

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

Every person afflicted with an old sore realizes, sooner or later, that the ulcer exists because of bad blood; the character and condition of the place depending on the nature of the blood infection. Virulent impurities in the circulation produce angry, discharging ulcers, while milder, inert germs are usually manifested in the form of indolent sores or dry, scabby places. External treatment can never cure an internal trouble, therefore no one should depend upon salves, washes, lotions, etc., alone to cure a chronic sore. It is necessary to remove the cause before the place can heal. S.S.S. heals Old Sores by going down into the circulation and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. In addition to purifying the blood S.S.S. enriches this vital fluid so that the irritated flesh around an old sore is naturally and thoroughly stimulated, and a permanent cure results, because every morbid influence has been removed. S.S.S. is the best of all blood purifiers and therefore a natural remedy for old sores. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores. CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die. At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains. Cardui worked like a charm." There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back the Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually betokens age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hair in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair. It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by Pendleton Drug Co.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then seeps, pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fall. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budaahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at Koeppen's.

MODESTY SPELLS DEATH.

Matron Will Not Show Leg to Doctors, Dying.
Allentown, Pa.—Modesty is dearer than life itself to Mrs. Millie Vosek, a young matron of this city who is dying because she will not expose her right leg to the surgeon's view. She was bitten by a dog but doctors say they can save her from death from the rabies if they treat her leg but Mrs. Vosek declares she prefers to die rather than disclose the limb.
On her way home several weeks ago, Mrs. Vosek was attacked by a ferocious bulldog, the property of a neighbor. The animal's teeth made a severe and painful wound in her right leg, near the hip. Her husband begged her to allow him to call a physician but Mrs. Vosek, being of a very sensitive disposition, would not hear of the plan. In the secure privacy of her boudoir, she treated the wound with simple home remedies but they proved worthless, the leg swelling and rabies developing.
The husband called a doctor and explained his wife's ailment. The physician advised an operation Mrs. Vosek demurred. Her condition became serious and the doctors told her she would die unless she submitted her leg to them for treatment.
"I would rather die than expose my leg—ah—limb in the presence of a doctor," said Mrs. Vosek determinedly, modestly.
And the doctors say she will die.

HOG'S MEAL EXPENSIVE.

Pig Eats Coat of Farmer Containing Large Sum.
Hood River, Ore.—Charles L. Wheeler, a rancher of the Camas prairie country in north Klamath county, had the misfortune to have his coat eaten by a large hog, which at the same time consumed $700 in currency and valuable legal papers in a wallet in one of his pockets.
Wheeler had been walking fast, carrying his coat, and stopped near the cabin of a forest ranger, with whom he entered into conversation. During the talk they wandered away through a pine grove, while the coat was left on a small stump.
On returning Wheeler found that the hog, after having eaten the lunch in one of the pockets, had also chewed up and swallowed part of the garment in an endeavor to find further nourishment. In addition to the wallet containing the money and legal documents, one of the pockets contained a pouch of tobacco and pipe. Only the pipe was saved from the ruins.

RESENTS BATH; CUTS THROAT.

Negro Prisoner Attempts Suicide Because Jailer Washed Him.
Chillicothe, Ohio.—Angry because the county jail authorities had compelled him to take a bath, John Tarsons, a negro, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with the handle of a rusty tin cup. Tarsons was arrested several days ago. Hygienic reasons demanded that he be given a bath. After the bath had been forcibly given him with a hose Tarsons told the jailer he was going to "get even." "I ain't used to this sort of thing," he said; "I'm going to kill myself." He was found on the floor of his cell with his throat cut but will recover.

NAVY PROUD OF THE DELAWARE'S PERFORMANCE

Washington.—Once more the navy department is calling attention to the record-breaking performance of the battleship Delaware, the finest vessel in the U. S. navy. In the opinion of navy officers, she has demonstrated anew remarkable efficiency, endurance and sea-keeping qualities, superior to anything ever accomplished in any navy of the world.

