HAVE YOU TRIED TO COOK IN PAPER BAGS?

Pendleton women who wish to advance along lines of household science and incidentally reduce the high cost of living may find something for the benefit in the scheme for cooking in paper bags. It sounds preposterous, but the scheme is much more feasible than it would appear at first glance and is explained as follows in the last number of Good Housekeeping.

"If you want a delicious steak, without having the kitchen filled with the odor of its cooking, without its losing weight in cooking and without having to wash broiler or skillet afterward, try this way. Have the oven quite hot, butter your steak on both sides without trimming it, and put it into a bag of oil-paper, clean and free from noxious chemicals (I have been using the kind which sometimes comes in breakfast food boxes, and the biscuit box papers, but I understand the proper bags are now on the market). Turn down to make the edges of the bag air tight and lay bag on grate in the oven. In ten minutes lift out carefully to hot platter and remove bag; season the steak, trim and serve it. All the flavor and all the juices and all the weight will be there and the meat is much more tender. I have tried trout, round and other steaks, lamb roasts (5 pounds—1 hour, and many other things with splendid success in this way.

"The discovery was sent me by an enthusiastic English relative, who declares it has been demonstrated that everything but soup can be cooked in a paper bag. Because it is quicker and because there are no pots and pans to wash I prefer, for many things, the paper-bag to the fireless cooker." This from "H. L. A." of Delaware.

All that is necessary in cooking in paper bags is to put the properly prepared foods inside the greased bag, close the bag and place the same inside the oven. For instance, if you wish to cook a cod steak garnished with bacon, the process is immeasurably simplified by the paper bag method. You simply cover your clean steak with the customary seasoning (or turn in egg and breadcrumb), lay your slices of bacon on top of it and place the whole inside a cooking bag, the interior of which has been greased. The end of the bag is folded two or three times, secured with an ordinary paper clip and placed on the wire shelf in the oven, which should be fairly hot. About 18 minutes afterward the bag, which will be found intact, scored but not charred, is carefully drawn onto the platter from which the fish will be served. The bag is then slit open at the top and drawn from beneath the fish, which is now ready for the table. The paper bag is thrown into the garbage pail. This is a typical example of the

SOCIETY EVENTS

Social news notes for use in this department are solicited by the East Oregonian. To insure their appearance in the department such notes should be sent or phoned to the news office not later than Friday evening of each week.

On Wednesday at high noon Miss Margaret Isabel Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooley, was united in marriage to Court Carl Raser at the home of the bride's parents, 901 Railroad street. For the occasion the parlor had been transformed into a bower of evergreens and autumn leaves, interspersed with a profusion of cut flowers. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Edna Slater, the bride entered on the arm of her father and accompanied by Miss Fay Gibson as bridesmaid, while George Cooley, brother of the bride, acted as best man for the groom. Attired in a beautiful dress of marquisette over white silk messaline, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, the bride looked lovely. Miss Gibson wore a gown of pink crepe de chine and carried white roses. Rev. Frank J. Milnes, pastor of the Presbyterian church, pronounced the ceremony that made the couple man and wife. Immediately following, an elaborate wedding dinner was served, the table being beautifully decorated. The bride has been a very popular girl resident of Pendleton for a number of years, while the groom is well known in the city, having at one time been connected with the East End grocery and more recently engaged in farming on the reservation. Mr. and Mrs. Raser left Wednesday evening for Litchfield, Ohio, where they will make their home. Many guests were present at the wedding and bestowed valuable and beautiful gifts upon the young couple in token of their good wishes. The list of guests follows:

Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carl, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. John Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Isaacs, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Earnheart, Mr. and Mrs. P. Van Orsdall, Mr. and Mrs. H. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kupper, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Whitestone, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Tveddy, Mrs. Belle Wilner, the Misses Evelyn Kinnaman, Cora Towne, Frankie Weber, Iva Black, Lois Carl, Edna Slater, Hazel Morgan, Victoria Haas (Enterprise), and the Messrs. P. Shafer and Herbert Strohm.

Mrs. I. U. Temple was hostess yesterday afternoon to a large number of ladies at her home on South Main street. The occasion was the regular weekly meeting of the Current Literature club but, besides the members of this organization, she had as guests the entire membership of the Thursday Afternoon club and the following other ladies: Mrs. James H. Gwinn, Mrs. T. M. Henderson, Mrs. R. J. Slater, Mrs. O. E. Harper, Mrs. W. P. Temple, Mrs. Ernest Temple, Mrs. J. S. Landers, Mrs. James H. Raley, Mrs. Will Wyrick, Mrs. Nathan Evans, Mrs. Gerard, Mrs. W. A. Krebs, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Winn Johnson, Miss Lou Wise, Miss Ruth Wise, Miss Elder and Miss Edna Slater. The rooms were decorated in the club colors and the dining table contained a center-piece of purple asters, while the candle shades were of violet tissue paper. The following was the program, being the study of the Mythic Age of Scandinavia: Response to Roll Call—A Northern Myth. The Mythology and Cosmogony of the Norsemen: a) Creation of the World and Man. b) Moral Principles. c) Tales of Divinities, Odin, the man.

