CELEBRATE HUNDRETH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Spokane, Wash.—Harold Bagley, a native of the village of Buckley, Vt., will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of his birth at a family reunion in his home at 1613 Gardner avenue, Spokane, on September 29, when there will be in attendance his five children, who are grandparents: Judge J. E. Bagley of Ogden, Utah; Horace Bagley of Sunnyside, Wash.; Mrs. J. A. Clarke of Nelson, B. C.; and Mrs. J. W. Johnson and Mrs. James Stevenson, of Lincoln Neb., also several of his 25 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren. His grandfather was among the first inhabitants of Plymouth, Mass., and was an active participant in Shay's rebellion, fleeing to Vermont. Mr. Bagley cast his first vote for Andrew (Old Hickory) Jackson. He came to Spokane three years ago from Nelson, B. C., where he lived several years and prior to that time he was a resident of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Bagley has been blind 18 years, but is able to find his way around the house unassisted, and otherwise is in good health and spirit and expects to live several years more.

SPONGE POACHERS ELUDE U. S. REVENUE OFFICERS.

Washington.—A difficult task confronts the revenue cutter Forward, which has been ordered to the Keys of Florida to enforce the law regulating the taking of sponges. In a report received at the treasury department the commander of the revenue cutter says that he found a number of schooners and sloops on the sponge fishing grounds, but was unable to get evidence of violation of the law. Many of these vessels were equipped with diving apparatus. It was easy for the men on any sponge seeking ship, violating the law, to suspend the diving when the Forward is in sight and to throw overboard any sponges taken illegally.

AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

1. "Saved from the Snow." Selig. A beautiful story pictured in the wonderful Yosemite valley in midwinter. Kit and Davy were two great friends trapping and hunting together, but they both fell in love with the same girl and Kit being the hand-omer, was acceptable in her eyes. Davy vowed to have done forever with women and the settlements and went trapping among the mountains. Mary and Kit were married and all was bright for them, until one winter eve he cut his foot terribly while chopping wood. Mary ran to the nearest neighbor for help, confused by night and snow she lost her way and was overcome by fatigue and cold. Davy on his way to the settlement to barter his peltries for supplies, crossed the trail, followed and rescued her and restored her to her husband. Time had numbed his pain and he and Kit shake hands in sincere reconciliation.

2. "Gossiping Yapville." Essanay. This is a screamingly funny little comic, which, despite its farcical nature, will make you say, "Isn't it just true to life." It's something new.

3. "Summer Babies." S and A. Every lover of babies (and who doesn't love them?) will thoroughly enjoy this educational subject which shows how a large city cares for the babies of the poor. Hundreds of babies are saved each summer by the work of visiting nurses and this film shows how they are saved. It is a subject of more than usual interest.

4. "A New York Cowboy." Selig. A western comedy drama, funny in the extreme, unique and interesting. Introducing some great riding scenes, excellent in plot, acting and photography.

5. "The Love Story of a Great Actress." Gaumont. A masterpiece in every detail. Telling the victory of a wife's ambitions over her love and the triumph of a husband's devotion over calamity. Don't miss this excellent drama.

The Pastime. Where all are pleased. A big special for Friday and Saturday.

"The Ranch in Flames." American. Pedro has been discharged by the colonel, the owner of the ranch, and he and his wife find themselves in desperate straits for the rent. Finally his wife decides to try her hand at raising the money and disguising herself as a man she holds up the stage. She escapes the posse sent in pursuit of the highwayman by turning her horse loose and changing back to woman's attire. Her husband, however, finds the horse and the stolen goods just as the posse sees him. Of course he is suspected, tried and about to be hung when a fire breaks out at the ranch house. How this saved the suspected man's life makes a thrilling story.

"The Changing of Silas Warner." Vitagraph. A society drama. A young man shows the right spirit, asserting his manhood and declaring his independence by exercising his own judgment by marrying the girl of his choice in opposition to his father's tyrannical will. A complete change comes over the old gentleman's affairs and he realizes his severity when his boy makes good and shows what kind of stuff he is made of.

"Pathe's Weekly." The essence of the world's events just as they happen. Synopses: 1—Barcelona, Spain, the bullfight before the royal family and the assassination of Spain. 2—Newport, R. I.—The race of the King Edward cup.

4—Dusseldorf, Germany, Count Zeppelin's latest dirigible was wrecked here.

4—Brooklyn, N. Y. The International Hour Race at Catic Park.

5—Long Beach, N. Y. Governor Woodrow Wilson receives the parade of 1500 children.

6—Paris, France. A colored picture of the latest fashions in hair-dressing, etc., etc.

"Judge Sumpkins' Summer Court." Essanay. This is an amusing trick film.

"The Tramp Artist." Essanay. A novel idea well carried out.

The Cosy. An all feature western show at the Cosy Tuesday and Wednesday. Deil Blacett, the world's champion steer bulldogger and Bertha Blacett, the champion woman broncho buster of the world, who are in Pendleton to take part in the Round-Up both appear in today's Bison Indian picture.

"The White Red Man." Rex. Words fail to express the beauty of this picture. The Indian being befriended by the settler's family, gave them some jewels lost by an outlaw. The settler was accused of the robbery and was to be hung at sunrise. To save his life the Indian had to run 50 miles. Over wild mountain gorges, across rushing rivers, across deep canyons he made his way and arrived in time. A happy ending for all. Exquisitely tinted. "It's a Rex."

"The Poisoned Flume." American. A western feature of the irrigated country. Angered at being rejected, George poisoned the ditch. The veterinary examined the dead cattle and the ditch and found the poison. A pursuit occurs in which the renegade crosses a deep chasm on the irrigating flume. He was finally shot and fell into the flume. A love story adds interest to a very interesting picture.

"A Sioux Spy." Bison. A story of the Indian wars. The brave was sent by the chief to spy on the Cheyennes and pretending sickness was taken to their camp, where he fell in love with Silver Moon. Love proved stronger than duty and he did not return to his people. In a battle between the Sioux and Cheyennes he saved the chief's life and won Silver Moon.

"A Gasoline Engagement." Imp. A comedy and then some. The young man loved Grace, but dad wanted her to marry a minister. Learning the party were going automobiling in the country George arranged to drive the car. The adventures in the cellar where George held a match over a barrel of gasoline and compelled Pa to give his consent and his rival the minister to marry he and Grace are sure funny.
