MABEL WARNER INDICTED FOR ALLEGED FORGERY OF WILL

MUST STAND TRIAL A SECOND TIME ON CHARGE. Accused Woman Not Disturbed by Turn of Affairs and Will Fight to Finish--Other True Bills Returned

Mabel Young Warner will very likely again have to stand trial for alleged forgery because of the many wills she has produced in an effort to secure the estate of her uncle and stepfather. This became practically known today when the grand jury made its final report, although the court instructed the names of persons indicted and not yet in custody be withheld from publication. Nevertheless, the rumor was soon noised about that Mrs. Warner was one of the unfortunate ones to draw a true bill and the rumor has been as positively confirmed as it could be without a statement to that effect from the authorities.

conviction before by a very narrow margin, only one or two jurors holding out against it. Mrs. Warner is apparently not disturbed by this action of the grand jury and declares she will fight to a finish and may spring a few surprises in the trial. She declares that the prosecution purloined valuable documents out of her room or she would "show up" the persons whom she says have been fighting her for years by underhanded methods. Other Indictments Returned. The grand jury returned a number of other indictments, the only two of which are made known being against J. H. Wilson on the charge of having attempted to burn his drug store at Ukiah in order to injure the insurer, and the other against Joe Orton on the charge of having stolen a watch and chain from Perry Gould at the Bowman hotel. Wilson is out under heavy bonds while Orton is confined in the county jail. Not true bills were returned yesterday against Taylor Magistrelli, Victor Giovanni, Viliandori, Tassela and Francesco Rogevelli and Domino Polera, the foreigner charged with inciting a riot in which Mike Moran was stabbed.

LATE RETURNS SHOW DRY WIN IN MAINE

Portland, Maine, Sept. 13.—Although they show great reluctance, the anti-prohibitionists of this state today admit that they were defeated in the state-wide election of Monday, held for the purpose of voting on amending the constitution, so as to provide for the sale of liquors under license, and as a result Maine will remain a "dry" state, instead of taking the plunge which was indicated by the first returns from the election. Revised returns which have been officially announced, show that the prohibitionists secured a plurality of 237. The total vote cast in the election was 129,725.

SENATOR WORKS FLAYS PRESIDENT TAFT IN SPEECH

Los Angeles, Sept. 13.—Asserting that the republican party is facing the biggest crisis in its history, with the prospect of the desertion of its old adherent, Senator Works, republican progressive, is out today with a statement in which he charges that President Taft is a reactionary and representative of "the interests." "Taft does not respect the wishes of the people," said Senator Works, who supported La Follette for the presidential nomination, asked all republicans to stand together and nominate Senator La Follette to redeem the party.

Garment Makers May Strike.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—A general strike of 35,000 ladies' tailors, shirt waist makers and dress makers in New York City, is imminent say Garment Makers' Union leaders today. The manufacturers offer a fifty-two hour week, but the unions want only 50 hours.