Mrs. Bonney. Cradle Song..... Kate Vanner Last Night..... Halfdan Kjelneif Mrs. Dickson. Reading: (a) From the Saga of King Olaf..... Longfellow, Mrs. Coleworthy. (b) Balder Dead..... Arnold Mrs. Winter. Lullaby from Josephine..... Godard Miss Slater. Influence of Norse Mythology on Literature, Art and Religion. Mrs. Fee. Group of Norse Songs. Norse National Song. Norse Lullaby. Balder the Beautiful. Mrs. Vaughan.

A social event of interest will be the bachelor dinner given this evening at the Hotel Pendleton to William Henry Collins, who is soon to forsake the ranks of celibates. The hosts of the occasion will be the following men: John Adams, Roy Alexander, Clarence Bishop, Roy Bishop, Willard Bond, Charles Bond, Ben Burroughs, Carl Cooley, John Dickson, George Ferguson, L. G. Frazier, Harry Gray, George Hartman, Fred Lampkin, Mark Moorhouse, Clark Nelson, Carl Peringer, Roy Raley, Ernest Ruppe, Roy Ritner, Royal Sawtelle, Fred Steiner, George Strand, James Sturgis, Sam Thompson, Walter R. Waggoner, Will Wyrick.

Roy Ritner will act as toastmaster and will himself give the toast "To the Bride." J. Roy Raley will respond to "Why is a Groom?" while Clark Nelson will give "Welcome to Our Rank." Fred Steiner will close with "Farewell to Bachelorhood."

The reception given to the high school teachers and other strangers among the young people of the city, Wednesday night by the Epworth League, in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church, was one of the social successes of the week. The rooms were tastefully decorated in autumn leaves, flowers and pennants. The places of honor in the decoration scheme were given to the local high school and class pennants of 1912 and 13. The parlors were crowded during the entire evening. Short addresses of welcome were given by the pastor and president of the league. The responses were given by Superintendent Welles and Principal Hampton. The male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Welles, Landers, Akin and Owen won rounds of applause and was called back the second time. In the drawing contest, Mrs. Hampton won the prize which Prof. Ashahr presented to her in an elaborate speech. The remainder of the evening was spent in games. Light refreshments were served and the program was closed by the singing of America.

An enthusiastic and enjoyable banquet was tendered last evening by the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Christian church to the school people of the city comprising members of the school board and their wives, the faculty of the high school, grade teachers, students of the high school and a few other guests. The affair was held in the banquet room of the church at 8 o'clock and about 150 were in attendance. The large room was tastefully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves and school pennants were everywhere in evidence. The high school students were seated by classes and their yells enlivened the occasion. At the conclusion of the banquet an extemporaneous program was given at which Dr. C. J. Smith served as toastmaster. Brief responses were made by A. C. Hampton, principal of the high school, Chester Gordon, president of the high school student body, Miss Louise Wise, Miss Posten, and Mr. Ruth of the high school faculty, Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Halley of the grade teachers, Miss Claire Raley for the high school girls, Prof. Draper for the business college, Harvey McPherson, president of the Y. P. S. C. E. for that organization and by E. B. Aldrich.

Last evening the officers and directors of the Round-Up were guests at a banquet given at the French restaurant by a number of business men in appreciation of the splendid efforts and sacrifices which made the show such a success. A most enjoyable evening was had, rousing speeches being given and all joining in the occasion with considerable zeal. The hosts of the evening were Leon Cohen, R. Alexander, G. M. Rice, W. L. Thompson, Charles Bond, E. J. Murphy and C. E. Roosevelt. Following the banquet, all adjourned to the Pastime theater, where the pictures of the Round-Up were exhibited.

On Monday evening Mrs. Lulu Beck became the bride of John B. Dungan at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rankin on Cosbie street. Rev. Nathan Evans of the Methodist church officiating. On the following morning the young couple left for Rufus in Sherman county, where they will make their home. The bride has been the long distance telephone operator at the local office for some time past and was very popular among her large circle of friends.

After a vacation from cards and luncheons of several months, the Young Ladies' Bridge club resumed its sessions Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Ben L. Burroughs entertaining at her home on West Court street. In the play Miss Edna Zimmerman was awarded the prize for high score. The following were the members present: Misses Sybil Clifton, Anna Smith, Jennie Perry, Edna Zimmerman, Edna Thompson, Daphne Leasure, Erma Mann, Gertrude Campbell, Nonna Johnson, Gussie Sawtelle, Iva Hill and Genevieve Clark.

During the week invitations have been sent out by Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander to a large number of friends asking their presence at the wedding reception of their daughter, Bertha Pauline and Mr. Henry Collins on Tuesday evening, October seventeenth, from nine until eleven, at their apartments in the Association building.

Thomas Campbell announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Gertrude Campbell, to George Strand, the wedding to occur in the near future. Miss Campbell is a popular member of the younger society circles of the city and Mr. Strand is one of the deputy sheriffs of the county.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

A COMMON COLD neglected may go quickly into GROUP, BRONCHITIS, or PNEUMONIA which often means a sudden fatality. Keep FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND always in the house and give at first sign of a cold. Refuse substitutes.

John Persons, Stewart, Ohio, writes: "We use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as our best and only cough remedy. It never fails to cure any of my seven children of cough. My 2-month-old baby has had a most severe cough which our Doctor said he could not cure and that Baby would surely die. Several of our relations and neighbors had gathered to witness the ending of the child's life. Two bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured the child and he is alive and well today."

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Melton and Harry Frederick Bendix, which occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Florence Melton, at Walla Walla, on Wednesday.
