ARMY OF 30,000 ITALIANS ARE LANDED IN TRIPOLI
which were called to colors three days ago have been dispatched against the Greek frontier.
It is reported that the Turks, realizing that they cannot withstand the naval forces of Italy, have determined to attack the Greeks, on the pretext that the Hellenes are plotting to take possession of the island of Crete.
Both England and Germany are greatly alarmed at the situation and are seeking to determine on some concerted action by which the powers may avoid a general conflict among the European nations.
In addition to its Italian troubles, Turkey is apprehensive that a latent danger lies in the attitude of Albanian Greece, Bulgaria and other Balkan states. It is feared they would seize a chance to cross Turkish supremacy in the Balkans the moment the Sultan's forces are drawn into a conflict with Italy.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Italy's "robbery" as the Tripoli invasion is characterized here, is denounced by most newspapers. The German foreign office admits that serious trouble may be precipitated in Europe by the war.

It is believed that the Turks in Tripoli will fight and then withdraw to the desert.
Cruisers Demonstrating.
Washington, Sept. 29.—A dispatch to the state department today confirms the reports of serious situations existing at Tripoli and Constantinople. The American minister at Constantinople says the populace is aroused and determined to fight. Tripollan cables state that the Italian cruisers are making a demonstration.
Parliament Convened.

FEARS DEATH TOOK HIS LOST FAMILY
Disappeared En Route to Oregon; Charred Remains May be Theirs.
Aurora, Ore.—Fred Allington, of Salt Lake City, is in Aurora trying to secure information about Joseph Swanner, his brother-in-law, who last year purchased land near Needy and who left his home in Utah with his family for this place, traveling by wagon, over a year ago, but of whom no definite news has been heard. Allington traced the family as far as Emmett, Idaho, but lost all trace of them there.
He was informed however, that the charred and burned remains of several bodies, of wagons, etc., had been found in one of the burned districts near Wardner, but could not verify the report. He was told of a ring found on the finger of one of the "bodies" that he identified (by description only) as belonging to his brother. But the story seemed so improbable that Allington could not credit it, and came on here where he found the land purchased by Swanner unoccupied and taxes unpaid. This leads him back to the Idaho story.
No one here knows any thing of the ill-fated family, and it is believed they never arrived here.

ENGINEERS NEED OFFICERS.

Select Corps of Army Finds Itself Short in Picking West Point Men.
Washington, D. C.—For the first time since the foundation of the United States military academy the engineer corps of the army has this year failed to secure from among the graduates of that institution a sufficient number of young men to fill the existing vacancies in the corps.
It has been the rule that the boys who graduated with the highest honors at West Point have chosen to enter the engineer corps rather than any other branch of the military service. But this year so heavy were the demands of every other branch that the war department decided that it could not in fairness allow the engineer corps to fill its quota by selection from among the graduates.
The consequence is that it is now necessary to admit no less than ten civilians to this select corps and the department is preparing the stiffest sort of an entrance examination to which the candidates will be subjected.

TO INSPECT EVERY ARMY POST

War Secretary, General Wood and His Staff Will Make the Trip.
Washington, D. C.—To become thoroughly familiar with military conditions Secretary of War Stimson contemplates visiting practically every army post in the country. He and General Wood, chief of staff, and Captain Frank R. McCoy of the general staff, will meet in Pittsburg tonight for their tour, which will include Fort Apache, Whipple Barracks and Fort Huachuca, Arizona, and San Antonio, Texas, and probably Forts Riley and Leavenworth, Kas.

Originally it was planned to inspect also the South Atlantic coast defenses, but these have been reserved for another trip later in the fall or winter.
In company with General Wood, Secretary Stimson probably will tour the Middle West, northwest and Pacific coast before next summer.

WRITES 17 NAMES AT ONE TIME

Standard Oil Officials Simplify a Usually Laborious Task—Use a Device.
New York.—Officers of the Standard Oil company are putting in some long days this week in connection with the work of signing the numerous certificates which represent the segregation of the thirty-three subsidiaries into separate companies.

The shares in the new companies total about 200,000 and the signing is being done by means of a device which signs eighteen certificates at one time.
The certificates are clasped in a frame which is slid before the writer, who describes his signature on a blank, seventeen other pens at the same time writing his name.

ARRANGE FOR COUNTRY LIFE COMMISSION MEET

Governors of Many States Will Attend Sessions.
Spokane, Wash.—Broad in policy, educational in purpose and beneficial in its influence will be the annual convention of the country life commissions of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana during the week of the fourth National Apple show in Spokane November 23 to 30. David Brown, chairman of the Washington commission and head of the country life committee of the Spokane chamber of commerce, also is arranging for representative delegations from California, Utah, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, British Columbia, Alberta and other states and provinces in the northwest to participate at the sessions.
Governors of the Northwestern and Pacific states, members of congress and state and provincial legislatures and prominent men and women of the United States and Canada, who are interested in making rural districts of America more attractive and are concerned in the development of a higher country life, will be invited to attend the convention, which is to occupy four or more days.
"Plans for the organization of community clubs to encourage the country life movement will be discussed," said Mr. Brown, "and preliminary arrangements made to carry on the work throughout the country, the paramount idea being to make rural life so pleasant that it will attract our young people and check the tendency of our country boys and girls leaving their homes for the cities."
"We shall also take up such subjects as good roads, better rural schools and the merchandising of farm products. There are several other important subjects in connection with the country life plan, but nothing that will have the least bearing in a political way. The primary purpose is to bring out the best of our rural manhood and womanhood by providing better social conditions on the farm and make the life more attractive than it has been in the past."

Santa Cruz.—A 30-foot basking shark, the largest ever caught in Monterey bay, was brought in by fishermen from below Aptos, where it had become entangled in the nets. It was the big attraction at the wharf all day.

Summons Juror; Finds Him Suicide.

Remo.—Under Sheriff Nichols of Washoe county called to serve G. M. Smith with summons for jury duty in the Pelizzari murder trial and found the man had just committed suicide in his workshop in Sparks. Smith clamped a shotgun in a vise, sawed the legs off of a chair so as to make a low seat, and facing the firearm, pushed on the trigger with a stick.
