ing attorney responsible to the people for faithful performance of duty and not to a district attorney in some other county, as, for instance, the district attorney in Marion county appoints a deputy in Tillamook county, and the deputy answers to no Tillamook interest or the citizens for what he does, but only to the district attorney in Marion county. Under the new order salaries decreed the commission, may be adjusted according to population and amount of work to be done, but, in any event, the annual saving to the state will not be less than $20,000.

The non-political judiciary planned by the commission will provide for the election of judges absolutely apart from any political designation. It is a good deal the same idea as electing commissioners under the commission form of government upon a basis of merit and qualification, and permitting no use of party emblems or politically turned campaigns.

Strike Popular Note.
In this strike of the commission believe they have struck a popular note that will appeal tremendously to Oregon people and result in large support for an initiative law.

VINCENT ASTOR WILL NOT ATTEND FATHER'S WEDDING

Indignantly Denies He Has Been Very Attentive to Miss Force, Sister of Prospective Mother-in-Law.

Newport, R. I.—Vincent Astor said he had no knowledge of the plans of his father in regard to his marriage. To his friends Vincent said he would not be at the wedding, wherever it takes place, and he indignantly denied the story that he had been attentive to Miss Force, sister of his prospective mother-in-law.

Scores of young women consoled with Vincent yesterday on his defeat at the Casino courts by J. Stacy Brown Jr., the principal considerer being Miss Roberta Willard and Miss Elizabeth Sands. Vincent is attentive to each of these handsome and popular young women.

PLAYS ROLE OF DON QUIXOTE

Man's Solitude for Another's Wife Decries His Own.

Salmon, Idaho.—Milton H. Phillips, manager of the Italian mill at Leesburg, has been arrested at Pocatello for the charge of having abducted the wife of Charles Zerhill, a miner. It is alleged Zerhill was cruel to his wife, who was 21 years old, and the mother of a 2-year-old child. Phillips is said to have listened to the woman's plea to take her to a place of safety. He was on his way to Columbus, Neb., where he was going to be married. Acting on the impulse of the moment Phillips bought a ticket for Mrs. Zerhill to Pocatello. Learning that Zerhill was hot on the trail, Phillips took the woman to Salt Lake Phillips then returned to Pocatello where he was arrested.

Sympathy appears to be with Phillips, who is credited with having acted in the spirit of a Quixotic knight.

St. Marie's Home Is Burned.

St. Marie's, Idaho.—The residence of John W. Skelton was burned and the fire was the worst that the town could make on Monday. The house was a total loss. The house and contents insured a loss of $10,000, with only $3,000 insurance.

BLIND MAN MADE TO SEE.

New Yorker Cures a Case That Baffled European Specialists.

New York.—Through one of the most remarkable of medical operations ever performed, Dr. H. D. Chapin, a Cleveland physician and literary man who lost his sight during a trip across the Syrian deserts seven years ago, can now see. Two days ago he saw his wife distinctly for the first time since they were married four years ago.

Dr. Chapin, falling ill, had an opportunity in Europe to India, where he would accept his case came to New York, where Dr. Arnold Knapp performed the operation.

It consisted of cutting the outer wall of the eye, putting back the epithelial coat and part of the cornea, and getting to the inner wall.

This of itself was operations, but a cure was made possible in the various cases that have been held so that none of the blind could escape the superior part of the eye, causing the blindness was cut away.

TO STOP SOCIETY DIVORCES.

Philadelphia Plan a Unique Show With a Deep Purpose.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Philadelphia society is to have "Anti-Divorce Attention" for the purpose of preventing future society divorces, if possible. These afternoon affairs are to be illustrated with moving pictures, which will be staged by Thomas McKean Jr., the novelist and society man.

At present he is working in conjunction with twelve actors and actresses. Together they are making a study of domestic situations. The moving pictures will be accompanied by speaking parts in which "cues" words and family rows will be made as realistic as possible.

Mr. McKean refuses to tell just how he proposes to portray faithfulness on the part of husbands or wives, but declares even this will appear in the pictures.

CAT CARRIES ARM AWAY.

Undertaker Can't Find Missing Member Until Animal Runs From the Woods.

Chico, Calif.—When C. C. Richardson, an undertaker, went to pick up the body of a tramp killed by a train on Wednesday he left one of the arms lying for a moment on a canteen. When the undertaker turned to get the arm it had disappeared. Richardson could see for miles in every direction. Not a soul was in sight. He vainly searched for several rods. A large cat suddenly ran from a clump of weeds 100 yards distant. The arm was found in the weeds.

MRS. FORD'S EFFECTS SOLD AT AUCTION

Household Goods of Woman in Big Four Embezzlement Case Are Disposed of—Curiosity Seekers and Friends Are Purchasers.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—The effects of Mrs. Jennett Stewart Ford, the woman in the Big Four embezzlement case who was accused of having obtained thousands of dollars by blackmail from defaulting officials of that road, were sold at auction and though they were valued at several thousand dollars they brought less than one-fourth that sum.

