

Pendleton Beer THE BEST

Quality--quality first, last and all the time--is the watchword in the production of City Brewery Beer

You do not find it lacking in that "life" so necessary to give it the required zest.

You assist in providing employment for home labor, building up your home city and supporting institutions that place money in circulation here, when you buy home products in preference to those that are shipped in.

When you drink beer, insist on City Beer--on draught at the following places:

- BILLY'S PLACE, W. J. Bogart, Prop.
- BREWERY DEPOT, Paul Hemmelgarn, Prop.
- OPERA BAR, Anton Kraft, Prop.
- STATE SALOON, H. J. Latourelle, Prop.
- THE CRESCENT SALOON, J. H. Taylor, Prop.

Miss Etta Beamer, who has been working in Athena for the past few months, was in Weston Sunday on a visit to friends and relatives.

Mr. Samuel Reynolds of North Yakima, is in Weston looking for a place to bring his family to reside while he assists James Ashworth in the work on the Hot Lake sanitarium near La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wurzer went Monday morning to Walla Walla to visit relatives.

Mr. Frank Greer and family went Monday to Walla Walla to attend the circus.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Worthington were in Weston Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Kinnear.

A heavy smoke is hanging over Weston and it is thought that it is caused by forest fires.

"STORE" TEETH; NO TAXES.

Connecticut Farmer Offers Queer Plan for Exemption.

New Britain, Conn.—Is a man with false teeth exempt from a poll tax? This question will be decided by the Connecticut courts this winter, having been brought up by a claim for exemption filed by a New Britain farmer.

Under a curious law which has been on the statute books since the Civil war, a man with false teeth is not liable to military duty. The farmer claims exemption from the personal tax, which is levied in lieu of military service.

KING OF GUNS FOR CANAL.

Sandy Hook's Sixteen-inch Defender to be Transferred to Panama.

Sandy Hook, N. J.—The big sixteen-inch gun at Sandy Hook may be taken away by the War Department to become a part of the defenses of the Panama canal, according to advices received by army officers.

The gun has been shown by official tests to be the most powerful piece of ordnance in the world. It will send a 2,400 pound projectile through the thickest armor known to naval construction and then explode a charge equal to 140 pounds of the highest explosive.

WED ON TELEPHONE LICENSE.

Bridgmont Had Lost Official Document on Way Home.

Charversville, Pa.—A telephone message had to serve as the marriage license of James Hagen, aged 70, and Elizabeth A. Bastard, aged 40, when the pair presented themselves before Rev. George A. Roemer. Hagen had procured a license all right, but unfortunately he lost it on his way back from Doylestown.

In this dilemma, not wishing to delay the happiness of the couple, the minister telephoned to the Orphans' court clerk to have the granting of the license verified before performing the ceremony.

This is Hagen's fourth matrimonial venture, his first wife having died in 1862, the second in 1871 and the third in 1909. The new wife has never before been married.

SCHOOL BEGINS SOON AT HERMISTON

(Special Correspondence.)

Hermiston, Ore., Aug. 29.—The opening of the Hermiston public school will take place one week from today. The school house is undergoing an overhauling. Nearly all of the rooms in the building will be painted by Mr. Kraft. Mr. M. F. Callbeck has a crew of carpenters at work resetting the black boards and arranging the seats in the new rooms and making all other necessary alterations. Prof. Yeoul is here looking after the work, and states that he is more than pleased with the outlook for the next school term. All the teachers have been secured, and everything will be in readiness when the term begins. Mr. Crandall the janitor, has put the lawn into fine shape, and the trees are all growing very nicely. Out of the grounds he has worked-wonders during the vacation months. Several dozen rose bushes have been ordered and will be set out this fall.

Mr. Walter B. Hinkle and bride have returned to Hermiston. They will make their home on the ranch owned by Mr. Hinkle, near Butter creek.

Mr. J. Strahm, one of the pioneers of the Umatilla project, will leave shortly for central Oregon to make his home. He has sold his entire interest in land here under the project. He purchased about 400 acres of land of Dr. M. V. Turley of this city, land which is situated near Gist, Oregon.

CONGREGATES NEIGHBORS TO SEE DEATH LEAP

New York.—No one knows why John Barker, who lives on the Shore road and Ninety-seventh street, Fort Hamilton, should have selected the roof of the four-story tenement at 162 Richard street, South Brooklyn, as the best place from which to jump to break his neck, but after he got there he made sure that the whole neighborhood should know he was on the job. He stood right out on the coping, clapping his wings like another character and proclaiming in a voice louder than a megaphone that in just another minute we was going to jump.

"Watch me go, people, watch me go," he yelled. "I've come to the jumping off place, and it's off I'm going."

Barker kept this up until he filled the windows with men, women and children, who joined in a chorus of pleading that he refrain. They didn't say it that way, though; they put it far more strongly and picturesquely, coupled with commands that he shut his mouth and let decent people enjoy their peace undisturbed by the sight of a mangled and broken body underneath their windows.

"Go away and jump off somewhere else," came a suggestion. But Barker replied:

"Nun-not this is the place from which I jump, and I am going in just a minute."

Poll-woman John Gaffney, finding that paralyzings were futile, puffed the way up to the roof of 162 Richard street, next door.

As soon as Gaffney poked his head above the scuffle opening Barker made good his promise. He veined through the air and landed in the hammock, out of which Joseph Fox had been driven by the storm. The hammock gave way and Barker landed squarely on top of Dolly Hadson's hobby horse, tethered to the wash-pot, to which Uncle Joe Fox's handsomeness had been fastened.