EASTERN OREGON MEDICOS BEGIN TENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION IN PENDLETON TODAY

Taking the morning up with a short business session, the Eastern Oregon Medical association met in tenth annual convention at Odd Fellows hall this morning for a two days' meeting. A good attendance of delegates from on hand and the meeting is in full swing. The address of welcome was delivered at 2 o'clock this afternoon, by Rev. Frank J. Milnes, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and he was followed by Dr. Jacob Prinzing, of Ontario, who responded in the absence of Dr. L. M. Madden of Weston, who is absent from the meeting. Illustrated lectures on the various diseases will be delivered during the afternoon session by Dr. Ralph Walker, of Portland, Dr. E. S. Walker, of Portland, and Dr. George S. Whiteside of Portland. The officers of the association are Dr. E. O. Parker, Pendleton, president; Dr. L. M. Madden of Weston, vice-president; Dr. Jacob Prinzing, of Ontario, second vice-president; Dr. T. M. Henderson, secretary-treasurer. The board of censors consists of Dr. Prinzing, Dr. Henderson and Dr. R. F. Dorn of Bebe. In welcoming the physicians to Pendleton, Rev. Milnes said: "Having been a resident of this city for only three weeks, an address of welcome from me seems as inappropriate to the speaker as it can prove intolerable to you. It reminds me of the speech made by a timid young man, newly married, awkward of speech, and called upon for an address in the presence of his bride. Partially hidden behind his wife for protection, he alternately looked gravely at the audience and sweatily at his wife as if trying to catch from her eyes the much needed inspiration and finally blurted: "Ladies and gentlemen, this thing was forced upon me." "Members of the Medical Society, this is my apology for addressing you this afternoon. I am especially interested in your profession because medicine and religion are so closely akin. But while I like to emphasize the religious function of the medical profession and the pathological function of the ministry, I realize that personal inclination is not always the true index to expediency, and therefore refrain. Western taste cares less for the psychic relation between the body and soul than for the development of our natural resources. I wish therefore to welcome this Medical Society to our city, as the sine qua non of our material progress. "It is natural to assume an exaggerated estimate of the exclusive scope and function of one's own calling, and to fail to see the share that other professions have had in accomplishing ours. When we speak of the opening and development of new countries, e. g., we are apt to think only of the agriculturist, the promoter or the politician, or the railroad syndicate. But not the least of my pleasure in welcoming this society to our city arises from the fact that no class of men in history has ever shown themselves more indispensable to the upbuilding of material civilization in territory hitherto uninhabited and uninhabitable than you scientific destroyers of disease. "Without attempting to describe those almost miraculous surgical and chemical achievements, which history now ascribes to your honor, or to delineate how you rendered Cuba, the Philippines, and other valuable territories sanitary and, therefore, habitable by civilized people—it is only epitomizing to say that the work of your profession has revolutionized the industrial world and made modern civilization possible. Undoubtedly the most prolific achievement of modern times is the construction of the Panama Canal. This Herculean task will make the American people masters of

FRANCE MASSING ARMY ON GERMAN FRONTIER TODAY

Cabinet Not Awed By Implied Threats, Approves Adverse Reply

Paris, France, Sept. 13.—On account of the fact that the military authorities are massing large numbers of French troops along the German border, all France is today openly discussing Germany's demands on France in the Moroccan dispute and the refusal of the French cabinet to be awed by the implied threats that have emitted from high official circles in Germany. The French government has given out the official announcement that the massing of the army on the German frontier, is merely for the purpose of holding "maneuvers," which however, in view of the strained relations existing between the two nations, is not generally accepted as the real reason for the action. It is persistently rumored that the French government is now hovering on the verge of some momentous step, which may mean most anything. Although the ministers formally refuse to satisfy public curiosity by making any statement as to what had passed at the historic council, it is said the cabinet accepted its fullest approval of the reply prepared by M. de Selves, which is no less explicit than that submitted by Germany. The reply sets forth in the clearest possible manner France's position with regard to the question of principle raised by Germany, and pays particular attention to the necessity of maintaining commercial equality for all and of assurance to France of an absolutely free hand politically in Morocco.

ALLEGED GAME LAW VIOLATOR ACQUITTED

In a jury trial before Justice of the Peace Joe H. Parks yesterday afternoon, P. H. McPhee, manager of Wenaha Springs, was acquitted of the charge of violating the game laws of the state by serving trout on his tables for a monetary consideration. State Game Warden Finley, assisted by Deputy District Attorney W. C. E. Pruitt, prosecuted the case while Col. J. H. Riley defended the accused. E. B. Thompson, special deputy game warden of the state was the principal complaining witness. He testified that a couple of months or so ago he was a guest at Wenaha Springs and was served with trout without request. Other testimony brought out the fact that an employe of Mr. McPhee was in the habit of catching trout which he brought to the hotel. Col. Riley in his argument laid much stress upon the fact that the local fish and game association held a trout banquet for which charge was made and that the bankers had enjoyed a trout banquet while in session here, and declared the officials were trying to make a scapegoat of Mr. McPhee. The jury was evidently impressed with this point for a verdict of not guilty was brought in without any great length of deliberation.

BETTING IN CANADA FAVORS RECIPROCITY.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—That Premier Laurier's government will be returned to power in the coming Canadian elections, with an unmistakable mandate to conclude the treaty with the United States is an odds-on bet here today. Much money is being wagered by the liberals, who believe Laurier is sure to win. Conservatives are emphasizing the alleged unfriendly traffic treatment of the United States and are attempting to make believe that reciprocity is the first step toward a political union between Canada and the United States.