Many friends and twice as many curiosity seekers attended the sale at the waterworks of the Stacey Storage company, Gilbert avenue. The piano was sold for $250, the largest item on the list.

An ice box, in which had been cooled the champagne of the bygone days, was sold for 30 cents. Six sofa pillows were sold for 50 cents.

Dr. Held of the hospital where she has been since her trial in which the jury disagreed brought an electric reading lamp for $1.75. Dr. Goldner bought many of the smaller articles. It is believed that many of Mrs. Ford's friends attended the sale merely to buy things in for her. When the auctioneer came to a tin brass bed, in which she had been used to play, he stopped. He called up hospital where Mrs. Ford is and asked if she desired to sell these things. "No," sobbed the woman over the phone.

"Save those just as remembrances for my little ones." And the auctioneer asked for no more bids on the mementoes. Mrs. Ford's last public appearance was during the trial of Edgar S. Cook of Chicago, who was acquitted. She testified then that she took the money secured by bank to New York and deposited it in a bank.

FISH POISONED BY MILLIONS.

Tannery Blamed for Polluting River With Refuse.

Winchester, Va.—The United States Leather company, which operates several tanneries in Hampshire and Hary counties, West Virginia, is to be prosecuted by state authorities for polluting Capon river and destroying millions of speckled trout and black bass and other game fish. A large quantity of refuse matter from the tanneries poisoned the large fish, minnows and turtles, and long irregular lines of buzzards can be seen from every hill crowding to the river banks to eat the dead fish, while a nauseating stench is carried by the wind for miles.

THIEVES CARRY OFF HOUSE.

South Hunting for Missing Two Story Frame Structure.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Someone stole and carried away a two story frame house belonging to the city. The building stood on the West Thirty-eighth street playgrounds.

The discovery was made by Assistant Park Superintendent Starkey and the thief or thieves had left the hole in the ground above which the dwelling stood. The foundations, too, were not heaved. The police are trying to learn who took the building.

Several weeks ago the city bought several lots and a frame dwelling on West Thirty-eighth street, near Fulton road. The building was in good condition and the city officials decided to let the building stand as a structure, place for the playground equipment. When the city officials started to inspect the building they found it missing.

REQUESTS FOR EDUCATION.

Congressman's Will Leaves $200,000 for Four Free University Scholarships.

Cum gratia, N. J.—The will of congressman Henry C. Loudenshler, executor of an estate valued at $250,000. A like amount is given to create two free scholarships in any of the recognized colleges or universities.

Ill-fated Shot in White Fish Row.

White fish, Mont.—C. A. Hildard Jr. in the hospital suffering from a gunshot wound received from an Italian, Sam Naccorato, on First street, near the restricted district. Officer Taylor accompanied the ambulance and had Hildard conveyed to the hospital. He then arrested the Italian.

Fine program for Tuesday's change:

- 1. "During Cherry Time." Lubin. A novel love story in which sweethearts and lovers were shifted twice. A dazzling actress amused herself with the maid of the lover of a well-to-do simple maid. And in the end she used her arts to reunite the pair. Very cleverly acted.
- 2. "Love in the Hills." Essanay. A Kentucky mountain story of fine quality. Rugged scenery, splendid acting and an excellent story. A feature in every sense of the word.
- 3. "The Unexpected Gift." Pathé. Away in Providence is a mother left childless by the death of two of her children. That Sunday at mass she tells the curate of the parish of her great sorrow. Strange to say, that same day a little baby was left at the door of her church by unknown hands. The curate, being a kind-hearted man, makes a great big egg, puts the baby in, ties it up with a ribbon and sends it with a note to the childless mother. The story is beautifully told.

4. "In Cambodia." Pathé. A picture well worth seeing in every respect.

5. "Funny Fishing." Pathé. The absolute acme of excitement is here.

6. "In the Baggage Coach Ahead." Edison. This film portrays the story of the well known ballad which enjoyed great popularity some years ago. The film is an artistic creation. The illusion of the story told is handled in a new and effective manner.

The Pastime.
The house of quality. A fine program for Tuesday's change: "The Romance of a Dixie Belle." Kalem. A story of love and loyalty, featuring Gene Gauntier as Shirley, Shirley and Nell, school chums, young eternal friendship. The girls graduate and leave for home. Three years later Shirley meets Norman Logan at a Xmas party and falls in love with him at first sight. A few days later Shirley invites Nell to her home. Soon after her arrival Shirley sees the mutual attraction between Norman and Nell and learns what it is to be jealous. Shirley by chance overhears Norman vow his love for Nell. Nell immediately leaves for home and soon after they are married. Three years later on the breaking out of the civil war Norman leaves for the front. While on a secret service mission he is pursued and takes refuge in Shirley's home. She saves his life but her love for the country's flag proves the stronger. She demands at the point of a pistol he deliver the dispatches he is carrying. As refusal means death he surrenders the dispatches which Shirley quickly destroys.

