FEARED REBEL OUTBREAK

Revolutionists Score Many Victories and Imperial Troops Mutiny and Desert - International Complications is New Grave Danger.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 26.—In a panic at the unmistakable signs of a rebel outbreak at Peking, the Manchurian royal princess, with the child emperor, and many high officials are in full flight from the capital to the town of Yit Hwa, which is 150 miles away, according to dispatches received by the Chinese Free Press here, from Hong Kong.

Cables confirm the reported surrender of Admiral Suoh on the Yangtze river and tell of repeated rebel victories in the southeastern states.

It is reported that there is a plot afoot to assassinate General Yen Tyhang, whose force of 20,000, was badly defeated by the rebels Tuesday. His troops are honeycombed with rebels.

A large body of Imperial troops in the province of Qui Chow have mutinied and joined the rebels, gaining complete control of the state.

The cities of Sian Fu and Fu Chow in Sain province, are reported captured.

Ready to Invade Peking.

Shanghai, Oct. 26.—It is reported here that General Li Yuan Hing and his rebel army is preparing for an immediate advance on Peking. The road to the capital was opened when the revolutionists overwhelmingly defeated General Yen Tchang's forces.

International War Feared.

Tokyo, Oct. 26.—International complications are feared in China, as a result of the discovery that German army officers have been conducting the Chinese expeditionary forces under the pretext of being foreign attaches. The situation is grave and if true may result in international complications.

While no official announcement has been made it is stated that the Japanese government is fully informed on the subject and that communications regarding it have been dispatched to London and Berlin.

It was hinted that the Japanese mobilization of troops at Kyushu may have been caused by the possibility of serious eventualities, because of Germany's activity.

Keen interest in what Great Britain will do, if the charges are confirmed are manifest here. Germany and England are both bitter over the Chinese trade.

Canton Reported Fallen.

Shanghai, Oct. 26.—It is reported that the revolutionists have seized Canton, after a hard fight, in which the casualties were very heavy. It is reported that the Chinese emperor is preparing to go to Mukden to put himself under Japanese protection.

Commits Suicide.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 26.—The body of Mrs. J. O. Whitmarsh, who disappeared from a sanitarium near here yesterday, was found today beneath a pipe line trestle. It is believed Mrs. Whitmarsh, who was the wife of the superintendent and part owner of a logging railway at Burlington, Wash., committed suicide by leaping from the trestle.

Who Wouldn't Be.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 26.—"I am glad of the opportunity to have my name changed," said Miss Katherine Ottorordemgentcheff, a twenty-three year old, today, as she handed the papers which made her privileged to change the burdensome appellation. She will be married, to Louis Kalen, a farmer.

TO INVOKE RECALL AGAINST DIST. ATTY.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 26.—It was learned authoritatively this afternoon that a movement is afoot to recall District Attorney Cameron on the grounds of malfeasance of office. Petitions are to appear in three days.

Cameron recently was bitterly attacked by several city councilmen and the Portland Ministerial association because of his alleged disinclination to prosecute the tenderloin men who were accused of graft.

PREACHER CHASES AND ARRESTS MAN

Rev. Charles Quinney Drags Offender to Policeman and Fifty Dollar Fine Is Assessed.

Rev. Charles E. Quinney, rector of the Church of the Redeemer. Last night demonstrated that a minister of the gospel can sometimes protect his flock from worldly wiles as well as administer to their spiritual wants when he pursued and captured single handed a man who had been following ladies of his church and annoying them with his attentions. The man in question was D. C. Knowlton, who has figured in other unsavory episodes in this city.

While several of the lady members of the Episcopal choir were en route to the church for practice last evening, Knowlton in an intoxicated condition, followed them until they entered the church. Greatly excited, they reported the matter to their minister and the police were immediately notified. Officer Kearney hastened to the corner of Court and Johnson streets, where Knowlton was last seen and Rev. Quinney started toward Cottonwood street. He espied the offender, gave pursuit, seized him by the collar and led him forcibly to the city hall, where he held him until Officer Sheer arrived and put him in jail. Knowlton was brought into police court this morning, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fifty dollar fine or spend twenty-five days in jail. The fine was paid and Knowlton is now at liberty.

