Seattle, Wash., Oct. 10.—Carrying on their fight against Federal Judge Hanford, who issued an injunction against the people in their fight with the street car company and leading to the burning of the judge in effigy, and the arrest of nine citizens for a conspiracy against justice—which subsequently resulted in a refusal of the grand jury to indict them—two thousand citizens today presented a petition to President Taft here, telling him all about the celebrated case and asking him to make a full investigation, concluding by asking him to make a public expression of his opinion or the stand he will take in the case.

FALLS TWENTY-FIVE FEET INTO A WELL

Birch Creek Rancher Is Injured

Rescued by Fellow Workmen and Rushed to Hospital in This City for Treatment.

Falling twenty-five feet down a well on his ranch when an old platform covering it gave way, Gus Belky a well known farmer of the Birch creek country, had a narrow escape from death yesterday morning. As it was he was severely cut and bruised and is now confined in St. Anthony's hospital.

The accident occurred at about 10:30 when he was engaged in cleaning out the well. One of the boards on the platform suddenly broke and Mr. Belky was precipitated to the bottom of the well. He is a large man, weighing about 215 pounds, and struck with great force. His head hit violently, causing several large scalp wounds and cutting several gashes on his face. He was rescued immediately by a fellow workman and hurried over the ten miles intervening between his ranch and this city to the office of Dr. C. J. Smith. His wounds had bled profusely and considerable difficulty was had in stopping the flow. A large cut on the top of the scalp one on the forehead and several on the face had to be closed with several stitches and the patient was then removed to the hospital where today he is resting easily.

BANK WRECKER J. R. WALSH IS PAROLED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—John R. Walsh, the aged Chicago bank wrecker, who three years ago was convicted on fifty-four counts of 152 indictments returned against him by a grand jury for misuse of deposited funds in his bank, for which he was sentenced to the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., was today paroled.

He began his sentence in March, 1908, and his aged wife has worked continuously since that time to secure his release. Official announcement of executive clemency to the bank wrecker is being withheld in Washington by the government officials, as the parole is directly conflicting with the stand that was taken last May by President Taft when he refused to liberate Walsh, saying that to do so would defeat the object of the law under which he was convicted, after Walsh had robbed hundreds of women children and poor people who had their all deposited in his bank. Regarding the pardon for Walsh, President Taft at that time said: "A pardon for Walsh would defeat the object of the law and present a demoralizing difference between the punishment that is meted out to the ordinary criminal whose adverse circumstances naturally led him to commit a crime, and one whose position in society should make him the strongest in the restraint against a violation of the law."

TURKS DRIVE ITALIANS BACK

Make First Decisive Resistance Against the Invaders.

MORE TROOPS EN ROUTE

Germany Resents Insinuations of American Press That She Is Responsible for War Now Being Waged in Dispute Over Tripolitan Territory.

Chinasho, Switzerland, Oct. 10.—The first decisive repulse to the Italian forces that have invaded Tripoli, since the declaration of war by Italy against Turkey, according to dispatches received here today, occurred this morning when a force of marines from the Italian fleet in the harbor, landed and started to march inland. The Turkish forces, supported by a body of Arabs, chased the invaders back to the gates of the city where the retreating Italians took refuge under the protecting fire of the guns of the fleet in the harbor. The big projectiles, fired from the warships, caused the pursuing Turks and Arabs to retreat.

MOR. TROOPS DISPATCHED

London, Oct. 10.—Dispatches received here today from Naples say that twenty Italian transports sailed today for Syracuse where they will be joined by a second fleet of transports all loaded with Italian troops, for a second expedition into the Tripolitan territory. The belief prevails here that the sending of more troops into the disputed territory means that real war is soon to begin between the two belligerent countries.

DISCLAIMS WAR RESPONSIBILITY

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Positively declining to accept the responsibility for the Turkey-Italian war, directly or indirectly, and its possible consequences, the German government today expressed surprise at the stand which it believes the American press has taken over the war. High officials said the government is "astounded" to learn that the American press held Germany's political aspirations responsible for the war and say Germany declines to accept any such responsibility.

