AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.

Vitagraph feature film for Tuesday's change:

1. "One Flag at Last." Vitagraph. This is one grand picture. A romantic love story of the civil war, culminating in the declaration of peace and the accomplishment of two happy unions under the one flag. There are war scenes, stirring incidents and there are scenes of love in the home and the heart strong in their appeal to our emotions. All is fair in love and war, particularly when the result is peace and the end happy. By all means see this beautiful portrayal.

2. "A Shot from the Brush." Gaumont. Telling how a poor woman, who aided by an old soldier, proves her gratitude to the man who had befriended her, even at the expense of losing her own child. The child is recaptured in a thrilling encounter, during which some exciting horseman-ship is shown.

3. "Under the Palms of Tunis, Africa." Gaumont. An interesting film illustrating Nefta and the surrounding country in the desert of Tunis.

4. "The Express Envelope." Kalem. The old station agent becomes ill and his daughter, Hazel, takes his place. Freight Engineer Tom Evans, Hazel's sweetheart makes a call. A message comes over the wire addressed to the superintendent of the Lucky Strike mine reading: "Express envelope containing money for monthly payroll on 9:20 express. H. L. Babbs treasurer." While Hazel is on the station platform signing for the package, a couple of tramps enter the station and see the telegram. Hazel is attacked and they demand the money which she has in the station. Getting her right hand free, standing by her back to the operating table, Hazel calls the operator at the station five miles away, asking for help. The operator receives the call and rushes out to a freight train on the siding. Running to the engineer, who happens to be Tom Evans, he tells him of Hazel's danger. Evans uncouples his engine from the train and rushes to the rescue, arriving in time to protect Hazel and the express envelope and also captures the tramps. A thrilling railroad story based on a recent happening in the west.

5. "The Life Saver." Lubin. An absorbing love drama with scenes on the Maine coast. The picture is filled with local color including an excellent exhibition drill of the U. S. Life Saving Corps. There is also considerable comedy of a high order.

now manager of a concern, became interested in his office boy and one day accompanied him home. Meeting his wife restored his memory and there was a happy reunion.

"Lone Eagle's Trust." Powers. An Indian story that is "different." Lone Eagle wounded in battle is cared for by a rancher and remains on the ranch as a cowboy. The rancher's girl fell over a cliff, but caught a small tree and hung suspended over a deep canyon. Lone Eagle while rescuing her is shot by an enemy who in turn is shot by the rancher. But Lone Eagle was not badly hurt and was the hero of all the ranch country.

"The Connecting Link." Eclair. A pretty child drama of unusual interest. The husband forgot his sick wife being lured away by another girl but the child's great love, coupled with wisdom, enables her to unite her parents in a novel way.

"A Marriage in the Stars." Eclair. An amusing farce comedy skillfully portrayed by some of the leading Parisian actors, containing just enough comedy in the right place to give it a pleasant taste. The young folks had lots of trouble outwitting a cranky old daddy and their trials are entertaining and amusing.

"An Obliging Young Man." Eclair. He was a genius at obliging. What he couldn't do, all in an instant wasn't worth speaking about. The favors performed are astonishing and lead to many complications.

61 HEROES REWARDED.

Carnegie Commission Gives Out 47 Bronze and 12 Silver Medals to Rescuers.

Pittsburg—Forty seven bronze and twelve silver medals were awarded by the Carnegie hero fund commission at its fall meeting here as a recognition of heroism in saving life or in attempts in which the life of the hero was jeopardized. In addition cash awards were made for reimbursing loss, for relieving debt in homes and the purchase of homes, for educational and other worthy purposes as needed, amounting to $53,936. Pensions to survivors amounting to $315 monthly also were issued and for children left $3 a month was awarded each, to be amount of $50 monthly.

Of the rescues, one of the most novel is that of saving a man from a wild animal. Of the others thirty are

A NEW GRILL SOON TO OPEN

Thursday morning will witness the opening of a new cafe and grill in the city. Two caterers of experience having made preparations for operating such an eating place in connection with the Hotel St. George. Jean Laurent, for a number of years chef at the Imperial Hotel in Portland, and Miss Verne Waddell, for the past nine years in charge of the dining room of the Hotel Pendleton, have leased the rooms just to the rear of the St. George lobby in which were located the old bar and billiard room and will be partners in the new venture, the former having charge of the kitchen and the latter of the dining room.

Workmen are today engaged in thoroughly renovating the rooms and when they are through, the interior will present a very attractive appearance to the eating public. Three boxes are being constructed in the back part of the rear room, but the rest of the floor space will be open.

The news of the opening of the new grill is being received with pleasure and the general opinion is that success will attend the institution.

FIND WOMEN IN OPIUM DENS.

Capital Police Raid Chinese Joints Near Halls of Congress.

Washington, D. C.—Revenue officers and local detectives raided four Chinese opium dens in lower Pennsylvania avenue and within 500 yards of the capitol. They confiscated about $8000 worth of the drug and took as evidence a collection of hairpins, women's clothing and shoes, which they believe will help to establish the fact that the dens are frequented by large numbers of women.

Lee Ying, who runs a cigar store at 248 Pennsylvania avenue, was locked up charged with dealing in the forbidden drug. When the raiders broke into the rooms over his store they found twenty Chinamen and two white men sleeping peacefully in bunks around the walls.

The other three establishments were doing as lively a business as Ying's. A white woman of middle age with a child in her arms was found in one of the places. The child was playing with a pipe.

Outlaws Terrorize a Town.

Cokeville, Wyo., Oct. 24.—Five men rode into this town and for nearly an hour held the place at their mercy. It is believed that two members of the party were the Whitney brothers, who have been terrorizing parts of southern Idaho and western Wyoming for whom a search is now being made.

The men took a shot at a bartender, then going out on to the street ordered the residents to their homes. They shot Peter H. Anderson in the leg. Later they rode to the office of County Attorney Reynolds and took several shots at him, but none was effective.

$100 REWARD.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DOG ADOPTS PIG.

Orphan Is Content With Bull Terrier As Its Mother.

Kansas City, Kan.—The big brindle bull terrier of Harry Bruce, 1816 South Twelfth street, is raising a motherless pig which was rescued at the stock yards and is as fond of it as if it really belonged to her.

The pig was brought from the stock yards when it was one day old by Carl Wurst, 14 years old, son of Mrs. Hattie Wurst, 1823 South Valley street, living across the alley from Bruce's. The dog left her own home for the pig and she is so fond of it that no stranger is allowed to touch her "little one." Bullie, the dog, stays with the pig all the time. The pig now is a week old and is contented with the old mother and is growing rapidly.

Bullie lost her own family a few days before she undertook to raise the orphan pig. The moment she saw the pig she adopted it and the pig appeared to feel it had found a friend.
