WOMEN BEG FOR LIFE OF MURDERESS

GOVERNOR GENERAL OF CANADA APPEALED TO

Would Save Condemned One, Who Will Become a Mother One Month Before She Hangs.

Boise, Idaho, June 27.—That the women of the western states should join the women of the eastern and northern states in sending petitions to Earl Grey, governor general of the dominion of Canada, at Ottawa, Ont., asking that the death sentence imposed upon Mrs. Angeline Napolitano at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., be either commuted to life imprisonment, or that she be reprieved so that the child soon to be born to her may not be deprived of a mother's love and care during the first months of its life, or that she be pardoned and set wholly at liberty, is the consensus of opinion expressed by prominent women of Boise, officers and leaders of local and state women's organizations.

Case Attracts Attention.
The case of Angeline Napolitano has attracted considerable attention throughout the civilized world, on account of its unusual features. Angeline Napolitano, a mother of four children at the age of 28 years is under death sentence at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., for the murder of her husband, Petro Napolitano. The murder was committed last Easter Sunday morning, April 16. She was quickly arrested, convicted and sentenced to be hanged. The death penalty would have been executed immediately, but the law recognized the majesty of motherhood. Justice demanded only one life in return. The mother's execution is set for August 9, a month after the expected birth of another baby in July. Wouldn't Sell Honor.

At her trial the woman made a startling plea for mercy. She had murdered, she confessed to the court frankly, but she murdered because she wouldn't become a "white slave." She killed her husband rather than sell her honor at his demand. She said that her husband had stabbed her nine times, after she refused to do his bidding Easter morning, and that she started to drown herself in the river, but a policeman stopped her. This was corroborated by the authorities.

The woman's plea aroused wide sympathy. Women, especially, became interested. They didn't condone the crime, though they realized how great was its provocation. Quite aside from her guilt or innocence, they felt that womanhood and motherhood would be outraged if this woman, who is entering the shadow of death that a child may live, shall pass through the valley only to stand on the gallows while her baby cries for its mother.

5000 CATTLE DROWNED.

Reservoir Bursts but Man Phones Warning to Ranchers.
Grand Junction, Col.—A reservoir containing water burst today, causing a property damage of $100,000. Five thousand cattle were drowned and several bridges were swept away. No lives were lost. Thomas Dwyer saw the dam break and telephoned warning to ranchers in the valley below.

QUADRUPLE BABIES BORN.

Klamath Woman Mother of Seven Children in Four Years.
Klamath Falls, Ore.—The population of Klamath county is being increased by home people as well as by arrivals of homeseekers. Word has been received that a quartet of babies was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Al Bunnell, who live near Stukel Bridge. Three were girls and one a boy. The boy died later in the day but the girls are all apparently strong and healthy, though very small.

Dr. Patterson of Merrill, who attended, said that the combined weight of the quartet was 12 1-2 pounds. The doctor further said that during the past four years Mrs. Bunnell had given birth to seven children.

HOTEL WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

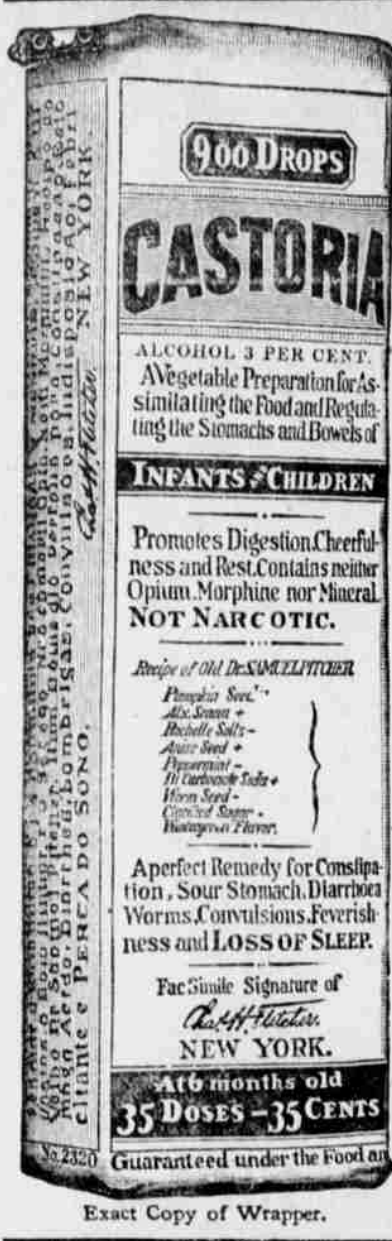

Eight Persons Injured in the Stanley, Estes Park, Col.
Estes Park, Col.—The Stanley hotel, built at a cost of $500,000, was partly wrecked by an explosion of gas. Eight persons were injured, one seriously.

