

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

STRAY ANIMALS ANNOY RESIDENTS

(Special Correspondence.)
Hermiston, Ore., June 26.—In former years residents of the west end and especially the irrigated section, have been bothered with stock running at large. This can now be done away with entirely, as at last session of the legislature, a herd law was passed for the northwestern corner of Umatilla county. This law was secured by Senator Burgess.

A number of farmers around Hermiston, Stanfield and other sections, which this bill protects, have had a great deal of trouble, and in one or two instances stock has been taken up, but the farmers doing so were at a loss to know what to do.

The statelaw provides that parties finding stray stock may take the animals up and sell them unless the owner calls for same within fifteen days after due notice is given. The owners of stray stock must pay all costs for taking same up.

Business Changes.
J. G. Wagener has traded his remaining 29 acres of project land for a general store at Outlook, Washington. Mr. Wagner will not remove his family from Hermiston until later in the summer.

C. H. Oswald, manager of the Universal Sales & Exchange office, has been transacting business in Washington.

Frank Sloan and E. N. Wheeler were over from Stanfield yesterday looking over the Orchard company's holdings in which they have interests. They both expect to leave shortly for the east where they will sell Hermiston lands.

A. P. Garner of the U. S. R. S., has a force of men at work digging test holes on the Butte southwest of town. They are prospecting to see if sufficient rock can be found to riprap the proposed Butter creek reservoir.

2300 VOLTS FAIL TO KILL.
Portland Painter Terribly Burned, and Bruised by Fall Will Live.

Oregon City, Or.—For 10 minutes Harry Henderson, of Portland, employed in painting and steelwork on the suspension bridge across the Willamette river here, hung suspended 30 feet above the bridge roadway by a single power wire carrying 2300 volts of electricity. When the wire snapped Henderson fell. The force of the drop was partially broken by workmen from the paper mills who caught him. Several hundred men coming off shift witnessed the accident.

Though fearfully burned and suffering from bruises caused by his 30 foot drop, Henderson, the physician says, will live. He is now being cared for at the Wildwood hospital here.

Those who saw the accident say Henderson touched the power wire while painting and was then thrown across it so that he received the full force of the powerful current.

MUST WIRE ACCIDENT REPORTS
Railroads Ordered to Immediately Send Notice to Washington After July 1.

Washington, D. C.—Every common railway carrier will be required, after July 1, 1911, to report to the interstate commerce commission by telegraph "any collision, derailment or other accident" resulting in the death of one or more persons.

By the terms of an order issued today by the commission, the report must be sent "immediately after the occurrence of the accident" by a responsible officer of the carrier.

Details of railway accidents have not in the past been reported promptly to the commission. "In many instances they are obtainable only by circuitous methods. The commission being required by law to keep a record of such accidents, decided more drastic rules of reporting were necessary."

SUGGESTIONS FOR MILADY.

Ornamental Salad.
For an ornamental salad, soak half a pint of white haricot beans all night; cover with milk and boil slowly till tender, but not broken; drain and set aside to cool; then mix thoroughly with a dressing composed of one tablespoonful each of vinegar, minced parsley and chopped young shallots, with three of oil and salt and pepper to taste. In the center of a rather shallow glass bowl place the early white heart of an endive, trimmed into a not too straggling shape. The leaves of this must be loosened and laid again in its former shape. Now lay the beans around in a circle and pushing these aside in several places, fill the cavities with bacon. The pretty green, surrounded with white and flecked with narrow black lines, is very ornamental.

Cream Salad Dressing.
Beat the yolks of six eggs with half a cup granulated sugar. Add a cup of vinegar and cook in a double boiler until it thickens.

Remove from the stove and while still hot add a tablespoon butter and a tablespoon of mustard, having first been blended smoothly. When cold add a cup of cream beaten to a stiff froth. Keep in a cold place.

WANTS HIS PHIZ ON STAMPS.
Southerner Asks Hitchcock Cost of Displacing George Washington.

Washington, D. C.—A resident of Memphis, Tenn., has asked Postmaster General Hitchcock to send him the department's price list on stamps bearing individual photographs.

"I would like to get some stamps with my picture on them," the letter stated. "Kindly send me your price list for such work, also stating whether they will be reserved for my special use or will be used by anybody that wants to buy stamps. I want them to be for my own use only and would like to have them in the style of the George Washington stamp."

Ranchers Cry for Rain.
Astoria, Ore.—Unless relief from the present drought by heavy rains comes within the next week, dairy ranchers declare that the hay crop will be ruined in this section. Only the fields on the tidelands give any promise of even an average yield, and those on the upper lands will not produce by half their average.

