COSTUME BALL IS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

London, June 21.—The most regal banquet the palace of kind or emperor ever witnessed, and a gorgeous Shakespearean ball under the auspices of noted society leaders, stand forth shining features of the second day of coronation week. The banquet in Buckingham palace last night was a scene of imperial grandeur, so far as the assemblage of royal and eminent personages and the setting of costly magnificence and beautiful decorations could make it.

The Shakespearean ball was held in Albert hall, which was elaborately decorated. The dancers numbered thousands, while 400 boxes were occupied by the representatives of foreign nations and the most prominent officials.

As many as 23 quadrilles were danced simultaneously, the participants representing groups of characters from Shakespeare's plays. Leading actors and actresses took part in these quadrilles along with the leaders of the smart set.

Jake Sheuerman, the wool buyer, arrived in Pendleton on No. 17 this afternoon.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Posts Up Screamers.

T. G. Montgomery, chairman of the Fourth of July committee, drove to Pilot Rock yesterday afternoon to post that town with flaming announcements of the celebration which is to be held in this city on the nation's natal day.

Agree to Live Together.

The suit for divorce instituted by Olive Boulier against her husband, Walter Boulier, was today dismissed on motion of the plaintiff as the husband and wife amicably settled their differences and agreed to live together.

One Marriage License.

Hay R. Ragsdale of Joseph and Miss Alvina May Kleden secured a marriage license from County Clerk Saling yesterday afternoon and were married last evening. The groom is a nephew of S. A. and T. R. Hampton and a cousin of Principal A. C. Hampton.

Freewater Lots Sold Twice.

Lots 7, 8, and 9 in block 84 of the town of Freewater are transferred twice according to instruments filed with Recorder Burroughs. One transaction is from Walter E. Carlson of Walla Walla to Nancy Bonnell for a consideration of $1600 and the other from J. M. Martin and wife to Carlson, consideration unnamed.

Sue to Collect Note.

Gay French and Irene French have instituted a suit against Peter S. Williams and Patrick Williams, doing business in Pilot Rock, under the name of William Bros. to collect $200 with interest on a promissory note alleged to be due. Attorney fees of sixty dollars are also asked. Raley & Raley are appearing for the plaintiffs.

Echo Moralists Aroused.

The moral element in Echo has commenced a crusade against lewdness and vice in that town and announce their intention of putting an end to the practice of conducting houses for the purposes of prostitution. Accordingly they have had Frank Dickey, owner of a house in which such illicit practices have been flourishing for some time past, and he will be brought to trial in the justice court.

Thought Washington President.

Judge Phelps who has just returned from La Grande, tells of granting an Irishman the rights of citizenship after he had satisfactorily answered the necessary questions. This was the second time this son or Erin had appeared before him, however, as he had "flunked" on the first occasion when he stated that George Chamberlain was governor of Oregon and George Washington president of the United States.

In Again, Out Again, In Again.

Henry Otis seems to have a penchant for breaking into jail for no sooner is he released than he proceeds to "come back." Monday afternoon he was "jugged" for imbibing too freely, paid his fine and was turned loose upon the streets. Yesterday he again became bibulous and was given a bed in the bastille last night. This morning Judge Fitz Gerald sent him back to jail for three days for the purpose of reflecting upon the cardinal virtue of the camel.

Superintendent Welles Honored.

County School Superintendent Frank K. Welles has been honored by both the faculties of the University of Oregon and Oregon agricultural college summer schools by invitations to deliver a lecture on "Rural School Supervision" at each of these institutions. The invitation to speak at the former came from D. F. Henry D. Sheldon, head of the department of philosophy, and at the latter from Prof. E. D. Ressler, head of the summer school. Mr. Welles will accept both invitations.

Major Moorhouse Recognized.

Major Lee Moorhouse is recognized as a man of state and national fame because of his famous collection of photographs. He has just received an invitation to apply for a photographic print off of an original negative of Abraham Lincoln which has just been added to the De Kalb collection of Lincoln pictures at a cost of $10,000. In the invitation to apply for one of these photographs of the martyred president, it is stated that only photographers of state or national renown are extended this privilege.

Water Master is Guardian.

Since the telegraphic announcement in this paper yesterday that Willard Bradley of Freewater had been appointed by the state board of control as water master for the north end of Umatilla county, there has been much speculation as to the duties of this new officer. As explained by Attorney Fred Stelwer, who is somewhat of a specialist in water litigation, it is the duty of a water master, after the rights of a stream have been adjudicated, to act as guardian of these rights and see that no user takes out more than the amount of water to which he is entitled and to require all to install measuring boxes. In addition to the appointment of Bradley, three other water masters were appointed, Willard Blake of Ione for Gilliam and Morrow counties, George Brewsner of Sisters for Crook county, and James Sills of Cove for the Grande Ronde valley.