When the neighbors got to Barker he was rubbing the back of his neck and complaining of pain, but Dr. Cestari, who hurried over from the Long Island City college hospital, could find not even a superficial break on Barker. Then he hustled Barker over to the Kings county hospital, where he is detained in the psychopathic ward.

HE HAD REAL NIGHT MARE.

Struck Wife in Bed When Dreaming of Attack by Horse.

Anderson, Ind.—Mrs. Mollie Smith of this city was painfully bruised and required the attention of a physician because her husband, Allen W. Smith, a clerk, dreamed that a vicious horse was trying to bite him. With clenched fist Smith twice struck his wife with about all of the strength he could command. Mrs. Smith screamed and awakened her husband, but she fainted before he could explain.

After Mrs. Smith was revived and told of her husband attacking her he recalled that he dreamed a horse was trying to bite him in the face and to protect himself he struck at the animal's nose.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have always lived happily and Smith feared his friends would not understand his explanation. He told of having read the day before about a horse biting a blacksmith while the animal was being shod and the news item seemed to impress him deeply.

AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum. Fine program for Tuesday's change: 1. "During Cherry Time." Lubin. A novel love story in which sweet-hearts and lovers were shifted twice.

A dazzling actress amused herself with the heart of the lover of a sweet, simple maid. And in the end she used her arts to reunite the pair. Very cleverly acted.

2. "Love in the Hills." Essanay. A Kentucky mountain story of fine quality. Rugged scenery, splendid acting and an excellent story. A feature in every sense of the word.

3. "The Unexpected Gift." Pathé. Away in Provence is a mother left childless by the death of two of her children. That Sunday at mass she tells the curate of the parish of her great sorrow. Strange to say, that same day a little baby was left at the door of the church by unknown hands. The curate, being a kind-hearted man, makes a great big egg, puts the baby in, ties it up with a ribbon and sends it with a note to the childless mother. The story is beautifully told.

4. "In Cambodia." Pathé. A picture well worth seeing in every respect.

5. "Funny Fishing." Pathé. The absolute comic of excitement is here.

6. "In the Baggage Coach Ahead." Edison. This film portrays the story of the well known ballad which enjoyed great popularity some years ago. The film is an artistic creation. The illusion of the story told is handled in a new and effective manner.

The Pastime.

The house of quality. A fine program for Tuesday's change:

"The Romance of a Dixie Belle." Kalem. A story of love and loyalty, featuring Gene Gauntier as Shirley Shirley and Nell, school chums vor eternal friendship. The girls graduate and leave for home. Three years later Shirley meets Norman Logan at a Xmas party and falls in love with him at first sight. A few days later Shirley invites Nell to her home. Soon after her arrival Shirley sees the mutual attraction between Norman and Nell and learns what it is to be jealous. Shirley by chance overhears Norman vow his love for Nell. Nell immediately leaves for home and soon after they are married. Three years later on the breaking out of the civil war Norman leaves for the front. While on a secret service mission he is pursued and takes refuge in Shirley's home. She saves his life but her love for the country's flag proves the stronger. She demands at the point of a pistol he deliver the dispatches he is carrying. As refusal means death he surrenders the dispatches which Shirley quickly destroys.

"A Fair Exchange." Selig. A situation fresh in moving pictures gives life to this sprightly melodrama. The heroine, a fine horsewoman, after a hard chase, captures the bandit's sweetheart and she is rewarded by being able to write to the bandit in substance "You have my lover, I have your sweetheart; let's exchange." This is a thriller from start to finish.

"Aida." From the opera. Edison Co. This tragic story is told simply and clearly by the aid of finished and dignified acting. It is a feature film beyond the possibility of criticism.

"Billy's Marriage." American comedy. Billy is in love with a lawyer's daughter, quirts his sweetheart's father by eloping with the girl and marrying her.

"Monuments and Cascades in Rome." Pathé. A beautiful picture of a most interesting city.

The Cosy.

For Monday and Tuesday, a "Thambouser Kid" feature, a great story, an exciting western drama and a delightful story of heart interest.

"Two Little Girls." Thambouser. A "Thambouser Kid" feature with the

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

wonderful little child actress in the title role. A young wife eloped with another man, who, in turn, left her. She managed to support herself and child till a fire destroyed her home, and worn out, she died. Her husband in the meantime had married a widow with one child. The little girl reached a city and while watching the children playing was invited to take part in the games and later the little girl took the shabby stranger home with her, where she found her father and happiness.

"The Pony Express." Neston. Simpson, a highwayman, posing as a rancher, tried to win the love of Jack's sweetheart Polly. Simpson attempted to hold up the pony express but was defeated by Jack. Later the outlaw learned that the pony express would carry a large sum of money, and laid for it, but again was fooled by Jack and captured. Jack got the consent of Polly's father to their marriage.

"Just for Her." Imp. Gerald and Wilbur, bank clerks, both love Grace, and Wilbur finally wins her. Later some money is missing from the bank and Wilbur confesses to Gerald that he took it and to shield Grace, Gerald shoulders the crime and served a term in prison. Wilbur finally killed himself, first writing a letter confessing his guilt. A pardon was secured at once. Gerald was reinstated in the bank and married his old sweetheart Grace.

"The Sea Vultures." Yankee. The wreckers having lured a ship on the rocks by false lights, are surprised to find a child in the wreck which the leader adopts. Years later the girl persuades her foster father to reform and when the gang is captured by the revenue men after a terrible battle among the rocks, she and the young officer in command fall in love at first sight, while her adopted father is happy in the knowledge that he has escaped the fate of his companions.

This was first made in England in 1246, and was taxed in 1784.
