WORLD SERIES GAME AGAIN POSTPONED

Philadelphia Pa., Oct. 19.—Light rains again fell here today, causing the National Baseball commission to again postpone the fourth game of the world championship series between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics.

The rain fell early in the day and the weather later cleared, but the diamond was not in the best condition for a game. Fair weather is predicted for tomorrow.

Philadelphia fans are thoroughly disgusted with the weather, believing that it will prove an important factor in deciding the championship, as they figure that each day's rest increases the chances of the New York Giants for winning the fourth game, as the New York pitchers are sorely in need of rest.

WICKERSHAM FOR U. S. BENCH

Former Trust Attorney to Succeed Justice Harlan is Outlook.

TAFT CONSIDERS HIM PERTINENT QUESTIONS

BELIEVES PEOPLE CAN BE MADE TO LOOK UPON ATTORNEY GENERAL AS ONE BUSTER OF TRUSTS.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 19.—Attorney General Wickersham looms large today as the favorite candidate for the vacancy on the United States supreme court bench which was made vacant last week by the death of Justice Harlan.

Out of a long list of names of men who are eligible to the appointment which President Taft today began to consider, there is only one progressive republican. That is Secretary Fisher, of the department of the interior, and his chances are believed to be decidedly slim.

Among the others who are being considered by the president are Secretary of War Stimson, Solicitor General Lehman, Thomas Marshall, a prominent attorney of New York, and Circuit Judge Warrington of Cincinnati, O., whom President Taft appointed to the federal bench.

President Taft realizes that the appointment of Attorney General Wickersham to the supreme bench might provoke some adverse criticism as the attorney general's former connection with Wall Street interests, does not reflect to his credit, but the president on the other hand believes that the people can be made to swallow Wickersham as a trust buster.

Regarding his appointment, the president has stated that he will have nothing definite to say until he completes his tour, which will not end until the middle of next month as he realizes that the appointment will go a long way toward influencing his political affairs.

Chris Lewis, the Greek who lured Mrs. Grace Dillman, a seventeen-year-old girl wife, from this city to Walla Walla and from Walla Walla to La Grande for immoral purposes, was yesterday convicted by a trial jury in the Portland federal court on four different counts, the aggregate punishment of which could be made the third of a life-time. Sentence will not be passed upon him until Saturday and it is certain that the finding of the jury will insure him a severe punishment.

Shortly before the Round-Up, Mrs. Dillman, left her husband and home in this city for a visit with relatives and friends in Walla Walla. At the local depot she had trouble with her valise, so the story goes, whereupon Lewis enters upon the scene in faultless style and offers to carry it for her and receiving her permission decided that he too would journey to the Garden City.

"Who asked you to give a Trust democrat the preference over an anti-trust republican?"

Continuing Mr. Bryan said: "You appointed Governor Hughes associate justice after he had interpreted your platform to suit the trusts and he proceeded to join Justice White and fulfill your promise, to amend the anti-trust law, by weakening it."

"Publish the written and verbal recommendations, upon which you appointed Governor Hughes and let the people see how many trust magnates united to secure his appointment."

DOCTOR SURPRISES FRIENDS BY WEDDING

Dr. Edward O. Parker, well known physician of the city, "slipped one over" on his many friends today when without any announcement of his intentions, he was married to Miss Florence M. Simmons. The wedding took place at noon at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. J. M. Cornelison, 517 Union street and the doctor and his bride took delayed No. 17 for Portland.

The bride is a trained nurse and came here about a year ago from Ontario, Canada, and has since been administering to patients in St. Anthony's hospital and in private homes. Dr. Parker became acquainted with her while engaged in his professional duties and their romance has been one of the sick room. Reports from the Garden City indicate that the pictures scored the greatest hit of anything of their kind ever exhibited in that burg, people crowding the theater every evening and many being turned away from the doors because of an insufficient capacity.

Attorney General Crawford leaves for Washington early next week to defend the case for the state.

MAYOR REFUSES TO MEET THE PRESIDENT

Newspaper Men Rescue Chief Executive from Embarrassing Predicament in Montana.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 19.—Fresh from the sweltering heat in which he sweated while sojourning in California, President Taft arrived here and was greeted by a freezing temperature and a snow storm and the frosty atmosphere was not confined entirely to the weather, for there was no official reception prepared for him and Mayor Duncan, a socialist, flatly refused to meet the president and left the city on a lecturing tour.

This three things generally in a turmoil and had it not been for the energetic efforts of local newspaper men, the president would have had an uncomfortable time while in the city. The journalists came to Mr. Taft's rescue, persuading Governor Norris to come and officiate at the meeting which the president addressed.

President Taft was noticeably annoyed by the treatment. Mr. Taft took breakfast at the Silver Bow hotel and delivered his address at the Broadway theater and then left for Bozeman, Livingston and Billings, at which town his program for today will end.

JURY DRAWING STILL GOES ON

McNamara Defense Keeps Up Fight Against Dynamite Theory.

AWAITING DECISION

JUDGE BORDWELL MUST SOON HAND DOWN RULING ON JURORS WHO HAVE OPINION REGARDING EXPLOSION.

Hall of Records, Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—Pending the decision of Judge Bordwell, whether a venireman, who believes the Times was dynamited but is still willing to assume that the McNamara brothers are innocent of murder, is eligible as a juror, the defense today continued its efforts to disqualify such men for the jury.

The greater part of the morning's session was devoted to qualifying E. C. Robinson and F. D. Green, both of whom were passed by the defense.

Defense attorneys tried hard to disqualify Robinson, because he admitted he was prejudiced against the use of strikes, by labor unions, but they failed. Davis was passed quickly, as he showed no impartiality.

When the noon recess was ordered, Attorney Davis was questioning E. J. Stowers. When this is completed, the court has to take up for decision, the dynamite question, as there are two men in the box, Jessen and McKee, who have been challenged because they claim the Times was dynamited, but are willing to believe the McNamaras innocent.

Showers, who is a painter and contractor said he believed the unions were glad when the Times was destroyed, and that he opposed labor unions as organized now, but not the principle that forms the basis of their organization.
