PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Beatrice Johnson of Milton, was a visitor in the city last evening. Col. H. G. Newport of Hermiston, came up from the west end yesterday and is spending today in the city. Earl Gillanders, well known Meacham merchant, came down this afternoon on No. 17. I. W. Durrill of Echo, came up from his home yesterday and spent the night in the city. W. W. Steiwer, Jr., of Hermiston, spent the night in the city and is transacting business here today. Arthur G. Means of Umatilla, arrived today on No. 17 from Meacham, where he has been spending a week, and will leave this evening for his home. C. S. Wheeler, the photographer, returned today from New York where he had taken his brother-in-law, Lester Swaggart, to a specialist for treatment. He reports Mr. Swaggart getting along exceptionally fine and declares he will be able to come home in about two weeks.

SEEKS CIGAR BAND NEAR GIRL'S NECK; FINED $25

Chicago, Ill.—John Egan, 19 years old, 2860 West Madison street, will probably be very careful hereafter where he throws his cigar bands, for one was caught by a fitful little breeze in Garfield park last Saturday night just $25 and costs to retrieve. Municipal Judge Uhler imposed the fine yesterday in the Desplaines street court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Egan was sauntering through the park, puffing a huge cigar on which there was a large elaborate band, when he saw a young girl wearing a low neck dress walking ahead of him. According to his story he was just removing the band when it accidentally slipped down the back of the girl's waist and he reached down through the neck of the dress to recover it. Whereupon the young woman screamed and Park Policeman Edward Coy came to the rescue. "It was an accident, Judge," Egan told the court. "She had on a low necked dress and I dropped my cigar band down there and wanted to recover it." Coy's testimony was different. "He stopped the girl, your honor," he said, "and when she turned around he blew smoke in her face and reached down the back of her neck." The testimony did not show whether or not the band was recovered.

TO GATHER THE ARMY AT LARGE STATIONS

Washington.—The concentration of the army at large stations, strategically stationed for military purposes and the abandonment of the small posts is under consideration by the war department.

The idea of the scheme which requires the sanction of congress, is to construct in the vicinity of cities or large towns compact barracks each to hold an entire regiment. Most of the commissioned officers, according to the plans, will find accommodations within the city, obviating the necessity of building extensive officers' quarters on the reservation.

It is proposed to locate the greater part of the infantry in the northern states and the cavalry and field artillery in the south where forage is cheap and where horses may be kept out practically the entire year.

TONS OF BAD EGGS DUMPED ON CHICAGO

50,000 Condemned in Kansas City, and Interstate Traffic Goes On. Kansas City.—Following dispatches from Chicago that bad eggs were being sent from there to Kansas City, Harry F. Guyette, deputy state food and dairy inspector, declared that thousands of dozens of eggs which have been condemned as unfit for food here are shipped to Chicago. He says the inspectors have no right to stop the shipments, as such action would be in violation of the interstate commerce law.

Since July 12 more than 50,000 dozen eggs have been condemned in Kansas City. That is about half the eggs landed here in that time and means a loss of the finest food worth more than $10,000.

DEER TEAM WILL LEAVE FOR TRIP TO NEW YORK

San Francisco.—The American white-tailed deer driven by Frank Clemens, and attached to a light wagon, will start from this city in a day or so for New York City. Clemens has trained the deer for a year and they appear well broken. The harness is similar to that used on horses and the animals obey in a docile manner the driver's commands. Clemens believes that he will make the trip in three months. His ultimate destination is Europe. The deer were captured when quite young, near Sand Point, Idaho, Clemens' home.

ROYAL NUN VISITS N. Y.

Hawaiian Princess on Way to Enter Convent at Honolulu. New York.—Sister Mary Alida, a real princess in the garb of a nun, is in New York City on her way to Hawaii, where she will enter the house of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart in Honolulu. She is a Hawaiian of royal blood and has been studying in France for six years. Her mother, a princess only two steps removed from the Hawaiian throne, married Wang Leong, a wealthy Chinese.

Her daughter, who was regarded in Hawaii as a great beauty, decided, on becoming of age, to go into the church. She is a talented musician and artist and speaks eight languages.

QUEEN DISFIGURED BY BAD BRITISH WASPS

Disrespectful Insects Attack Her While Taking Tea on a Ducal Lawn.

London.—Queen Ena of Spain, passed through London this week absolutely unrecognized. This failure of recognition was not due to any attempt to preserve an incognito, but to the simple fact that her majesty was unrecognizable.

The secret lies in the one word—wasps. The English are particularly fond of declaring that one can take one's ease in the country even in the tropical spells without being annoyed by the venomous insects against which one has to wage a perpetual war in the United States. But, while it's true mosquitoes are practically unknown, it is equally true that wasps are as much in evidence. And so the queen of Spain found.

The English wasps are indeed the plague of English house parties, one of whose standard pleasures is that of taking tea and marmalade on the lawn. Queen Ena was a guest of the Duke and Duchess of Westminster at Eaton Hall, and while enjoying the afternoon reception the party was attacked by a swarm of wasps. All the party was attacked, but Queen Ena was the center of a particularly vicious attack and before the hostess and guests could escape, she was so badly stung in the face that it swelled out of all recognition. So disfiguring were the swellings that Alfonso, who has been spending a few care free days with ex-King Manuel and his mother at their Hampton Terrace residence, scarcely knew the swollen features of his wife.

PRETTY HELLO GIRL CAPTURES REAL PRINCE

Scion of French Monarchy Coming to Los Angeles in Hope of Winning His Suit.

Los Angeles.—Prince Eugene Arlemere Du Bois, scion of one of the most famous families of France, is coming to Los Angeles to press his suit for the hand of Miss Michelle Le Grand, the petite and pretty telephone operator at the Hayward Hotel, whom he met while she was on a visit to her aunt in Paris, and which lasted two months.

Despite his avowed determination to win her, Miss Le Grand says that the visit of the prince to Los Angeles will avail him nothing, as she has no use for noblemen. When she returned from Paris to New York, Miss Le Grand found a telegram awaiting her from the prince, announcing his intention of visiting her in Los Angeles. She arrived in Los Angeles this afternoon. "While on my way to the railroad station in Paris, Prince Du Bois proposed to me," said Miss Le Grand, "and I told him that such a thing as matrimony had not yet entered my head. If he comes here he will have his trouble for his pains."

One Minister in Hood River Refuses to Join War Against Them. Hood River, Ore.—"If the city council closes the Sunday moving picture shows, why should they not also cut out Sunday baseball games, or all other forms of business?" says James R. Hargraves, pastor of the Heights Baptist church. "For this reason I refused to sign a petition circulated by a number of church people of the town asking that the electric theaters be closed on Sundays."

The petition has been presented to the city council and will be acted upon next Monday night. The movement was started by a number of the ministers of the city, and the petitions were signed by many business men. The ministers claim that the electric theaters reduce the Sunday evening congregations. The Heights minister, however, has his church crowded every Sunday night. The city has three electric theaters.

the teeth that he is under treatment in St. Mary's hospital. The fish belonged to William Matton, who was proudly displaying the catch to his friends, when the Williams boy toddled up and began to fondle the biggest of the lot, an eight-pound catfish. The fish was still breathing, though it had been out of the water for several hours, and without warning it raised its head and snapped at the little fellow, firmly gripping his hand. It required several minutes to pry the big jaw open and release the lit-
