MOTHER FIGHTS TO KEEP HER CHILDREN

RESISTS CHARGE OF BEING INCOMPETENT

Authorities Will Continue Crusade Despite Fact That First Case Was Taken From Jurisdiction of County Court, Says District Attorney.

Despite the fact that their first case was taken from the jurisdiction of the county court, Judge Maloney, Deputy District Attorney W. C. E. Pruitt and other officers have no intention of abandoning the crusade which they have inaugurated to save young girls from lives of shame. Mrs. Whitworth, landlady of a local lodging house, whom the officers believe to be an unfit guardian for her two daughters, Gladys and Jaunita, appeared in the county court this morning to fight the case and her attorney, Charles H. Carter, cited the law to the effect that the circuit court has full power and control to determine the custody and maintenance of minor children and the case was therefore, dismissed.

However, Deputy District Attorney Pruitt declares that a petition will be filed in the circuit court this afternoon for the purpose of depriving Mrs. Whitworth of the custody of her daughters.

Developments Expected.
The case of Nora Lawson, the fifteen year old runaway girl from Colfax who was found in the Palace rooming house, will not come up for a day or so and, when it does, it is expected that some sensational developments will follow.

Since the announcement was made yesterday that the officers have started a crusade in behalf of girls of tender age, many citizens have expressed themselves as very pleased as it is a well known fact that there are many in the city who are being led astray.

Nebraska Campaign On.

Ogaha, Neb., July 26.—Both democrats and republicans of Nebraska begin their state campaign today, following the state conventions. The republicans met in Lincoln and the democrats in Fremont to formulate platforms and name the campaign officers. All candidates are chosen in primaries, and the law prevents the conventions from even passing a resolution indorsing any candidate. The officers selected by the conventions will not find it necessary to spend weeks in getting their organizations into line, as everything of that kind is placed at their disposal the moment the convention is over. As a result, the preliminary campaigning is in full swing today and will continue without intermission until election day.

Missing Girl Found.

New York, July 26.—Believing that Louise Swan, the 15-year-old girl who has been missing for more than a week is safe in Philadelphia, her father today withdrew the $1000 reward he offered for finding her. The action followed the receipt of an unsigned telegram from Philadelphia which said that she was safe and would write.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Berger Wins Another Game.

By the score of 6 to 3, Joe Berger, former Buckaroo and now with Centralia, won his game Sunday against South Bend and thereby added one more to his long list of victories.

Bridge is Further Delayed.

The steel for the new Main street bridge will not be here for another two weeks, according to latest reports and, as Engineer McLain is already for it now, the completion of the structure bids fair to be delayed.

Two in Police Court.

Two petty offenders appeared in police court this morning, one accused of being drunk and one of being drunk and disorderly. E. Fasta forfeited his bail of five dollars, while Bert Land, the latter, paid ten dollars.

Kern to National Shoot.

Lieutenant Vintner of Co. L has been notified by Captain M. S. Kern that he will be unable to attend the annual encampment this year on account of being appointed to take charge of the Oregon rifle team which will compete in the national shoot at Camp Perry this summer.

Ships Moorhouse Exhibit.

Ray Bishop, one of the managers of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, yesterday packed and shipped the famous Moorhouse collection of Indian and historic curios to Astoria where it will be exhibited in the woolen mill booth at the centennial.

Joy Rider Back Tomorrow.

Deputy Sheriff Blakely will not return until tomorrow with Harry McDonald, the chauffeur who is accused of stealing the Seely auto from a garage. According to Deputy District Attorney W. C. E. Pruitt, if the boy is prosecuted, the charge against him will be larceny from a building.

Eight Events for Matinee.

The program committee of the riding and driving club is preparing the events for the first matinee which will be held Sunday. They have announced that there will be four harness events and four running events which they figure, with the various heats of each event, will fill the afternoon from 2 until 5 without any delays.

Damon Lodge Elects.

Damon Lodge No. 4, K. of P., of this city, has elected the following officers for the ensuing term: J. W. Maloney, C. C.; J. C. McConnell, W. C.; Chas. Richmond, P.; W. A. Gibson, M. at A.; G. W. Coult, M. of W.; Fred Weber, I. G., and F. Rahe, O. G.; W. L. Gadwa, M. of E.; and R. W. Fletcher, K. R. S. and M. F., are holdover officers.

Asylum Plans Delayed.

That it will be two weeks yet before the plans for the branch asylum buildings are completed is the substance of a letter received this morning by Secretary Keefe of the Commercial Association from W. C. Knighton, state architect. The innumerable details, he says, require considerable time. Contracts will be let fifteen days after the completion of the plans.

Annual Meeting B. & L.

The Oregon Building and Loan association of this city held its annual meeting and election last evening at the office of Will Moore, secretary of the association. E. J. Murphy, T. J. Tweedy, Dr. C. J. Smith, Max Baer, R. Alexander, J. B. Perry and Will Moore were elected directors, and J. E. Montgomery, J. P. Earl and R. W. Fletcher were elected auditors for the ensuing year.

To New York for Operation.

