockjaw From Its Ugly Wound.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—While going to his home in the dark, Constable Stanley Miner of Luern borough, bumped into a fisherman who had a naked hook on a pole, and the hook in some way entered Miner's mouth. He gave a cry of agony and became unconscious. A doctor had to remove the hook. Lockjaw is now threatened.

PARROT SUMMONS AID TO STRICKEN MASTER

Portland, Or.—A parrot belonging to John F. Shoup, a civil war veteran living at Oregon City, summoned aid when his master was helpless from a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Shoup lived alone and early in the morning was stricken, his entire left side being affected. He was unable to call for assistance. The parrot, hearing his moans, set up a loud screaming that attracted the attention of passersby and they entered the house to find Mr. Shoup, who is 76 years old, helpless. He was taken to a hospital and cared for and will probably recover.

MANY INDIAN CHIEFS ARE WITH KIT CARSON

When on June 27 you make your way to the show grounds where the world famous Kit Carson—Buffalo Ranch Wild West is to exhibit, be sure the first point of interest you make for is the Indian village. There you will see Indian chiefs and warriors of three distinct tribes: Sioux, Comanche and Cheyenne braves with their squaws and papooses, clad in their gaudy, many colored blankets and feathers, living in their historic tepees, beading their moccasins and chanting the songs of the unforgotten warpath. It is a rare sight indeed to see them just as they exist on the reservation, for before many years the Indians of today will be put a memory. They are fast disappearing and many of us who are living today will almost see the last of their kind. Among the Indians carried by Kit Carson's Buffalo Ranch Wild West Shows are many noted historical characters, the foremost being Chief Clear. To hear this old chief, with the aid of an interpreter, chronicle some of the feats of his youth, of the battles with the blue coats, of the long trail and the trips to the hunting grounds, is indeed interesting and any patron of this exhibition is at liberty to view the Indian from every angle and several interpreters are constantly at hand to assist the public in conversation with the red man.

REAL RAILROAD CATS.

Mother Selects Freight Engine for Interesting Event.

Mount Holly, N. J.—Employees at the round house of the Pennsylvania railroad discovered that for two days freight engine No. 143 has been carrying three of the youngest passengers ever on a railroad engine. The passengers were accompanied by their mother, who happens to be the round house cat.

The pet of the railroad men was missed from her accustomed places the other day and nothing was known of her whereabouts until she was noticed coming from the engine's truck bolster after today's run. Investigation showed that she had selected the truck bolster for the birthplace of three kittens, which were so concealed from view and far from reach that it was necessary to use wire hooks to reach them.

Comfortable quarters were provided for the family, and the railroad men will take good care of the arrivals, which have had two trips between Mt. Holly and Camden.