MEXICO CITY IS BESIEGED BY REBELS

Mexico City, Oct. 26.—With the Zapatista rebel army within four miles of the capital and an engagement between them, numbering 2000, and 500 federals momentarily expected, Mexico is today facing another big crisis.

The rebels already control three states and others are ready to follow, they assert. The capital is practically defenseless.

A big crowd gathered today at the city hall and shouted for the rebels, which President-elect Madero claims he will have whipped in a few days after his inauguration to the presidency November 5.

If the Zapatistas overthrow the federals outside the city, the inauguration probably won't be held.

Wire communication was severed this morning.

DOYLE CLAIMS HE DID LEGALLY TOUCH PLATE

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—In reply to a report credited to Empire Klem, who said that Captain Doyle of the Giants did not touch home plate yesterday in the run which won the game for New York, Doyle said he certainly did touch the plate. Klem was quoted as saying that he would have had to call Doyle out had the Athletics protested, because Doyle in his long slide went over the plate without touching it.

Pitcher Coombs Hit

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Pitcher Coombs of the Athletics is seriously ill from injuries he sustained in yesterday's New York game. He is in a hospital but no operation is necessary. He caught his foot in the box in delivering the ball in the sixth inning and hurt himself internally. Despite the pain he pitched until the tenth inning, when he had to quit.

PILOT ROCK HAS BAD FIRE

Hotel, Restaurant and Livestock Barn Razed By Early Morning Blaze.

ORIGIN NOT DETERMINED

Entire Population Turn Out to Combat Fire Demon—Town Is Now Without Public Eating House—Loss Is Partly Covered by Insurance.

The most disastrous fire in the history of Pilot Rock early this morning reduced to a heap of ashes the Pilot Rock livery barn, the Pilot Rock Hotel and the J. K. Smith restaurant, with most of the contents of the three buildings and for a time threatened the destruction of the whole town. In fact, according to advices from that town, had it not been for the heroic work of volunteer firemen, assisted by the dampness from the recent rain, the flames would undoubtedly have swept the town off the map. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

McManus Property Endangered.

The Smith restaurant and the Pilot Rock hotel stand on the south side of Willow street in a row with the livery barn and they were quickly ignited by the leaping flames. The postoffice building owned by J. P. McManus and the McManus residence just across the street were after several times but the bucket brigade banded to the roof and by valiant work saved these buildings. The Carnes Bros. mercantile store also had a narrow escape and would undoubtedly have been lost had the building not been moved back sixty feet recently preliminary to the erection of a new building.

All of the contents of the livery barn with the exception of the fourteen head of horses stabled there perished and most of the furniture of the hotel was lost, although several pieces were removed from the ground floor rooms. The restaurant was practically a complete loss.

Los Partly Covered.

The livery barn was the property of Mrs. S. L. Morse formerly of this city, as was the building occupied by the restaurant. According to County Clerk Frank Saling, son-in-law of Mrs. Morse the two buildings were insured for $1000. D. Forster, who conducted the livery business, estimates his loss at $1900 with $1200 of that sum covered by insurance. J. F. Rowe, formerly proprietor of the French restaurant in this city, carried $2000 insurance on his hotel.

Without Cutting Facilities. The fire this morning leaves Pilot Rock without eating houses. On March 17, the City Hotel, also owned by Mr. Smith, was burned to the ground and the town was then badly handicapped in its accommodation for strangers. Mr. Smith soon leased the Morse store building and started a restaurant and now for the second time has had his business destroyed by fire. The Pilot Rock Hotel was one of the oldest public houses in the town, having been erected thirty years ago. Recently Mr. Rowe made improvements in it to the amount of several hundred dollars.

Credit Due Firemen.

Too much praise can not be bestowed upon the volunteer firemen, according to those who witnessed the blaze. The fire equipment of Pilot Rock consists only of a mechanical engine ladders and buckets. The engine was disabled after the first few minutes of operation and the firemen were left with only the primitive facilities. However, by their bravery and persistence, they finally accomplished what many thought to be impossible and the town was saved from destruction.

