At South Omaha hogs showed an advance of from 5 to 10 cents. A large number of head of steers were disposed of this morning at the yards at prices that indicate a good steady market.

Wheat Slightly Higher.
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Notwithstanding the higher cables from Liverpool yesterday morning and the wet weather reported for the northwest, the wheat market opened with prices but a shade higher than yesterday's closing. The volume of business was only moderate. Later, however, the closing cables showed a strong tone and this caused the local shorts to start a covering movement which helped prices for a time being, but this was not followed by any new buying for longs, and the market turned to dullness. There was some new selling started by reports of the easiness of the northwest markets, and the closing prices are but a shade better than opening.

A teacher in a girls' school recently had the following excuse for absence handed her by one of her pupils:
"It gives me much pleasure to write to you because I have a worryment, and you should please excuse my Auntie, who does not come by you because she has to go to the hospital with her sister's sore eyes."

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

SEVERED SNAKE A FIGHTER.

Pennsylvania Man Goes the Limit on Serpentine Yarn.
Coatesville, Pa.—Attacked by a huge blacksnake, a little daughter of Calvin Wright, of West Cain township, eluded the reptile, reached home and told her parents. The child said she "saw the snake drinking near the pump" where she had gone to get a pail of water.

The farm help was notified and Albin Peters, John Griffith and Harry Peters went in search of the snake. A half-mile from the house, in what is known as stony hollow, the snake was discovered on the limb of a tree and Harry Peters fired a shot from a gun and cut it in twain.

Then, they say, the portion of the snake with the head attacked Peters and the other two men beat it off with clubs until they had killed that half of its body. The serpent was fifty-four inches long and four and a half inches around.

DISMISS DRINKING CADETS.

Frowning on Intoxication in the Army and Navy.
Washington.—Apparently intoxication is coming to be regarded as a much more serious offense among officers of both army and navy. It was announced at the war department that President Taft had confirmed the sentence of dismissal in the case of four of the West Point cadets recently convicted of intoxication. He commuted the sentence of four others to confinement in the barracks and gymnasium until May 31, next; the culprits meanwhile to serve punishment tours every Wednesday and Saturday. The cadets dismissed all live in the east, as do those whose sentences were commuted, except Edward S. Maule of California.

GETS HIS THIRD VISION AS 89.
Old Man, Twice Operated on, Again Reads Fine Print.
Bristol, Pa.—Although he is in his 90th year, John D. Sailer, "Uncle John" Sailer, as he is known, is recovering his eyesight, which became obscured by cataracts.

Two years ago he underwent operations on both eyes for the removal of cataracts and was able to read well for a time, until they began reforming. Finding that he was again going blind, he consulted a Philadelphia specialist, who said he could recover his sight only through the agency of one of the most delicate eye operations known to surgery. Mr. Sailer consented and is now able to read fine print.

WOMAN DRESSED IN WHITE SINGS AT BIER OF SPOUSE

Widow Acting in Accordance With Her Husband's Dying Requests Shows No Sorrow at His Death.
Indianapolis, Ind.—Standing beside a coffin containing the body of her husband Mrs. Charles Buhland carried out his last request. Dressed in white, she sang two hymns, read his request and delivered a brief eulogy.

Buhland did not want any crape at his door and he insisted that his wife should be worn in mourning for him. He desired that in the place of flowers and other symbols of joy at the funeral.

Buhland was 52 years old and was ill a year before he died.

There was no evidence of mourning in the appearance of Mrs. Buhland as she stood at the head of the coffin. In a clear, sweet voice she sang a hymn and then read her husband's request. A few of their friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Buhland embraced Spiritualism several years ago.

"If ever I would tell the truth I surely would tell it this moment," said Mrs. Buhland, "standing by the side of the casket which holds the form of my husband—the one dear to me, the form that I loved, that I have embraced, that has been my companion for more than thirty years, lover and sweetheart, husband and wife, father and mother. Under these circumstances the truth would be told.

"And I say to you that within three hours after his transition my husband appeared to me and to our son and we conversed with him, received his requests and heard from his condition.

"And he has been with us ever since." He said he would come to us, he came as he promised.

At the conclusion of the eulogy, Mrs. Buhland sang another hymn and the service ended. Not a tear was shed. The body was cremated immediately following the funeral as was requested by Buhland.