The Delaware on its visit to the coronation naval review, left New York on June 4 with 2479 tons of coal, and 282 tons of fuel oil. She arrived at Tor Bay, England, June 16, and at Spithead, the scene of the review, June 19. She left Spithead on June 23, and arrived at Boston July 9.

While abroad she took on no fuel, engineering supplies or stores of any kind with the exception of fresh water, and on reaching Boston she had in her bunkers 607 tons of coal and 18 tons of fuel oil. Her average speed for the whole trip was 11.85 knots.

That is, after crossing the Atlantic twice, in a period of one month and five days, the Delaware still had sufficient fuel to steam 1500 miles.

Just previous to her departure from Boston, the Delaware returned from a cruise of 17,500 miles, the last leg of which was 4800 miles. On her arrival in port, with only a few hours' rest, she was sent out on a full-power speed and endurance test, without opportunity to examine her machinery. On this test she averaged higher than her contract speed of 21 knots.

RILEY'S FIRST POEM PRESENTED TO TAFT

Washington.—Though countless gifts, usually more notable as curiosities than for their merit are received at the white house. Secretary Hilles the other day found in the president's mail an offering of considerable literary value. It was nothing less than a copy of a hitherto unpublished poem by James Whitcomb Riley, which he himself has said was the first poem he ever wrote. It has been omitted from all collections of Riley's verse, owing to its purely personal nature.

The verse is dedicated to Hamilton J. Dunbar, who died in Greenfield, Indiana, September 5, 1876.

In 1876, according to the letter sent with the copy of the poem, James Whitcomb Riley was 23 years old, and engaged in the occupation of painting signs in his native town of Greenfield. Dunbar was one of his best beloved citizens. Riley knew him well, and idolized him.

Twenty years after Riley told this preacher, the Rev. Henry A. Butcher, a Methodist:

"When the services were over I went home and wrote a poem on Ham Dunbar. It was the first poem I ever wrote, and it gave me the idea that after all I might be something more than a sign painter."

BACK COVERED WITH MASS OF PIMPLES

Burned and Itched So He Could Hardly Stand It. Tried Medicines, Etc., Nearly 3 Years. In Eternal Misery. Started Using Cuticura Remedies. Now Has No Sign of Skin Disease.

"My troubles began along in the summer in the hottest weather and took the form of small eruptions on my face and a kind of stinging pain. It took me nearly all over my back and kept getting worse until finally my back was covered with a mass of pimples which would burn and itch at night so that I could hardly stand it. This condition kept getting worse and worse until my back was a solid mass of big sores which would break open and run. My underclothing would be a clot of blood.

"I tried various blood medicines and other remedies and salves for nearly three years and I was not getting any benefit. It seemed I was in eternal misery and could not sleep on my back or lean back on a chair. I was finally given a set of the Cuticura Remedies by my brother who recommended them to me very highly. I started using the Cuticura Remedies and inside of two weeks I could see and feel a great relief. I kept on using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and also the Resolvent, and in about three or four months' time my back was nearly cured and I felt like a new being. Now I am in good health and no sign of any skin disease and I am fully satisfied that Cuticura Remedies are the best ever made for skin diseases.

I will always recommend them to anybody who will use according to directions. I would not be without them." (Signed) W. A. Armstrong, Corbin, Kan., May 26, 1911.
For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp of infants, children and adults. Although sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin, will be sent free, on application to Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 27A, Boston.

Bays remains uncultivated and even oysters, grown in the Black Sea and described as "brackish in taste and in general unpalatable," are all but unknown. Oyster houses are almost unknown and even in Moscow, with its population of a million and a half of people, there are not more than a half dozen places where oysters may be purchased, according to consular reports.

The Black Sea oyster, which is not bigger than the end of one's thumb, sells in Moscow at 5 cents apiece in the markets, while in the restaurants a single stew costs $1.50. American oysters are all but unobtainable, can only be obtained from seven to ten cents in this country, bringing more than 50 cents in Moscow.

When the wealthy Russian oysters he is served, extend oysters which cost 12 1/2 cents to 20 cents apiece, Americans find it impossible to obtain freshly imported American oysters at any price.