Proceeds to State.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 26.—Congressman Stanton Warburton of Washington, who is in this city, stated last night that he expects to introduce a bill at the coming session of congress which will divert 25 per cent of the proceeds of the sale of timber from the national forest reserves to the state in which the timber is cut. The bill will prove that the money so secured shall be used in the construction of highways within such state. Mr. Warburton believes the bill will be supported by the congressional delegations from every state which a national forest is located.

M'NAMARA JURY PANEL EXHAUSTED

Court Takes Recess Until Tomorrow

Judge Bordwell Allows Challenge of Man With Gas Theory But Not of Dynamite.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 26.—With the initial panel exhausted and only four possibilities as jurors secured, the McNamara trial resumed today, Attorney Darrow for the defense, taking up the examination of E. L. Essley, a transfer man, the last of the first panel.

Venitronman Manning, whom both sides passed, is sick and may have to withdraw. He was looked upon as the only one of the four that would be finally chosen.

The defense today is still wroth over Judge Bordwell's action, in allowing the state's challenge against Walter Coward, who believed that gas destroyed the Times.

They say that Coward's opinion was parallel to the McKee case, who the defense challenged because he believed that dynamite was the cause of the explosion, and Judge Bordwell would not allow the challenge of the defense.

Essley was finally excused and the judge reserved his decision until tomorrow on the winter challenge. The court then suddenly adjourned until tomorrow forenoon, because the original panel was exhausted.

Judge Bordwell decided to call a new venire of forty men and directed the sheriff to have them in court tomorrow forenoon. He would not borrow veniremen from the other superior court departments, because it was not justice to the veniremen.

ARIZONA DEMOS NOMINATE HUNT

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 26.—"I figure I have carried eleven of fourteen counties in Arizona. Progressive democratic principles have been vindicated at the primaries and it assures us that the great principles laid down in our constitution will be carried to successful issues on December 12, and assure the rest of the nation that progressive ideas and progressive men will be at the head of affairs in the national and state government."

This was the statement made today by George Hunt of Globe, the democratic nominee for governor, who will fight it out with Edwin Wells, republican, for the governorship in December.

Though forty hours have elapsed since the polls closed, the state vote is not all counted, it is certain that Hunt and Wells are nominated.

Taylor Family Reunion.

When G. W. Taylor, brother of H. J. Taylor, well known farmer, arrives the latter part of this week from his home in Kansas City he will see his sister for the first time since 1873. The Taylor family lives in Missouri and it was in '73 that the Pendleton man and his sister, now Mrs. Cornelius Burton, left the old state for California. Mr. and Mrs. Burton are now visiting here as guests of the latter's brother and wife and yesterday Mr. Taylor received a message from his Kansas City brother stating that it is his sister would wait he would make a trip to Oregon for a family reunion. He is expected about Saturday. Day before yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Taylor with Mr. and Mrs. Burton as guests, made an auto trip to Walla Walla and the party returned yesterday after having visited in the Garden City.

Strike Quotient Causes Fight.

The railroad strike was responsible for damage to the features of both W. L. Frink and Tom McMahon last night and for their subsequent arrest on a d and d charge. Frink works in the local railroad yards and McMahon has been making life unpleasant for him recently by hurling the odious term "scab" at him. Last night Frink retorted that a number of years ago McMahon himself did scab work and a fist fight resulted. Both men were arrested and given the option of a ten dollar fine or five days in jail this morning. Frink paid the money and his antagonist is now an inmate of the bastille.

Shibo Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—By today winning their fourth victory over the New York Giants, National League pennant holders, in the world's baseball championship series, the Philadelphia Athletics, winners of the American League pennant, are again the world's champions of the diamond. The game resulted 13 to 2 and the last score secured by the Giants was contributed by the victors through charity and sympathy for their poor showing.

All the pitching craft of Ames, Wiltze and Marquard failed to stem the tide that pushed by the Athletics, except over and overwhelmed the New Yorkers, while Bender for the Philadelphia team, held the victors safe at all times and allowing the one hit in the last inning and other gratifies that enabled New York to secure one more run.

The playing of the Giants was pitifully rotten in the seventh inning when it seemed impossible for any one who got hold of the ball to put it anywhere near the proper place, which, together with seven hits allowed by Wiltze, enabled the Athletics to pile up seven runs in addition to the six they had secured in previous innings.
