

S.S.S. FOR SCROFULA NATURE'S PERFECT CURE

Swollen glands about the neck, weak eyes, running sores and abscesses, pale, waxy complexions and frail, poorly developed systems, are the most usual ways in which Scrofula is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with the scrofulous germs that from birth the disease shows its presence. In other cases it is held in check during young, vigorous life, but when the system begins to weaken, especially after a spell of sickness, the disease will often manifest itself in some form. S. S. S. is Nature's perfect cure for Scrofula, made entirely of healthful roots, herbs and barks, a perfectly safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out all scrofulous matter, and supplies the blood with the healthful, vigorous qualities it is in need of. In this way it builds up weak, delicate persons and makes them strong and healthy. S. S. S. cures Scrofula because it is the most perfect of all blood purifiers. Book on the Blood and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

Kansas City, Mo.—He left his happy home for her, did E. L. Poindexter, the woman being Mrs. Jessie Poindexter, his bride of two months. Moreover, he lit out quite rapidly and made a dust down the main street of Tulsa, Ok., such as the oldest inhabitants had never before seen. It was with good reason that he proceeded on the hike, Poindexter alleges in his petition for divorce filed yesterday in the circuit court.

BOY KILLS HORSE THIEF.

Shoots to Save Life of Deputy Sheriff, Then Flees.

Oxnard.—H. L. Strong, a 16-year-old youth of this place, shot and killed an alleged horse thief near Vejar station Sunday, and becoming frightened at what he had done, Strong killed the man, whose name is not known here, to save the life of Deputy Sheriff S. L. Martin.

Martin employed Strong to assist him in the pursuit of the man, who was accused of having stolen a horse, saddle and bridle from the Wadleigh ranch.

The officer and his aid came upon the fugitive near Vejar station. When Martin called upon him to surrender he drew a pistol and revolver.

SOCIALISTS ALL TORN UP.

Secretary Resigns and Missouri Accuses Party Leaders.

Milwaukee.—J. Hanson Barnes, secretary of the national socialist party, has resigned. It is said the resignation will be accepted. Congressman Victor L. Berger favored such action. Barnes' action followed attacks on his character by a lawyer and a preacher in Chicago.

Angry words, denunciations and brandishing of fists marked the close of the forenoon session of the socialists' conference when G. W. Boswell, a socialist alderman of Maplewood, Mo., accused State Senator Gaylord of Milwaukee and Congressman Berger of disrupting the party in Missouri.

Many a man enjoys having his wife's relatives visit them so he can be detained downtown till midnight on business.

Orpheum.

A very interesting program for Friday's change.

1. "The Last Drop of Water." Biograph. A story of the great American desert. This subject was suggested by the lines to Sir Philip Sydney, who, upon the field of blood, dying, gave the drop of water for the sake of the brotherhood. Jim and John, long time friends, are the suitors for the hand of Mary. Jim is a chap of exemplary qualities, while John is a weakling and given to drink. Fate has it so that Mary accepts John. After their marriage they start off across the plains for more promising lands. Jim going along as one of the party. On the way over the great desert they are beset by hostile Indians.

2. "The Struggle for Life." Eclipse. Inez, a beautiful Spanish girl, is courted by Jose, whom she despises. In order to rid herself of his unwelcome advances she is forced to accept the aid of a young artist, George Barnes, who intimidates the intruding Jose. Jose swears to avenge himself and enlists the aid of two dissolute companions. When George with Inez, now his fiancée, plans to leave the village by stage coach, Jose and his aids hold the driver in secret while Jose in disguise takes his place. He drives to a remote spot upon the cliffs, where he attacks George with the intention of removing all opposition to his suit for the hand of Inez. George proves the stronger in this encounter and the villain is thrown from the cliff.

3. "On the Coast of Bengal." Eclipse. Synopsis: Calcutta-Harrison road—Typical Indian street scenes—Cows on the pavement—Tramps in the road—On the Hoorah bridge—Very mixed traffic—Gathering Cocanuts—Ascending Panorama from base to crown of the palm trees—excellent stereoscopic quality—Pounding grain for domestic use—A rubber plantation—Tapping the rubber trees—Collecting the rubber—Deeply interesting scenes—A camel caravan en route for trading purposes—Wild mountain scenery.

