NEWS OF ADAMS AND VICINITY

(Special Correspondence.)
Adams, Ore., Aug. 19. — Reverend George B. Cole of the Methodist church of Walla Walla conducted the funeral of B. A. Marquis at the family residence Wednesday, then the remains were taken in charge by members of the Odd Fellows lodge of which he has been a member for a number of years. A large circle of relatives, neighbors and friends attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Marquis of Spokane came down to the funeral of his brother, B. A. Marquis Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ferguson of Pendleton came up Tuesday to attend the funeral of her brother B. A. Marquis.

Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Crawford of the Tum-Lum Lumber Co., of Walla Walla, passed through Adams Friday.

Frank Whitley made a business trip to Pendleton Wednesday.

Mrs. Chester Grinnell left Wednesday for Heppner, Ore., to visit relatives for a short time.

Dr. Turley of Hermiston was an Adams visitor Friday.

Henry Collins of the Interior Warehouse company of Pendleton, was a business visitor in Adams Wednesday.

Mr. Davison of the Tum-Lum Lumber company of Walla Walla, was a visitor in Adams Wednesday.

Mrs. Charley Owens was called to Pendleton Wednesday by the death of her nephew, Clifford Dupuis, who was drowned in the mill pond at Pendleton.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.
"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of the Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

BASS PLACED IN UMATILLA RESERVOIR

(Special Correspondence.)
Hermiston, Ore., Aug. 19.—Yesterday six thousand black bass arrived, consigned to the government. They were immediately taken to the Cold Springs reservoir, where they were planted. The reservoir is already well stocked with trout, but it is thought by fish experts that the bass will do much better. For some time the reservoir has been a government fish and game reserve, so ample protection will be given both fish and game.

J. D. Rice has gone to Spokane, where he will look after business interests. Mr. Rice has a number of good properties in the inland city. Recently he traded $6 acres of his Hermiston holdings for four houses.

Mr. C. L. Downer is a Spokane visitor.

Miss Norma Giddings, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. O. M. Thomas near the reservoir for the past ten days, has returned to town. Miss Giddings is one of the many new arrivals, coming here from Buffalo, New York. She expects to spend the summer visiting her two sisters, Mrs. O. M. Thomas and Mrs. H. Blakley, returning to the east about January 1.

SPokane Women Serve on Jury; Acquit Man

Spokane, Wash.—Two prominent club women and suffragists were members of a jury of six, including two retired capitalists, a plumber and a builder, in the municipal court, where William Evans was on trial on the charge of stealing a duplicating machine. Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton, forewoman of the jury, returned a verdict of "not guilty" after 20 minutes' deliberation. Prosecutor Dill and Moyle Wick, counsel for the defense, addressed the arbiters as "ladies and gentlemen of the jury," while Justice George W. Stocker presiding referred to them as "gentlemen of the jury." The hearing occupied several days and was continued after a session of more than three hours, when Mrs. Hutton and Mrs. A. P. Fassett, the other member, expressed a desire to attend the circus. Mesdames Hutton and Fassett were the first women to serve on a jury in Spokane. Mrs. R. A. Wellman of Spokane, is the first woman summoned to serve on the September panel in the Spokane county superior court. The panel contains the names of 21 women in this county.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

WHERE LORIMER WAS LOVED.

(New York World.)
Lawrence B. Stringer, democrat, who sought to be elected senator from Illinois without a "slush fund" like Lorimer's, could not hold the democratic members; "the pressure from the other side was too strong." The "pressure" was local, though desperate attempts are being made to disprove it in the Washington inquiry now pending.

Witness Hines, by far the most agile rememberer who has testified in the case, says ex-representative Boutell of Illinois informed him that President Taft was anxious to see Lorimer chosen. Mr. Boutell, now minister to Switzerland, has cabled a denial. Mr. Hines, the lumber trust's star lobbyist, remembered earlier that Senators Aldrich and Penrose told him the same thing; and that on the strength of it he used the president's name to "put Lorimer over." Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Penrose remember differently, and Mr. Taft has repudiated the selection. One almost sympathizes with Senator Kenyon's view that some one must be a perjurer.

The anxiety to elect Lorimer was not so keen in Washington as in Springfield, near the "blue belt stuffed with bank-bills; and in Chicago, where the "slush fund" was raised. Did not Hines himself, when Lorimer triumphed, cry out, "I have beaten the president?" Why should he say that if he really believed Mr. Taft wanted Lorimer chosen?

Richard Yates, once Governor of Illinois, has given us a tear-compelling picture of that scene in Springfield when Lorimer was chosen by democratic members. "They felt very enthusiastic about voting for him," said Mr. Yates. "I heard one say as he cast his ballot, 'Thank God, the time has come when I can vote for Lorimer!' They shouted it out." But their joy was brief. Link, bribetaker, died of grief and shame. Holstlaw, bribetaker, lies ill at home, a broken man. His son has confirmed Holstlaw's confession of guilt. White has just explained in Washington that he took bribe-money "for the public good." Beckemeyer has repeated his confession of guilt.

Washington has never been very enthusiastic about Lorimer. Twenty two out of fifty-seven senators of his own party voted to put him out of the senate on much less testimony than is now made public by the new inquiry. But the delay in ridding the senate of the scandal of Lorimer has one decided advantage. He is useful, still unexpelled, as an object-lesson enforcing the need of a campaign-fund publicity act.
