

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head! Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cures liver ills.

GERMANY IS GOING IN FOR THE MAMMOTH

Builds a Steamship Liner to Carry 5,000 Passengers and a Theatre for 15,000 People.

Berlin.—Germany is fast emulating America in the inception and carrying out of great enterprises. Just now she is busily engaged in turning out the world's greatest liner, which is to ply between Hamburg and New York with accommodations for no less than 5,000 passengers. For the past twelve months work has been steadily proceeding at the Vulcan ship building yards at Stettin on this new mammoth liner for the Hamburg-American line, which is to eclipse all previous records of ocean greyhounds for size and splendor.

The new boat, which will be named the Emperor, is to be bigger than any craft yet afloat. In her present condition on the slips at Stettin she presents a wonderful spectacle, appearing something like the skeleton of an eleven-story skyscraper in course of construction. She stands a hundred feet high, is nearly ninety feet in beam, has a length of 710 feet and her displacement will be 50,000 tons. In her present condition, without engine or boilers, she weighs more than a fully armed battleship. Her interior decorations and furnishings are planned on the most lavish scale possible and she will in every way merit the description of a "floating palace" or rather floating town.

Herr Moritz Lehmann has designed what he calls an open-air and light theatre, the like of which has far not existed, for the production of a great military play to celebrate the battle of Leipzig at its 100th anniversary in 1913. The auditorium and stage will represent a country landscape near Leipzig. The theatre will cover an area of over 70,000 square yards, of which 4,000 yards will be devoted to the accommodation of the audience. A part of the grounds will be laid out to represent a large meadow land dotted with farms and country houses, and the balconies, verandas, windows and roofs of the various buildings will serve as reserved fauleuils from which occupants will obtain a moving view of the military spectacle.

LIGHTNING FLASH BLINDS.

Specialists Hold Out Little Hope for Stricken Man. Atlantic City, N. J.—With the sight of one eye totally destroyed by lightning and but little hope of saving the other, Harry Adams submitted to a delicate surgical operation here at the home of his father, Lewis R. Adams, Boardwalk bathhouse proprietor.

Mr. Adams, who is 24 years old, is interested in a Philadelphia auto truck company, and was in the office of the concern when the storm broke. Standing before a large mirror opposite a window on the Broad street side of the building, the reflection of the vivid flash of lightning so affected his optic nerves that he fell to the floor unconscious. When he was revived it was found that the young man had lost his sight, and he was rushed in an ambulance to a hospital. Later he was removed to his home in this city. Specialists who made the operation fear his injuries are permanent.

"BUGS" DRIVE TO DESPAIR.

Prisoner, "Eaten Up" in One Place. Anxious to Migrate. Lancaster, Pa.—Guy Longnecker, 18 years old, begged the court to sentence him at once on charges of attempting to kill and burglary. Upon being pressed for a reason, he said he had been nearly eaten up by bugs in the Lancaster country prison, and he was willing to be sent to any other institution for any length of time the court might fix it rather than be kept there awaiting trial. Longnecker went to the home of an uncle, wearing a mask and, when the old man opened the door, he shot at him and ran away. On the same night he and a companion robbed

Bomberger's hardware store. The court postponed sentence for a few days, but told Longnecker he would be sent away from the county prison as soon as possible, and incidentally remarked that it was the duty of the prison inspectors to get rid of the bugs in the building.