There is not enough hay in sight to last until December, and prices of dairy products will go soaring unless rain falls soon. Many small dairy-men will be practically forced out of business. What is left of last year's crop is being held where possible, and will bring fancy prices should the crop fail.

Gold Excites Medford.
Medford, Ore.—Great excitement prevails in Medford as the result of the uncovering of a large body of rich ore in the Sterling gold quartz mine, nine miles to the southwest. The strike was made Tuesday afternoon, samples of the ore arriving here today. These samples show values exceeding $2900 a ton.

CONGRESSMAN KEEPS WIFE ON PAYROLL.
Washington, D. C.—When the clerk of the house of representatives reaches the name of Dies on the roll call, a tall, handsome Texan, who sits well back on the democratic side, is supposed to arise and answer yea or nay.

When the mail man calls at 3002 Bunker Hill road, Mount Ranier, Md., a suburb of the national capital, the same handsome Texan answers to the name of Marion Davis.

Representative Marion Dies of the second Texas district has been known in Texas and Washington for many years by that name, which is his real name. The people of Mount Ranier welcomed the Texan into their midst just about a year ago as Marion Davis and he is known by the name and none other there.

Representative Dies married Miss Genevieve Miller, his stenographer, some time ago and has not been seen about the capitol during the last six weeks. His friends could not account for his absence and were fearful lest some harm had befallen him.

When "Old Man Miller," a messenger in the house postoffice, was asked about his son-in-law he stated he knew absolutely nothing about him or his bride. He did not even admit that he was connected by marriage with the Texan congressman.

"Well, I'm Dies, all right," Mr. Davis admitted, when seen at his bungalow recently. "I'm the man you're looking for, I suppose. I have married the sweetest and best little woman in the world. We came out here to get away from people.

"We do not care for society and we want to save a little money. It's a fact that we are still drawing salaries from Uncle Sam, I as a congressman and my wife as a congressman's secretary, just as we drew two salaries before we got married. I do not see anything wrong in that. Many others do it.

"I intended to quit public life but I have changed my mind. I am going back to Texas and come back to congress or make an awful fight to get here, just because my private life has been criticized.

"My former wife and I were un-congenial. We separated. I had saved up $30,000. I let her divorce me and I gave her every nickel of the money that I had earned by hard knocks. I then married the woman I loved. We'll live where we please and how we please and we think it is no one's affair.

A Sure Method.
"Was your speech successful?"
"Not very," replied the statesman who does not deceive himself. "The only way I could get any great amount of applause was to say 'George Washington' or 'Abraham Lincoln' and then wait."

ASSOCIATES WITH ANCIENTS IN SLEEP

Sumpter, Ore., June 27.—The citizens of Sumpter are aroused over the mysterious actions of Gustave Frencher, a German lad, aged about 16. This boy recently arrived here from Germany and lives with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beyer. He can not speak English. For the last week he claims to be under the influence of an old-time German general, who in the feudal days fought a battle to the death with 15 opponents, and single handed killed the whole number.

At the time the lad retires for the night and sleep has taken possession of him, he says the visitor from the spirit land takes charge and for from two to three hours the youth is engaged in mortal combat with an imaginary foe, supposed to be French soldiery of the knighthood period. The weapons are real knives and a lance.

While the battle is on young Frencher makes a weird illustration of the way men battled in those days. The butcher knife must be sharpened to a keen edge for service to satisfy the youthful illustrator performing in his dreamland spectacle, and is wielded with dexterity. He slashes right and left, forward and backward, in circles and semicircles, and describes all the styles and parries of sword play in the most dramatic manner imaginable until the fight is over and the enemy slain.

WHOLE DAMM FAMILY IN IT.
Name Good Advertising, So Company is Incorporated.

Columbus, Ohio.—The whole Damm family has gone into the dry cleaning business. Not being ashamed of the name, and, incidentally, not overlooking any bets, the family has just incorporated the Damm Cleaning company of Cleveland, with $15,000 capital stock. The incorporators are A. J. Damm, J. L. Damm, E. A. Damm, Joseph Damm and J. M. Damm. This is the first time that an Ohio corporation has ever been formed by the Damm family.

MEXICAN WOMEN DEMAND VOTES FOR THEIR SEX.
Mexico City.—A petition signed by several hundred leading women of the capital and neighboring cities demanding the privilege of voting at the coming national election has been sent to President De La Barra. They contend that there is nothing in the constitution prohibiting women suffrage.

A club is being formed to promote the candidacy of Madero and Gomez for president and vice president respectively.