None of the guests were injured. Elizabeth Wilson, a hotel employe, was hurled from the second floor and both ankles were broken. The west wing of the hotel was wrecked and the fact that none of the guests had retired for the night is said to be responsible for the small list of injured.

FATHER SEES CHILD BURN.

Babe's Play Ends When Clothes Are Accidentally Ignited.
Seattle, Wash.—Playing within sight of his father, little Francis Gouthro, 4-year-old son of Ben Gouthro, a teaming contractor residing at 1503 East Seventh-seventh street, was burned to death this morning. The father had been working about the horses in the back yard, while the boy played in the wagon, and the two had been laughing and joking together. Suddenly the father heard a cry child running, less than ten feet away, child running less than ten feet away, his cotton jumper on fire and the flames blazing up about the child's head.

At the Play.
Mrs. Posey—Mercy, Hiram! Them awful society women dress like they was going swimmin'.
Mr. Posey—O' course, Jerusha. Haint you heard th' th' sauhul swim th' wimmen try to outstrip each other?

RICH ORE FOUND IN SOUTHERN OREGON

Medford, Or.—Southern Oregon is excited over a large number of mining strikes made in the past few days, which have sent many prospectors to the hills. The excitement culminated today, when Joe Perry deposited $1500 in gold dust in a Medford bank, the result of three days' work in a mortar with ore three taken from the Gold Hill mine, which was the most famous pocket mine ever found in this mining district. Perry is confident that he has again found the main ledge of this mine, which was very rich until lost. Assays of the ore in the new strike of the Mineral Hill mining property, made a few days ago, show values as high as $2750 a ton. Other and smaller strikes have been reported.

250 Miners Walk Out.

McAlester, Okla.—Following the walkout of 250 miners who quit because the official of the Bushy Coal Mine No. 5, refused to discharge a boss the properties were closed indefinitely today.

CRIPPEN'S ATTORNEY FACES DISBARMENT

CONDUCT DURING NOTORIOUS CASE WAS UNPROFESSIONAL

Law Society Requests Court to Deal With Arthur Newton Who Defended Dentist-Murderer.

London, June 27.—Arthur Newton, the attorney for Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who was hanged for the murder of his American wife, the actress, Belle Elmore, has been found guilty of professional misconduct in connection with the notorious case by a committee of the law society, and today the divisional court was asked to "deal with him." This constitutes a request that Newton's name be stricken from the roll of solicitors of the Law society. The court adjourned without announcing his decision. The charges against Newton are that he abused his privileges as a lawyer by aiding and abetting Horatio W. Bottomley, member of parliament for the south division of Hackney and the editor of a weekly publication, and also aided the Daily Chronicle to publish false statements regarding the case. These statements, it is alleged, as well as a letter purporting to have emanated from Crippen while he was in Pentonville jail. Newton caused to be published, knowing them to be false and with a view to deceiving the public and court. Newton is a well known and successful criminal advocate, and before undertaking the defense of Crippen had been connected with many cases of a sensational character.

DIVER'S DREAM OF WEALTH.
Bottle He Gets from Water Not What He Expects.
Atlantic City, N. J.—Harry Morris, a diver, was working about pillings on the bed of the Thoroughfare back of Ventnor recently. Before he had entered the water a bayman had related to him the story of a lost treasure supposed to be buried somewhere in that vicinity. When something bobbed up by his head and glistened, Morris had visions of a fortune. The object looked like a bottle of gold coins. He signaled to be hoisted. When he reached the surface the diver worked feverishly to remove his helmet. When it was off Morris looked down expectantly. It was a bottle of olives.