4. "The Strategy of Anne." Vitagraph. One little world—just two people in it, Anne and Bob, comfortably seated before the fire's glow in a little tea-table, absorbed in the oblivion of love. The stern parent of the young girl enters and commands the young man to make himself scarce and keep away from the susceptible young girl until she is of more mature age. To make sure, doubly sure, Anne's father sends her away to a boarding school. But not before she has acquainted Bob with the fact and tells him to follow her, that she cannot live without him.

Pendleton Beer THE BEST

Quality—quality first, last and all the time—is the watchword in the production of City Brewery Beer

You do not find it lacking in that "life" so necessary to give it the required zest.

You assist in providing employment for home labor, building up your home city and supporting institutions that place money in circulation here, when you buy home products in preference to those that are shipped in.

When you drink beer, insist on City Beer—on draught at the following places:

BILLY'S PLACE, W. J. Bogart, Prop.	OPERA BAR, Anton Kraft, Prop.

THE CRESCENT SALOON, J. H. Taylor, Prop.

The Pastime.

The show of quality. Program for Friday and Saturday.

"The Doomed Ship." Edison. Love and the miserly instincts of a shipowner furnish the situation for this picture. A young man engaged to the ship owner's daughter sails upon one of her father's vessels. The ship is unseaworthy and is wrecked. The boy kills the old man and almost kills the girl. But her lover is saved and one day as she sits mourning at their resting place, she suddenly feels the strong arms about her and her grief is immediately changed to joy. The wedding bells ring happily.

"Treasure Trove." Vitagraph. A tale of a hidden treasure, revealed to two sisters by the spirit of their father who appears to them and shows them how to find it. The final scene in this picture is a very pretty one, and altogether it is a very commendable picture.

"The Knight Errant." Selig. Lady Etarre, tiring of her young daughter, determines to do away with the child. The gatekeeper of the castle agrees to take the child to the hut of an old charcoal burner. It is done and she is reared as their own. Fifteen years later the knight errant while riding through the forest, is attracted by her pleadings and Loata is rescued. Loetta seeks employment as a page and becomes an attendant to the knight errant, who is preparing a trip around the world. They meet Lady Etarre and she becomes quite fond of the knight errant and asks a token of remembrance and the little cross that was placed on the Baby Yoetta 15 years ago, was offered her. In it she recognizes her last gift to her child. Well, suffice to say, the girl is saved.

"Caught in the Act." Polyscope Co. A refreshing comedy satire on the novel experience of an ambitious artist.

The Cosy.

A story of the sea. A stirring western tale, a delightful child drama, and a sparkling "Rex" comedy for Friday and Saturday.

"Portuguese Joe." Yankee. A great story of adventure on sea and land, with an ending that is just what you want. Ned, being corrected by his father, ran away and went to sea. He saw the brutal mate beating Joe, a poor Portuguese boy and gave the mate a severe thrashing. For his interference he was tied to the mast and flogged. The boy in rage killed the mate and escaped, while Ned was accused of the crime. Joe fell exhausted in front of a mansion and was kindly treated. Later he found he was in Ned's home and confessed his crime. At the trial the boy was acquitted and he and Ned both decided to live with the old folks. Beautifully tinted.

"A Child's Heroism." Eclair. This film has received the highest praise from the critics. A child drama that will stir your hearts. The little lad's mother was carried away and held prisoner. He disguised himself and sang beneath the window of his mother's room, who managed to have him admitted. While escaping, the villain appeared and the boy killed him with his own sword. He brought his mother safely home, where he received a great welcome. Finely colored.

"A Western Wait." American. An old miner and his daughter got lost in the desert and the old man died of thirst the girl was found by Jack, a cowboy and taken to the ranch. Jack is shocked to learn that the girl cannot read and sent her east to school. She returned to the ranch a polished young lady and Jack left a note telling her he loved her but was too rough to marry her. She followed him and soon convinced him that he was very much wrong.

"Securing Evidence." Rex. A comedy with a hundred laughs. Mrs. Jenk had a dress of such a loud pattern, that it could be seen a mile away. Mr. J., seeing the dress, and noting that the owner was with a male escort, engaged a camera man to follow them and get evidence of their duplicity. He chased them all over Coney Island, had some hair-raising adventures and then found it was only the maid who had borrowed Mrs. J.'s dress. Exquisitely tinted. "It's a Rex."