"A Fair Exchange." Selig. A situation fresh in moving pictures gives life to this sprightly melodrama. The heroine, a fine horsewoman, after a hard chase, captures the bandit's sweetheart and she is rewarded by being able to write to the bandit in substance "You have my lover. I have your sweetheart; let's exchange." This is a thriller from start to finish.

"A Thru." From the opera. Edison Co. This tragic story is told simply and clearly by the aid of finished and dignified acting. It is a feature film beyond the possibility of criticism.

"Billy's Marriage." American comedy. Billy is in love with a lawyer's daughter, outwits his sweetheart's father by eloping with the girl and marrying her.

"Monuments and Cascades in Rome." Pathé. A beautiful picture of a most interesting city.

The Cosy.
For Monday and Tuesday. A "Thanhouse Kid" feature, a great sea story, an exciting western drama and a delightful story of heart interest.

"Two Little Girls." Thanhouse. A "Thanhouse Kid" feature with the wonderful little child actress in the title role. A young wife eloped with another man, who, in turn, left her. She managed to support herself and child till a fire destroyed her home, and worn out, she died. Her husband in the meantime had married a widow with one child. The little girl reached a city and while watching the children playing was invited to take part in the games and later the little girl took the shabby stranger home with her, where she found her father

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Devittville, N. Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches, and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. A. A. GILES, Route 44, Devittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

"The Pony Express." Neston-Simpon, a highwayman, posing as a rancher, tried to win the love of Jack's sweetheart Polly Simpson attempted to hold up the pony express but was defeated by Jack. Later the outlaw learned that the pony express would carry a large sum of money, and laid for it, but again was fooled by Jack and captured. Jack got the message of Polly's father to their marriage.

"Just for Her." Imp. Gerald and Wilbur, bank clerks, both love Grace, and Wilbur finally wins her. Later some money is missing from the bank and Wilbur confesses to Gerald that he took it and to shield Grace, Gerald shoulders the crime and served a term in prison. Wilbur finally killed himself, first writing a letter confessing his guilt. A pardon was secured at once. Gerald was reinstated in the bank and married his old sweetheart Grace.

"The Sea Vultures." Yankee. The wreckers having lured a ship on the rocks by false lights, are surprised to find a child in the wreck which the leader adopts. Years later the girl persuades her foster father to reform and when the gang is captured by the revenue men after a terrible battle among the rocks, she and the young officer in command fall in love at first sight, while her adopted father is happy in the knowledge that he has escaped the fate of his companions.

JUDGES WITHOUT POLITICS ADVISED

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS

Would Also Eliminate District Attorney and Elect County Attorneys Instead—Revolutionize Oregon Court Procedure to Be Reorganized.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 28.—The judiciary revision commission appointed by Governor West held its first working meeting in Portland Saturday and took action that will result, it is believed, in revolutionizing Oregon judicial procedure.

The commission agreed upon the elimination of the political judge, and decided that in the state should be done away with, likewise the district attorney. The basis of a plan for eliminating the dilatory motions of the dilatory attorney in the dilatory court was made. The compilation of a report to the governor was commenced. This report to be in the form of proposed laws as popular issues to be submitted to popular vote.

The elimination of the county court, according to the agreement of the commission, would reduce the county judge to the ranks of county commissioner, and the transfer of all probate work to the circuit court.

34 County Judges.

In Oregon there are now 24 county judges with an annual salary roll of $35,000. The commission pointed out that all the work of county judges in the probate line could be done by adding four or five judges to the circuit bench at an annual cost of about $15,000, thus saving to the state $20,000 a year by this one act, and expediting the hearing of probate cases. Whenever a probate case is circuit court, then to the supreme court. The commission decided that probate work might better go direct to the circuit court and save that much time and expense, this being in line with its general policy, which is:

To simplify court procedure. To cut down current expenses both to litigants and the general public. To expedite dispositions of cases at issue.

Multnomah County Plan.

A special plan for Multnomah county was made. Here the elimination of the county judge would be accompanied by the addition of a judge to the circuit bench. The new circuit judge would receive $4,000 where the county judge receives $2,000, but he would handle the juvenile court work for which one of the circuit judges is now paid $5,000 a year, and the county court billiffs' costs and other expenses would be added to swell the $3,000 to $4,000 in consideration of the new judge handling not only probate and juvenile work, but non-probate and divorce cases—in short, all cases dealing with domestic relations.

Getting rid of district attorneys, according to the commission's plan will involve the election of a county prosecuting attorney for every county. Now a district attorney as such may have jurisdiction in several counties, he having power to appoint deputies, one for each county. The district attorney gets the long end and the deputy the short end of the salary question. The district attorneys, and their deputies' pay roll aggregates $89,000 annually.

$29,000 Annual Saving.

The commission agreed that the new plan would save the state annually $29,444. It would also result in electing four for each county a prosecu-
