LEADS BRIDE OVER ROOFS. Philadelphia, Pa.—J. Harry Stroud of 503 North Sixty-Third street resorted to strenuous methods last night to lead his bride of an hour away in safety from a crowd of overzealous friends.

Stroud was married at 8 o'clock to Miss Edna Cleaver by the Rev. Eugene Stillman of the Columbia Methodist Episcopal church. The young man is also a member of a lodge, and after the ceremony several of his colleagues in the fraternity made preparations to kidnap the bride.

Stroud, however, was up to the occasion, and, suspecting a send-off that neither he nor his wife were particularly willing to enjoy, he assisted the young woman to the third story. Helping her through a trap door in the roof, Stroud and his bride then made their way unseen to the home of Stroud's father over the roofs and, leaping into a waiting automobile, were on a trip bound for New York before the conspirators on the lower floor were aware of what had transpired.

BUCKAROOS TRIM WESTON IN JIG TIME

LITTLEJOHN'S CONTRIBUTIONS DO NOT EFFECT RESULT

Berger Does Excellent Work on Slab Striking Out Thirteen Men and Allowing Six Scattered Hits.

In what was probably the fastest game of ball played this season in the Blue Mountain league, the Buckaroos yesterday trimmed the Weston Mountaineers, augmented as they were by the cream of four of Littlejohn's Millers, by the score of 6 to 2. The article of ball dished up was of the errorless variety, Pendleton speeding through the nine cantoes without a blunder, while the defeated aggregation escaped with but one.

With the two best pitchers in the league opposing each other for the first time the interest in the contest was keen and never wavered until the last man had fanned the sphyx. Berger had the edge on Frink throughout, getting thirteen strikeouts to the latter's eight, and allowing but six hits to the Athena pitcher's eight, and his record of victories is as yet unbroken.

Pendleton began her scoring in the second inning with a double circuit. Whitten stung the pill for a safe passage to second and Bradley drew a walk. Berger came through at this juncture with a corking two-sacker, scoring both baserunners.

One more was added in the fifth as the result of a three-bagger by Clark and a single by Roberts. Athena got her first in the seventh when both Frink and Picard drove out three baggers.

In the eighth by way of clinching the game, the Buckaroos came through with three more, three hits and a pass by the pitcher doing the work. In their half the mountaineers garnered one and only one. Berger hit two batters after two men had gone down and a timely two-bagger by Brown sent one of these across the tally pan.

There was a large attendance at the game, many Athena and Pendleton people swelling the gate receipts. Considerable money changed hands at the finish but there was no weeping or wailing, for a splendid contest had been witnessed.

The last game of the schedule will be played next Sunday, Athena, the pennant winner, meeting Pendleton in this city.
