HOT WAVE SCORCHING FRANCE AND GERMANY

Many Deaths Due to the Excessive Heat Are Reported. Paris.—Paris is sweltering in the worst heat wave experienced in the last quarter of a century, which is made more severe by the phenomenal drought, not a drop of rain having fallen for a month. The thermometer has risen steadily for the past eight days from 86 to 97. All indications point to a continuance of the heat for several days at least, and to add to the suffering of the people, there has been a partial breakdown in the main water pipes, which were discovered, necessitated the cutting off of the supply during the night. Many deaths from the heat have occurred, the daily average being six until yesterday, when eleven were reported.

BY SAILING SEAS 27 YEARS WILL AVOID RELATIONS

Millionaire to Roam Brine Until He Is 100, Secure from Cares. New York.—James B. Hammond, aged inventor of typewriters, had his fondest wish gratified when he was able to sail away from America and business worries aboard the Lounger II, a gasoline yacht built to his own design. For twenty-seven years Hammond intends to roam the seven seas, secure from annoying relatives and designing employees. No man is believed to have had so many enemies as Hammond. Because of his generosity to employees, some relatives had the millionaire inventor spirited away to a sanitarium on his sixty-ninth anniversary. They declared he was insane. It cost Hammond no little money and worry to prove the allegation unfounded. Hammond was accompanied by his secretary, Holmes; his nurse, masseur, chauffeur, his pet dogs, a canary and his phonograph. By the time he is 100 years old Hammond expects to come back and live ashore. Then he will present his boat to the government as a model of marine architecture. The Lounger II is 95 feet long, 16 feet beam, has a draft of three feet and can make a speed of fifteen knots under sail and power.

BOISE TO ENTERTAIN COMMERCIAL BODIES

Preparing For First Annual Meeting of Commercial Executives. Boise, Idaho.—The first meeting of the Northwest Association of Commercial Executives will be held at Boise, Idaho, August 23, 24 and 25, 1911. A very strong program is being arranged by the committee in charge and Boise Commercial Club promises something absolutely new in the way of entertainment. The Idaho State Press Association will also meet at Boise at the same time and there is reason to believe that the newspaper and commercial club men will succeed in having a good time. Among those who have accepted places on the program and the subjects assigned to them are Joseph E. Caine, secretary of Salt Lake Commercial Club, "The Troubles of a Commercial Secretary." A. L. Sommers, secretary of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, "The Northwest Association of Commercial Executives"; C. C. Chapman, manager of Portland Commercial Club, "What Constitutes Good City Advertising"; Francis Hope of the California Development Board, "The Exhibit"; W. R. Wells of Sunset Magazine, "Railroads as Community Advertisers"; W. R. Rothacker, manager of Industrial Moving Picture Company of Chicago, "Moving Pictures and Lantern Slides"; A. J. Breitenstein, secretary Missoula Chamber of Commerce, "Magazines and Periodicals"; J. E. Barnes, secretary Southwest Washington Development association, "How to Advertise Its Resources"; Rufus R. Wilson, Secretary Seattle Commercial Club, "The Efficient Secretary." A number of talks have not yet been assigned as the committee is making every effort to give each executive chosen to address the meeting that point which he is best able to cover.

HANNA TESTIFIES BEFORE HARDWICK COMMITTEE

New York, July 28.—L. C. Hanna, a brother of the late Senator Mark Hanna, today resumed his testimony before the Hardwick steel trust investigating committee. He said he owned 10,000 shares of Tennessee Coal & Iron company stock which he purchased with a view of developing the property. He recited the story of the midnight conference at the home of J. P. Morgan, which resulted in the trust gobbling up the company during the financial depression when the banks called in their loans and compelled them to sell.

