

LIVED ON RAW EGGS

Mr. Richard's Experience With Different Diets. Peaches and Buttermilk for Three Years.

Cecilton, Md.—Mr. George Richards, of this place, during the past 12 years, has probably tried more different diets than the average person would ever use in a lifetime.

What he has to say about his experiments to anyone suffering from indigestion or stomach troubles of any kind.

He says: "For more than 12 years, I suffered with stomach troubles, and paid hundreds of dollars for doctor bills and medicines. I was also operated on for piles.

I lived on dried peaches and buttermilk for nearly three years. The only thing that would not give me pain was raw eggs. I was a physical wreck. I could not sleep, and was as near crazy as a man could well be.

I must say that after taking two 25-cent packages of Theodor's Black-Draught, it did me more good than all I ever spent for other medicines.

I have been working daily on the farm ever since, and I am as hard as iron. This purely vegetable remedy has been successful use for more than 70 years. Try it. But be sure that it's "Theodor's."

WILLIAM E. CURTIS DIES.

Noted Journalist Is Stricken by Apoplexy.

Philadelphia—William Elroy Curtis, of Washington, traveler, journalist and writer on political topics, died suddenly in his room in a hotel here. Mr. Curtis arrived at noon from New York, accompanied by his wife. He was stricken with apoplexy and although medical assistance was summoned immediately it was impossible to save his life. He was 61 years old.

"After all, the sum of human happiness may be totaled up in three words," said she.

"What on earth are they?" inquired her partner in life's joys and sorrows. "I love you."

"Oh, I thought you meant 'Pay to bearer.'"

Portland 3, Vernon 1.

Los Angeles, Oct. 7.—Portland made three straight yesterday, defeating Vernon, 3 to 1, in the best played game of the series. The crowd numbered slightly over 8000 paid admissions. Ladies' day was abolished yesterday for the balance of the season because of the demand for seats.

Yesterday's story is soon told, it was simply a case of too much Harkness. Vernon could gather but three hits off his offerings and most of these came when they did no good. Besides holding Vernon to three hits, Harkness struck out eight men.

Score: R. H. E.
Portland... 1 3 2
Vernon... 3 8 0

Oakland 9, Frisco 2.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—Oakland defeated San Francisco yesterday 9 to 2. Sutor was taken out in the third inning after three runs and five hits had been made against him with none out. Fanning prevented further run getting in that inning, but was found for six hits that netted three runs. Christian pitched a fine game for seven innings, only one run being made off him. He gave way to Yales who allowed the Seals one run. Cutshaw made a home run.

Sutor, Fanning and Carman; Christian, Yates and Mitze. Umpire, McCreedy.

Angels 2, Sacramento 17.

Sacramento, Oct. 7.—Three home runs, two of them by Madden and Baum, each with two men on the bases, were the features of a batting bee which Sacramento enjoyed yesterday at the expense of Agnew, the Los Angeles twirler. Doubles by DeLin and Hellmuller in the eighth and Hellmuller's home run in the ninth gave the Angels two runs and the short end of a 17 to 2 score. The Senators hit Agnew. Ten men faced Agnew in the inning, a home run, a two bagger and five singles netting five runs. Agnew asked to be allowed to finish the game and his request was granted. Dillon was spiked by Danzig in the first inning and will be out of the game for several days.

AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

All good American films for Sunday's change.

1. "Foraging." Vitagraph. Military portrayal. The martial spirit of this picture is great and takes us into the Boer war of South Africa. The main point of deep-seated interest, however, is the sincere friendship of two soldiers who share each other's joys and sorrows; the love of one of them for a "Red Cross Nurse," whom he afterwards marries. A special feature shown is the foraging expedition of the soldier boys in search of provisions.

2. "The Thief and the Girl." Biograph. A gentleman thief has planned to rob a certain residence but during the day meets with a young girl whose innocence and candor so impress him as to awaken his better nature. Imagine his surprise when he finds that the girl is one of the family which he is about to rob. This second meeting effectually wipes out all that is vicious and harmful in the man's nature and induces him to take the better road through life.

3. "A Shattered Dream." Mellis. Father Martin had lived carefully all his days in order to save enough money to enable him to fulfill the dream of his life—a visit to his birthplace across the seas. On the eve of his departure a parishioner came and confessed a theft, exposure of which would spell his ruin. The amount of the theft was the same as Father Martin had accumulated. On hearing the young man's plight, he hesitated only a moment, when with magnanimous nobility, he gave up that which was his dearest passion, to save a soul from disgrace. More noble charity would be difficult to conceive.

4. "The Prisoner of the Mohicans." American Pathé. A young girl who has gained the esteem of a poor starving Indian is afterward saved from a band of Mohicans by him. They have a race for life, first in a canoe, then by swimming. After many exciting adventures the faithful Indian restores the exhausted girl to her parents.

