

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of over-work without good, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil. After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

NEW U. S. DREADNAUGHTS READY ABOUT SEPT. 15
State ships Florida and Utah will be largest in Navy, eclipsing Delaware.

Washington.—The United States navy will soon be augmented by the sister dreadnaughts, Florida and Utah. The former will be placed in commission September 15 and the latter probably a few days before.

These will be the greatest ships now commissioned in the navy. The displacement of each is 21,825 tons and the main battery will consist of ten 12-inch and twenty-one 5-inch guns.

They will outclass the Delaware, which excited much admiration at the coronation of King George V and the North Dakota, whose displacement of 20,000 tons each has given them the distinction of being the biggest men of war afloat at the present time.

No announcement has yet been made by the navy department as to the course it will follow in connection with the handsome silver service containing pictures of Brigham Young which will be offered by citizens of Utah to the state's name vessel in the navy. Numerous protests against its acceptance have been filed.

TAKE WESTON NORMAL BLDG.

CR. Will House Its Schools in Main Structure.

Weston, Ore.—Weston council has decided to accept from the state board "temporary charges" of the grounds, buildings and contents of the Weston normal, reserving the right to accept or reject the tender of a deed to the property from the next legislature. Three councilmen favored a proposition to this effect and one opposed it. Two were absent. Mayor Brandt at once notified Governor West of the council's action. When officially confirmed in possession of the property the city will turn it over to the school district and Weston's public and high schools will be housed in the main building.

Why Should I Use Cuticura Soap?

"There is nothing the matter with my skin, and I thought Cuticura Soap was only for skin troubles." True, it is for skin troubles, but its great mission is to prevent skin troubles. For more than a generation its delicate emollient and prophylactic properties have rendered it the standard for this purpose, while its extreme purity and refreshing fragrance give to it all the advantages of the best of toilet soaps. It is also invaluable in keeping the hands soft and white, the hair lustrous and glossy, and the scalp free from dandruff and irritation.

While its first cost is a few cents more than that of ordinary toilet soaps, it is prepared with such care and of such materials, that it wears to a wafer, often outlasting several cakes of other soap, and making its use, in practice, most economical. Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but the truth of these claims may be demonstrated without cost by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. M, Boston, for a liberal sample cake, together with a thirty-two-page book on the skin and hair.

among her favorite pigeons, is approached by Jack, whose boldness receives a just rebuke. Two months later Jack agrees to take Molly's pet pigeon for a practice flight and makes the most of the opportunity. A few days later, Jack while driving his team comes across a half breed Indian who is unmercifully beating his horse. Jack stops the Indian's cruel treatment of the horse and chastises the half breed. Jack starts on a trip to the hunter, takes Molly's pigeon for a long flight. While on his way he is ambushed by the Indians. He scribbles a message on a piece of his handkerchief, attaches it to the bird, and sends it away. The message is delivered. Molly quickly organizes a rescue party and they arrive just in the nick of time.

2. "The Outlaw Samaritan." Another Esanay winner which will hold the spectators' interest from start to finish. It's a western drama with fine acting, genuine western scenes, a bully good story.

3. "Her Boy." A sick woman living in a squalid tenement has only her little child to support her. In order to do this the boy steals some flowers to sell, but is caught and taken to the police station. Here his story so touches the hearts of the police officers and the woman who caused his arrest that she begs for his release and visits his poor home. Being wealthy, she decides to care for the unhappy family and in the last scene we see them well clothed and happy.

4. "The Zylas." Pathe. A very clever acrobatic stunt.

5. "Coronation Naval Review Parade." Pathe. This picture is of the battleships anchored at Spithead, England, during coronation week.

6. "The New Officer." Lubin. Trouble certainly did trouble this poor cop. Oh! he put his foot in it at every step, and finally—sad to relate—was arrested as a suspected burglar. A sure gloom-chaser, with something doing every minute.

The Pastime.

The program for Sunday's show includes the following big features:
"The Mexican Joan of Arc." Kalem. The great empire to the south of us has often in the past been the theater of bloody and stirring events but we have no record of a more truly elemental tragedy than is told in this silent drama. It is a true story, well attested by the Mexican press and authentic American news dispatches. A plain woman of the people, content to be nothing more than a faithful wife and a loving mother is suddenly plunged into a fearful anxiety for the lives of her husband and sons. President Diaz, hold in his youth, resolute in his prime and bloody in his old age, causes the arrest of Talmantes and his two sons. They are torn from their family and condemned to death. The sentence is promptly carried out while the wife and mother pleads for mercy or delay with the drunken judge. The widow Talmantes swears to be avenged upon the judge Zefas and Diaz and becomes the Nemesis of the wretched Zefas and contributes not a little to the success of the insurrection and the dethronement of the tyrant. This story possesses a tragic power greater than that of "Joan of Arc."

"Money to Burn." Edison. Identified as a long lost heir to a large fortune, money handed to him in amounts, living in the lap of luxury, and then! The sequel is too good to tell.

"The Unfinished Letter." Edison. It's a dangerous thing to write a letter to another man's sweetheart. However, it all ended in a good laugh.

"The State Line." Lubin. A thrilling and touching tale of the west.

"As a Man Soweth." Gt. Northern. Powerful dramatic story, with a novel ending. One young man begins manhood in drunkenness. The other spends the night at home with mother. All through their lives the contrast continues, one sinking lower, the other rising higher. The first on leaving prison appeals to his old friend for help. Finally while in a drunken rage he has a fight with a policeman and is deported and in the concluding scene we are shown "the ocean between two lives."

"Foolishhead, Waiter." Itala. Mr. Foolishhead got a job as waiter to be near the girl he loved, and not being very experienced, he makes some terrible blunders at a swell reception and drives the guests away. After disposing of his rivals, he gets the girl and the old folks' blessing.

"The Perfume Clue." Pathe. A well acted, breezy story.
"Review of the French Army." A very interesting picture.

The Cosy.

Military story of the southwest, stirring western tale, a powerful drama of real life, and hilarious comedy for Friday and Saturday.

"Greater Love Hath No Man." Solax. A stirring story of New Mexico, with a military ending. Jake, a miner, was in love with Florence, the pet of the mining camp, but when the new superintendent arrives, Jake finds himself cut out. Discontent among the Mexican miners develops, and Jake hears them plotting to kill the super. He warns them of their danger just as the mob appears. They have one horse, which Jack forces the man and girl to take, while he stays behind and in a narrow pass, holds back the pursuers. A troop of U. S. cavalry comes to the rescue, but Jake has given his life for the one he loved.

"The End of the Trail." Nestor. Tom and Marion were estranged by the schemes of Neal, a bitter rival of Tom's, and in despair Tom went west. After two years Neal grew tired of his wife and joined Tom in the west, telling him Marion was dead. While on their way to Tom's cabin the two were attacked by Indians but managed to gain shelter. After a desperate fight they were saved by cowboys, but Neal being mortally wounded, confessed his trickery. Tom went east at once and got his old sweetheart.

"As a Man Soweth." Gt. Northern. Powerful dramatic story, with a novel ending. One young man begins manhood in drunkenness. The other spends the night at home with mother. All through their lives the contrast continues, one sinking lower, the other rising higher. The first on leaving prison appeals to his old friend for help. Finally while in a drunken rage he has a fight with a policeman and is deported and in the concluding scene we are shown "the ocean between two lives."