JUVENILE MIMICS OF ROUND-UP STARS ROPE TWO DEER AFTER EXCITING CHASE

McKay creek comes forward with a post-Round-Up story that rival that of the roping of the chicken thief last week by young Frank Smith of this city in the element of the sensational. While engaged in practicing Round-Up feats on the reservation near McKay creek last Sunday, four boys suddenly came upon two deer, evidently frightened down out of the timber, gave chase on their horses and after four hours, succeeded in bringing them to earth with their lassoes. Drawing their knives they quickly cut the throats of their captives and returned home in triumph trailing their victims in the dust.

This is the story brought to the city this morning by Dan Shaw, prominent rancher of McKay creek, and which he avers to be absolutely true. To a number of local people today he described the sensational chase and capture in detail.

The boys have been in the habit, he says, since the Round-Up of mounting their cowponies and practicing feats which they saw performed at the frontier show. Last Sunday while engaged in this emulation of the wild west celebrities they suddenly espied the two stragglers from the forest, and with yells and whoops of delight, dashed in pursuit.

Most Exciting Chase. By the description given by Mr. Shaw, no English fox hunt was never more exciting than this chase of ven-

FEDERALS IN A TRAP

Fighting Desperately Against Overwhelming Odds of Indians—Southern Territory in Hands of Revolutionists and Government Worried.

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 10.—So completely have the insurgent Indians gained control throughout the state of Morelos that the Mexican government has found it necessary to take drastic measures to suppress the revolution and today a request was sent to the United States government, asking permission to dispatch Mexican federal troops through American territory, via El Paso, Texas and Nogales, Ariz., so they can reach the scene of the rebellion in the vicinity of Sinaloa, as quickly as possible. A report received by the government today from Puebla states that the federal forces at that place have been caught in a trap by a large body of Zapatista Indians and that a bitter battle is being waged in which the federals are getting the worst of it.

Several battles have been fought by the revolutionists and the small bands of federal troops, and in most of them the federal troops have been defeated or put to flight.

An official report, however, states that in a battle fought a few days ago in northern Mexico, resulted in a victory for the federals. Thirty rebels are reported to have been slain and more than seventy wounded. This battle occurred near Chiapa de Corzo. The outbreak in southern Mexico is also reported to be assuming alarming proportions and in every conflict, according to the reports, the revolutionists have proven more than equal to the forces of the government.

This was the substance of a message received this afternoon from La Grande.

The three well known cowboys were arrested several months ago and charged with rustling horses and the state had constructed a careful case against them. For the purpose of convicting them, Roy Lund, a convict, was brought from Salem and made damaging testimony against the accused, but later, when the defense took the stand, Lund was impeached a dozen times. Portland, Ore., Oct. 10.—Members of the striking federation of shopmen on the Harriman lines in this city have received letters from Oakland, California, strikers, today asking them to ascertain the sentiment among all classes of railroad employes, with the exception of the engineers and conductors, on the proposition of calling a general strike.

The letter states that the railroad men in San Francisco, Oakland and other California cities have been sounded out and it is found that they are all willing to go out on strike. The situation here and at other strike centers, so far as can be ascertained, is unchanged.

The machinists demand an increase of fifteen cents per hour.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

Centralia, Wash., Oct. 10.—L. E. Young, a blacksmith at Adna, was arrested here following an investigation of the burning to death of Mrs. O. L. Santhuff in fire that destroyed the Plymouth hotel and other buildings at Adna Sunday night. There is evidence, the authorities assert, that the woman was murdered and the fire started to conceal the crime. Young's connection with the case is based on statements that he had been corresponding with the woman, who came here from Auburn last Saturday and rented the hotel.

Young asserts that he spent Sunday night in his room. He said that he had dinner at 6 o'clock with Mrs. Santhuff and her husband. Young says that after dinner he went home and was not awakened until he heard the cry of fire. Santhuff has not been found.

BOY FATALLY SHOT BY HIS FATHER

Newport, Ore., Oct. 10.—While out bear hunting about four miles northwest of this city, Jerome Young accidentally shot and killed Fred, his fifteen-year-old son. Young had climbed a tree to take a look around and was descending when his 20-30 rifle caught on a limb and was discharged, the bullet struck his son, who stood underneath the tree, in the abdomen, passed through his body and made its exit through the spine, making a fearful and deadly wound. The grief-stricken parent hurried the wounded boy to the Monterey hotel about two miles distant and the nearest point, for assistance. A telephone message to this place brought out a physician and the mother, who arrived just as the lad was breathing his last. He was conscious long enough to recognize his mother before he died.