Judge Phelps Has Busy Day.

Following his short vacation from his bench here, Judge Phelps has had a busy day. Among other actions, he overruled the demurrer in the case of David Andrews vs. Zella Andrews and allowed the defendant two days in which to answer. In the case of Read vs. Read, the defendant was given ten days to answer. The case of Viola Andrews vs. the Umatilla county court, by which plaintiff seeks to secure the guardianship of a minor child, was argued and submitted. At press time the judge was listening to the Hermiston case of Holland vs. Williams.

WORK COMMENCES ON ROUND-UP CORRAL

track. At the west end of the track and just north of the bleachers, four corrals will be constructed and they will be connected with the chute that entrance can be made from each without passing through the others. These corrals will hold all of the wild stock necessary for one day's performance. Three paddocks will be built, two to the north of the corrals and one between the grandstand and the west bleachers and they will also be arranged so that entrance to and exit from the track can be expedited. For the purpose of accommodating the surplus stock, feed corrals will be built along the west fence and in these corrals will be ample room for all of the horses and steers on hand. Mr. Moorhouse estimates that the Round-up association alone will have on hand 125 or 150 head of stock and that there will probably be 200 head outside of this. He thinks it will be necessary to have forty "outlaws" for the bucking contests, forty more for the wild horse races, and forty wild steers which with the relay, cowpony, express, Indian, stage coach and other races and novelty events, the number of animals entered will pass the 300 mark.

Feed corrals and racks will be provided for the horses entered in the various races, but the directors state that a large number of the owners will arrange for their own accommodations.

TRAMP CHICKENS RIDE BRAKE RODS

This is the tale of two runaway chickens, a plump young pullet and a lean, lanky Chanticleer, both but little past the pinfeather stage and neither long absent from the protecting wing of their rooster hen. They arrived in Pendleton last evening from Spokane and their passage was made in the most approved hobo style, for they rode the entire distance perched upon the rods beneath the express car on No. 7. There they were found last evening, black and grimy, by Agent T. E. O'Brien and Inspector Cooney, the attention of these two men being drawn by their chirping. They were captured and turned over to Jim Connors, who placed them in his own coop with his game cocks and other thoroughbred specimens of chickenhood, there to await the day when their matured bodies shall doom them to the frying pan.

That they rode the entire distance from Spokane is the belief of the express agent on the car for he asserts that he heard the chirping a short distance out from that city. Whether their singular trip was an elopement or a journey in search of adventure is not known for the runaways refuse to squawk, but their fate is certain for Connors loves a chicken pie as well as any dusky son of the southland and he has an excellent set of molars.

MRS. J. P. BUSHEE IS DEAD IN PORTLAND

Mrs. J. P. Bushee, early day resident of Umatilla county and the mother of Glenn Bushee, died in Portland at midnight last night following an illness which lasted a year.

News to this effect was received here today when a message from Mrs. Emma S. Faul, a sister of the deceased, came from Glenn Bushee, in care of Major Lee Moorhouse. At the time of her death Mrs. Bushee was attended by her sister and by her daughter.

THE BOSTON STORE

Miss Elsie Bushee, who formerly taught in the Indian school at Shoshone, but who quit her position a year ago to take care of her mother during her illness.

Mrs. Bushee and her husband were settlers at Umatilla in the days when that place was the great shipping point for the inland empire. Mr. Bushee was a partner in the firm of Bushee, Livermore & Co. In 1882 Mr. Bushee was chosen as county clerk and he held the position for four years. He then engaged in the mercantile business in Pendleton, purchasing the store of Rothchild & Bean. He was afterward appointed by President Harrison as one of the commissioners to appraise the Umatilla reservation lands prior to the making of the allotments. Other members of the commission were Dr. E. J. Sommerville and J. B. Eddy. After the appraisement was made Messrs. Bushee and Eddy became allotment agents. Later in life Mr. Bushee became grand lecturer for the Masons. He was killed by accident in the local yards about 15 years ago.

Glenn Bushee of this place, and Miss Elsie Bushee of Portland, are the only children of the pioneer couple. No news has yet been received here regarding the funeral arrangements, but it is the belief of Major Moorhouse that the interment will occur here.