FAMOUS INDIAN CHIEF CROSSES GREAT DIVIDE

Barnaby, Aged 75, Representative of Colville Tribe, Is Dead. Spokane, Wash.—Recognized for years as a great chief by the older Indians on the Colville reservation, spokesman in public affairs and representative of his people before the great white father at Washington, D. C., five years ago, Chief Barnaby of Daisy, died at the age of 75 years, according to information which reached Captain John McA. Webster, Indian agent, yesterday. Survived by One Son. Chief Barnaby is survived by a son, nearly 16 years of age but his only daughter, Mary, died two years ago at the age of 21 years. Captain Webster is of the opinion that Father Calhoun, the Catholic traveling field-missionary, will perform the funeral services, as an elaborate casket was secured from Colville. According to Captain Webster, a great potlatch will be held during the next few weeks, in which the members of the tribe will mourn their chief. Each will recite the crowning incidents of his career and the older members of the tribe will weep bitterly as the stories are told. A portion of his property will then be divided as it is customary for an Indian to will his best treasured articles of dress and horses to his best friends.

SOCIAL FIGHT ENDS IN GORELESS DRAW

Mrs. Ogden Mills and Mrs. John R. Drexel Bow to Each Other. Newport, R. I.—The battle for social leadership has ended in a draw after two weeks of warm campaigning in the ranks of the adherents of Mrs. Ogden Mills and Mrs. John R. Drexel. The cause of the cessation of hostilities is a profound secret, but the news was circulated through the cottage colony that the two commanders of the rival forces had bowed to each other in Bellevue avenue today, Mrs. Mills being with her mother, Mrs. M. Livingston, and Mrs. Drexel occupying an automobile. One story is that the battle for leadership was called off by the men folk, who declared that their business associations were becoming endangered by the social bickerings of their wives. Besides, Colonel John Jacob Astor is to arrive here soon and he has so many people to entertain that a social war at this time would interfere with his plans, a thing which none of the aspirants to social distinction would care to be responsible for. The news of the truce was received with joy, because even those who were not positively aligned with either party looked forward to a curtailment of invitations even though the entertainments should have been more lavish as the lines were being drawn closer and closer in the race for supremacy.

STORY OF DERELICTION OF WILSON UNTRUE

Ambassador Did Not Fail to Rise When National Air Was Played in Mexico City. Mexico City.—There is absolutely no truth in the story sent to the United States that Ambassador Wilson, at the president's breakfast here July 4, did not rise when the American national anthem was played. "I was present on that occasion," said Mr. Wilson of the firm of Wilson & Baz today, "and I assure you that nothing happened which by the greatest stretch of interpretation could be made to lend a particle of color to the story. The American ambassador did not on that occasion, nor on any other occasion, fail to rise when he should rise."

KILLING FOLLOWS MYSTERIOUS QUARREL

Killing of Wyley Hill at Decatur, Ala., Puzzles Officers. Decatur, Ala.—Wyley Hill is dead and Robert Langston is in jail here as a result of a mysterious quarrel at the home of the latter. Last night Hill and his wife spent the night with the Langstons. This morning the two women went to the spring for water and on returning found Hill dead on the floor with the entire load of a double-barrel shotgun in his back. Langston telephoned for the sheriff and immediately surrendered. When asked why he shot Hill, his only reply was, "I had to do it."

CLERK SHOOTS HIMSELF INSTEAD OF BURGLAR

Macon, Ga.—While playing detective in the hope of catching a burglar at the warehouse of Jacob Hirsch, where he is employed, George Skinner, the bookkeeper, shot himself in the leg. He is now at the hospital. He fired three times at the burglar and one of the bullets landed in his own body. Read today's want ads.

CANADA AND ORIENT TAKING AMERICAN GOODS

United States Commerce With These Countries Showing Steady Increase. Washington.—A review of the foreign trade of the United States during the last twelve months shows a steady increase in commerce with Canada and the Orient. Exports from the United States to Canada jumped from $216,000,000 to $279,000,000, and imports from Canada increased from $55,000,000 to $101,000,000; comparative increase in business with China and Japan also are evident. This country's foreign commerce for the year showed a marked decrease in imports and an increase in exports. The balance of trade, therefore, was substantially in favor of the United States, and American bankers have found enlarged gold balances to draw upon in the European money centers. Great Britain still is America's best customer. Exports to the United Kingdom in the past year totaled $576,000,000. Germany stood next with $287,000,000, and Canada third with $270,000,000. France was fourth at $135,000,000. What the United States owes to the rest of the world for imports, however, is quite another figure. England's bill is $261,000,000; Germany's $163,000,000; France's $116,000,000, and little Cuba claims $110,000,000.