HARRIMAN'S DEATH CAUSE OF TROUBLE SAYS KLINE

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 13.—Admitting that the chances for averting a strike on the Harriman lines are very slim, and asserting that if Mr. Harriman were alive that the trouble would have been settled, without even a threatened strike, President Kline, of the international teamsters' union, met for Omaha today, where the next meeting of the system federation of the crafts is scheduled for Saturday. It is now expected that definite action will be taken next week.

Rebuilding Wrecked Aeroplane. Milledale, Cal., Sept. 13.—Having received a carload of aeroplane parts from Reno, Aviator Fowler is reconstructing his machine, preparatory to continuing his transcontinental flight.

GAME AND FISH COMMISSION MEETS IN CITY TODAY

Visit Gibbon and Proposed Site of New Fish Hatchery

Taking the early train for Gibbon and breakfasting on the banks of Meacham creek, State Game Warden W. L. Finley, Master Fish Warden, C. E. Clanton, member of the state fish and game commission and a number of local sportsmen looked over the sites about Gibbon which have been proposed for the fish hatchery which will undoubtedly be established soon. The members of the commission and the warden examined closely the conditions along the river near Gibbon and were perhaps more favorably impressed with the site about two miles above Meacham creek than any other. They returned on No. 17 and are holding a session this afternoon to discuss matters pertaining to the hatchery and to game protection in the state. The members of the commission here are C. K. Cranston of Pendleton, chairman, George Kelly and Mr. Kinney of Portland, and Frank Hughes of Gold Hill. The local sportsmen who accompanied them to Gibbon were Deputy Game Warden E. F. Averill, C. P. Bishop, Judge S. A. Lowell, Secretary J. E. Keefe of the Commercial association, G. I. Ladlow, Charles Carter and Judge Maloney. Both Mr. Clanton, Mr. Finley and the members of the commission will remain in the city for the Round-Up.

HAY ADVOCATES STATE INSURANCE

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 13.—Denouncing indemnity and casualty companies as "Fungoid Social Parasites," Governor Hay of Washington, today discussed the proposition of how the state of Washington solved the workmen's compensation problem, before the House of Governors. He said that companies by absurdities and technicalities, succeeded in having injured workmen only 100,000 out of $500,000 collected in premiums in the state in 1909. To correct these abuses," Governor Hay advocated the establishment of state insurance, to be levied on the employers' pay rolls, the money to be used for injured workmen.

FAST CURE SPECIALIST MAY ESCAPE PROSECUTION

Port Orchard, Wash., Sept. 13.—Dr. Linda Burfield Hazard, "fast cure" specialist, may never stand trial on the charge of murder for the death of Mrs. Claire Williamson who died while taking the treatment. Judge Myers sustained a demurrer to the information filed by the state, because the character and kind of food withheld was not specifically stated. Prosecutor Stevenson will have a hard time giving a specific description of the various foods.

HILL-HARRIMAN WAR ENDS WITH A NEW AGREEMENT

Portland, Ore., Sept. 13.—Railroad officials today declared that the signing of a 225-year contract for the joint use by the O-W. R. & N. of the Oregon Trunk line, between Metolius and Bend, indicates that a big war between the Hill and Harriman lines, for the control of central Oregon has ended. Under the terms the Harriman line will pay half of the maintenance and operating expenses.

YOUNG ASPIRING AVIATOR MEETS WITH ILL-LUCK

New York, Sept. 13.—James Ward the youngest aviator in America, set out today for a cross country flight for the $50,000 prize. He was forced to descend in New Jersey, after a twenty-two mile flight when his engine broke.

WARD LOST SOON AFTER STARTING ON LONG FLIGHT.

New York, Sept. 13.—After traveling thirty-five miles on his flight to the Pacific coast, Aviator James Ward descended at Ashbrook, New Jersey, today, where, after apologizing to the two sponsors on whose property he alighted, he got out a map of New Jersey to discover his whereabouts. He promised to resume soon.