The Pastime.

Where you see the best in motion pictures. Sunday's program is as follows:

"How Millie Became an Actress." (Vitagraph). This whole picture is an ecstasy of delight, producing the laugh sensations that aid our digestions and whet our appetites for more at the same time. Millie is a clever comedienne. A cranky manager does not think so. She catches him unaware and proves that she is. She disguises herself and leads him a merry chase and throws him into a paroxysm of rage and everybody else into paroxysms of laughter until she makes herself known and he acknowledges that she is a "world beater" at the acting game, and he gives her an engagement in which she makes good to the delight of the manager.

"Bobbie the Coward." (Biograph). This is a more than ordinarily interesting story of the New York stunts and it is dramatic enough to be sure of success even if put on the stage in the old way. It is as human as it is well acted. The boy is a physical coward because he has nothing in his stomach; but even then he is brave enough to return the lady's lost pocket book. He gets a reward and a job too. Two burly thieves see the money and trail him home, but Bobbie comes out with flying colors proving to his sweetheart that he is not such a coward after all.

"When the Sun Went Out." (Kalem). An eclipse of the sun in this picture frightens a party of Indians into releasing their captives. This is done with an old Trojans legend. Fortunately the lovers make good time in getting away. But when the sun reappears the Indians start in hot pursuit. It is a hard chase, both their horses falter and exhausted and they come near being recaptured. But are saved by a party of emigrants.

"Madame Tallien." (Pathe). This picture shows how beauty gained this woman her freedom from the walls of a prison.

"Everyday Life in Mataneca." A

"SORRY" SAYS THUG; KILLS 1 AND ROBS 5

Lone Bandit With Face Blackened Holds Up Pine Creek Saloon.

Keelogg, Idaho.—A lone highwayman with blackened face entered Beeler & Moran's saloon, on Pine creek, near here, shot and killed one man, robbed five, including the corpse, and escaped with a roll of money.

Owen Perry, a miner working at the Nabob, apparently interpreted the robber's command to hold up as a joke and after raising his hands dropped them to his side and was instantly shot.

"I'm sorry, men. I had to do it," the desperado explained, "but it was his fault."

After relieving the dying man of money and valuables, the robber searched the others, opened the cash drawer, and with a "goodby" left with watches and about $60. A sheriff's posse was started on the trail but have not located the man.

The robber is described as a man of medium build, about 5 feet 7 inches tall and smooth shaven. He wore overalls and a black coat, but no overcoat.

BOYS DIE ALONE IN HILLS.

Bodies Are Found at Bottom of a Canyon.

Sison, Cal.—At the bottom of the narrow box canyon on the east slope of Mount Shasta, the bodies of Harry Mapes and Herbert Barr, two 19-year old boys who were lost in a snow-storm a week ago, were found by Matt Kolen, a veteran mountain guide.

Two miles from where the bodies were found was a hunter's cabin, established by the two victims shortly before they were lost in the storm. More than 100 men have been searching for the young men for several days. The bodies were removed from the canyon and brought here by automobile.

BABES STARVING AS MOTHER SEEKS WORK.

Kansas City, Mo.—Three children, the eldest 7 years, the youngest 9 months old, left alone for nearly three days with nothing to eat save a half loaf of bread, were found by the police in a small garret cottage in the outskirts of this city today. The police instituted a search for the mother, Mrs. Joseph Stewart, who is said to have left the cottage Sunday in search of work. The father left the home a year ago.

When found, Emmett, the baby, and Edith aged 4, lay asleep, weakened for lack of food. Aubrey, 7 years old sat near them weeping. The last crust of the loaf had been eaten.

"Mamma went to get work and said she'd be back soon," said Aubrey. "We were waiting for her."

The children were taken in charge by the juvenile court. The baby's condition is serious.

KILLS BROTHER; SURRENDERS.

Admits There Was No Quarrel—Slayer Suspected of Being Insane.

Sioux City, Iowa.—Having invited his brother, Charley Larson, to spend the day with him, Frank Larson, a farmer, living near Lyons, Neb., took him into a room apart from the rest of the family and shot him through the heart. He then ran out of the house, halted a passing wagon and rode to Lyons. After attending to some business without speaking of the tragedy he hunted up the village marshal and told his story. There was no quarrel, it is said, and no motive for the crime is known. The slayer has been suggested, may suddenly have become insane. The family is an old and respected one.

MARSHFIELD WILL TRY TO CHANGE ITS NAME

Marshfield, Or.—The city council of Marshfield has decided to submit to a vote of the people the plan of changing the name of Marshfield to Coos Bay. The chamber of commerce first suggested the plan and as it seemed to meet with public approval the city council was asked to take action, and a special election will be called. The postoffice department has consented to change the name of the postoffice if the name of the city is changed by the people.