Lester Swagart, well known local resident, is suffering severely from a malignant growth in the nose and throat and is to be taken to New York for treatment by specialists. He has been suffering from the trouble for some time and his condition has become such that it is considered serious. He is to leave tomorrow for New York where he will be operated upon by specialists.

Gathering Splendid Exhibit.

Not to be outdone by other sections of the county, Hermiston is preparing an exhibit for the annual fair which boosters from that town declare will surpass any collection of products of the soil ever displayed here by one community. Henry M. Summers, one of the directors of the fair association and a prominent member of the Farmers' Union, is superintending the collecting and has secured a building in which he is storing the products as they come in.

Seven Take Non-Com. Exams.

Seven members of Co. L reported at the Armory last evening to take the non-commissioned officers' examination. They were Corporals Wasler, Carroll, McGinnis and Roach and Privates Noble, Keating and Straughan. Only one branch was given last night, the other three being held until next week as there are several members in the country who are desirous of taking the test. The men are being examined in infantry drill regulations, field service regulations, manual of guard duty and provisional small arms firing regulations.

Exhibit at the Centennial.

At the Astoria Centennial Pendleton will have a prominent place through the exhibit of the products of the Pendleton woolen mills and the Moorhouse pictures. According to C. M. Bishop, who has just returned from the centennial city, the mill will have one end of the main building inside the stockade of old Fort Astoria, which has been reproduced. The other end of the building will be occupied by the exhibit of the Oregon historical society. The Moorhouse pictures will be exhibited in connection with the woolen mill products.

Councilman Slaps a Debtor.

Councilman John Dyer and Louis Belshaw appeared in police court yesterday afternoon, but after the testimony was introduced, Judge Fitz Gerald dismissed the case on the grounds that the former acted under provocation and the latter had received sufficient punishment. It seems that young Belshaw has owed Dyer, who is proprietor of the East End Grocery, a small bill for some time and was called into the store yesterday and asked to pay. The youth responded, it was claimed, with a blow on the adermanic nose, in return for which he received a choice assortment of slaps and a kick from the toe of the tall councilman.

Sues Slaughter House Owners.

Judge James A. Pee today instituted a suit against Ross Carney and Bert Whitman, owners of the slaughter house just east of the city limits. $7500 damages are asked and an injunction restraining the defendants from using the slaughter house. Judge Pee alleges in his complaint that he owns residence property near the slaughter house, valued at $7500, but that it is made inhabitable by the proximity of the said slaughter house because of the decaying and off-falls and by reason of the fumes from burning bones. He alleges further that he has attempted to secure the removal of this slaughter house but that the defendants have refused to comply with his request.

Skunk Goes Through Combine.

The combine harvester belonging to Lays Hanson, the well known farmer who tills the soil fifteen miles northwest of this city, can be smelled as well as seen and heard this afternoon as the result of threshing a well developed skunk in its internal machinery this morning. The little ororous animal was picked up on the draper along with the falling grain and the first the crew knew of the fate of the little creature was when fragments of raw meat began pouring out of the hopper and when the peculiar income for which a skunk is known began creeping out of every joint and crevice. Needless to remark the usual orderly progress of the combine was interrupted.

Liquor Seller Fined $25.

John Withee, the Palace rooming house proprietor, was fined $25 in police court yesterday afternoon after a trial in which he attempted to prove that he had not violated the ordinance. He brought in witnesses to show that he had purchased the beer at a saloon and had simply carried it to Pat Armstrong, the prosecuting witness. However, other testimony was introduced showing that he had charged Armstrong more for the beer than he had paid and thereby made a profit on the transaction. The ordinance states clearly, too, that it shall be illegal to peddle or deliver intoxicating liquors without a license. Armstrong's testimony was to the effect that Withee had provided him with liquor so that he was kept in his room drunk for a week and that when his money had given out, he was dismissed from the place. Attorney Peterson defended Withee.

GETTING TROPHIES FOR THE ROUND-UP

For the purpose of securing trophies for the different events at the Round-Up this fall, Frederick Stelwer, exhibition manager, today began circulating among the merchants of the city and in every case the response has been instantaneous. While the prizes, such as saddles and cups, for the big events have already been provided, there are many second and third place prizes and prizes for minor events yet to be furnished.

Last year the merchants responded liberally and there was a valuable trophy put up for every winner of a place in the many events. Inasmuch as it is a considerable task to see all of the merchants personally, Mr. Stelwer asks that all who desire to contribute merchandise as prizes notify himself or secretary Gwinn within the next few days.

The purpose of securing these trophies at this early date is to enable the publicity department to publish the complete list of events with the trophies offered.

Melons & Fruits

Copyright 1910 by E. E. Zimmerman Co. G. S.

Did you ever hear the remark, "Put all the big apples on top, John"--which meant that the small and spoiled fruit was underneath. Even if we wished it, that could not happen at this store. Our customers demand the closest inspection.

Besides, it does not pay us to buy any fruit but the BEST. One bad melon or peach will spoil a whole box, basket or barrel. We are therefore just as anxious to secure good melons and fruit as you are.

Our buying is done to please you and our guarantee is that we will gladly replace any spoiled fruit, that we may unwittingly sell you.