Governor Stops Fight. Milwaukee, Sept. 13.—Governor Mills today announced that the Wolcott-McFarland fight will not be held Friday night. He notified the promoters that he stood behind Sheriff Arnold who will prohibit the bout.

FARMERS HAVING INNING AT DISTRICT FAIR TODAY

evidence of appreciation as its previous ones. Mr. Bowen has gathered together an organization of accomplished musicians whose united harmony is about as good as anything in its line that has been heard here for some time. The following is the personnel of the band: R. T. McKinstry, flute. Geo. Donovan, E flat clarinet. Joe Slater, oboe. Wm. Skinner, solo clarinet. B. Russo, solo clarinet. R. A. Star, 1st clarinet. John Matejcek, 1st clarinet. Bert Miller, 1st clarinet. Dan Sterner, alto clarinet. W. H. Lewis, solo cornet. Frank Kirchner, solo cornet. Claude Fiske, flugel horn. Louis Phillips, 2nd cornet. Geo. Meyers, euphonium. M. R. Arant, 1st French horn. Grover Cleveland, 2nd French horn. Frank Randolph, 3rd French horn. Fred Bedell, 4th French horn. Frank Hanes, 1st trombone. Chas. Whitehead, 2nd trombone. Frank Barta E flat bass. H. Nickerson, BB flat bass. Walter Jackson, small drum and traps. I. O. Deslets, big drum. H. G. Boyen, conductor and cornet soloist.

Mr. Bowen the leader, finds the appreciation of good music well developed in Pendleton, a source of pleasure to any conductor who cares for the better in music. His programs already show a high grade of music. Mr. Bowen and his men are all-enchanted with Pendleton, and the energy shown in our fair and Round-up management. It will be a pleasure to Mr. Bowen to receive requests for certain numbers which will be given if he has it with him, not having brought the entire library some may be disappointed. Judging is Under Way. Judging of the exhibits is now under way and in the principal lines it will be concluded by tomorrow. Prof. E. L. Potter, who has charge of judging the stock will close tomorrow at 1 o'clock, while R. F. Allen and Frank Breed who are judging fruit and poultry respectively will probably finish up this evening.

Painting Wins St. Leger Race. Doncaster, Eng., Sept. 13.—Prince Palatine, at 10 to 3 in the betting today, won the classic St. Leger stakes in the three-year-olds' race, on the own Moor track. King George attended the meeting and was heartily cheered by the Yorkshiremen.

Band Makes Hit. Bowen's band gave another one of its splendid concerts last evening which was listened to with the same

With but one more sunset and one more sunrise before the ushering in of the second annual Round-Up, Pendleton is in the tremor of a suppressed excitement, and no man woman or child in the four boundaries of the city but is more or less affected by the approach of the long heralded event the time of all times, this culmination of the hopes and plans of a twelve-month. The city is already crowded with strangers, but as yet there has been no cry for a bed unanswerd and members of the accommodation committee declare there will be none.

The directors of the frontier association are today putting on the finishing touches to their celebration, and when the signal for the start of the first race is given at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, everything will be in readiness for an uninterrupted five hours of thrilling entertainment.

Many Fine Buckers. All joy in the ranks of the directors and also in the ranks of the go-bucks because of the abundance of superb buckers, those prime essentials to a wild west show. Livestock

ALL EXPECTANTLY AWAIT DAWNING OF THE MORROW, FIRST DAY OF "THE ROUND-UP"

Manager T. D. Taylor for the past week has been reaping the harvest of his efforts of many months, the "out-laws" coming in from all directions. The trying out of these wild mustangs during the moonrise and afternoons of the past week has provided entertainment for hundreds, the excitement of which will probably not be surpassed by the real exhibition. As a result many "fruits" have been made. Yesterday afternoon a little animal belonging to John Spain asserted his right to rank with "Light-foot" as one of the hardest buckers waiting for the contests. Four buckers were sent into the air in succession and none others cared to essay the task. The name of "Hotspur" has been attached to this horse and the title is not deceptive. Another big named animal from Yakima also proved his ability yesterday and is scheduled to appear in the finals in all eight hours "bit the heat" in the trials tomorrow.
