FACE DISFIGURED WITH ECZEMA

Covered with Eruption to Back of Ears So They Hardly Knew What He Looked Like, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In 4 Weeks Face Fine and Clean.

"Our little boy Gilbert was troubled with eczema when but a few weeks old. His little face was covered with sore even to back of his ears. The poor little fellow suffered very much. The sores began as pimples, his little face was disfigured very much. We hardly knew what he looked like. The face looked like raw meat. We tied little bags of cloth over his hands to prevent him from scratching. He was very restless at night, his little face itched. We consulted two doctors at Chicago, where we resided at that time. After trying all the medicine of the two doctors without any result, we read of the Cuticura Remedies, and at once bought the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Following the directions carefully and promptly we saw the result, and after four weeks, the dear child's face was as fine and clean as any little baby's face. Every one who saw Gilbert after using the Cuticura Remedies was surprised. He has a head of hair which is a pride for any boy of his age, three years. We can only recommend the Cuticura Remedies to everybody." (Signed) Mrs. H. Albrecht, Box 883, West Point, Neb., Oct. 26, 1910. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin will be sent free, on application to Pottier Drug & Chem. BUTTERMILK NOT A DRINK.
Jury in Oklahoma Court Holds That Lactical Fluid is a Food.
Oklahoma City, Ok.—Buttermilk is a food and not a drink, according to a jury's decision in the district court here in the case of J. T. Sims and M. C. Moist against the Oklahoma City Jockey club.
Sims and Moist paid the club $200 for the soft drink privileges during the last year's racing meet.
When Sims and Moist attempted to sell buttermilk they were stopped by the management who claimed that their contract did not permit the sale of the lactical fluid, which it was asserted is a food.
