The Cosy.
For Wednesday and Thursday, two stories of great heart-interest, a western comedy drama and a good comedy.
"Fate." Reliance. A story of two homeless boys who lived with a noted thief in a hovel and were forced to steal by their master. But when a lady dropped her purse they returned it to her. Later, one of the boys runs away to escape a beating, and falling asleep on the lady's stairs, is taken in and fed. The thief sees this and he plans to rob the house, thinking the boy will aid him. But the kid, at the risk of his life screamed for help; the thief was

WHAT'S THE REASON?
Many Pendleton People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.
There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Likely the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that is the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys, assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills.
Below is grateful testimony from a sufferer in this locality.
Mrs. Frank Pike, 101 Greenwood street, La Grande, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were used in our family and proved very effective. The person who took this remedy had weak kidneys and suffered a great deal from backache. Stopping was difficult and sharp twinges often darted through the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills were used on a friend's advice and it did not take them long to bring relief."

caught and the two pals found a "real home."
"In the Chorus." Thanhouse. The "Thanhouse Kid" is seen in this fine story. The young widow left her child at an institution and joined the chorus. The child ran away and was found and cared for by a kind old couple, and her mother received word she was dead. Ten years later a theatrical manager induced the girl to go to the city and she joined the same troupe her mother was in. Recognized by a birthmark, the mother induced the girl to return home and without revealing her identity left hoping some day to be worthy enough to reveal herself.
"The Stolen Horse." Champion. A western comedy drama. When the new teacher arrived all the males "fixed" up for her and all promptly fell in love, but in a month only two remained at her heels, Hank and Ned. One day Rose got hurt and Hank sent his man for a doctor and when Ned came along with a lame horse and wanted to get a doctor, Hank wouldn't tell him he had already sent for one. Ned, in despair, went to Hank's barn and took a horse and Hank to be mean accused Ned of stealing the horse. The girl told Ned to put his horse in Hank's barn and say he had "swapped" with Hank. The cowboys on finding that Ned's horse was really in Hank's barn let Ned go.
"The Phoney Ring." Solax. Mr. Franklin gave the scrub woman at his office a fake diamond ring. His wife found the ring and, thinking it was for her, took it. She showed it to all her friends, who told her it was paste. Mr. Franklin rushed out to get a good ring which he put in place of the bum one. His wife, not knowing he had changed the rings, threw the good one out of the window. After many experiences she got the ring back and was happy.

Union Presbyterian church are using soothing lotions as a result of 10 minutes of lively fistcuffs over church affairs. In the fight the pastor was thrown from the window.
Dr. Rudolph, with a number of his friends, were sitting quietly in the rear of the auditorium of the church while trustees and other church workers arraigned the pastor in severe terms for attempting to retain possession of the church after he had resigned from the board of governors.
Then a motion was carried to go into executive session in a room adjoining the church and the pastor and his friends, inferentially, were invited to absent themselves.
Mr. Rudolph, however, led his cohorts around to a back door and entered the room. A fight immediately became general. Women in hysterics bolted into the open air, while a dozen or more men punched at each other in grim and almost silent earnestness, several of them becoming enraged while attempting to act as peacemakers.
GIRL UNMARTS GARNETS.
She Finds Some Fine Gems in a Water Trench.
Holmeville, Pa.—Fine garnets have been discovered on a hill near here, where a trench had been dug for water pipes. Miss Blanche Pennington was the first finder. Several of the gems were sent to a Philadelphia lapidary, who pronounced them genuine and of the Turkish quality. Previous to this garnets have been found along the Neshaminy, but they were not transparent enough to be cut for jewelry.
HURLS $450 INTO THE BAY.
Sailor Throws Away Money His Friends Want to Safeguard.
Vallejo, Calif.—Rather than surrender his funds to two friends for safe-keeping, Paul C. Reagan, a sailor, tossed $450 in gold overboard from a launch in which the men were coming ashore. The friends had attempted to prevent Reagan from landing with the money while intoxicated.

Orpheum.
Edison feature for Friday and Saturday.
1. "The Battle of Trafalgar." Of all the spectacular pictures the Edison company has made, this will rank well at the top. Historically, it is correct in every detail. This was the great battle fought by Lord Nelson against the combined fleets of France and Spain, October 21, 1805, and resulted in his death. The battle scenes on board the "Victory" and the fatal shot that killed Nelson are wonderful in their realism, while the death scene itself is full of dignified pathos. It is a film that no one can afford to miss.
2. "A Quaker Mother." Vitagraph. An emotional drama. An evidence of maternal influences as a guide through life. A beautiful picture of motherly love and solicitude. The old fashioned kind that exercises the best influence and makes the world and everybody in it better.
3. "A Western Memory." Pathos. A remarkable story of western life with a charming love story all through it.
4. "A Convenient Burglar." Biograph. Mrs. Gay planning to visit mother. Mr. Gay feels a good time with the boys in sight. Wife, however, is prevented from going just as she arrives at the railroad station, and catches Gay just as he is about to leave for the roof garden. She enters, though, a time to prevent one of Gay's friends from escaping. This friend pretends to be a burglar and Gay gets out by taking the supposed burglar to the police (). Roof garden now for theirs. However, Gay stays away too long and gets in bad.
5. "When Wife Holds the Purse Strings." Biograph. Mr. Goodhouse is forced to hand over every cent of his salary to wife. He is allowed fifty cents for spending—how generous. He meets some of his friends and they stick him for a large bill, for which he gives his "I. O. U." He later plans to pay this by "losing" his wife's watch and having her advertise and offer a reward for its return. The scheme would have worked if his accomplice hadn't been disloyal.

The Pastime.
Where the best in motion pictures are shown.
"McKee Rankins, '49." Selig. McKee Rankin made this story of '49 a relic of bygone days, as famous in its day as Mr. Jefferson's Rip, and it was considered one of the most perfect characterizations of the cities in America, and it was received with equal applause in the foreign tours made by Mr. Rankin, where its truths and naturalness won instant appreciation.
"The Senator's Conquest." Lubin. Sheriff Ralph Duncan had determined to wipe out a gang of Mexican Brigands on the Texas border. Dolores, daughter of one of the robbers, told the chief she would bring him into their midst. She accordingly appeared at a ball and displayed her charms so that the sheriff fell hopelessly in love and offered to accompany her home. But Dolores' heart was also strangely moved. She loved the handsome sheriff. She returned alone. The chief then compelled her to write a decoy letter. The sheriff came quickly as a lover could—and was captured. Dolores later helped him to escape and he in turn arrived with a strong posse just as the chief was about to kill the beautiful girl.
"The Badge of Courage." Kalem. Little Tom, who had a terror of the sea faints when his father tries to take him into the surf. Fifteen years later Tom has not overcome his terror. He meets Jane Mayfield and they become betrothed. They both join a merry party at the seashore. While in bathing Jane is carried out to sea. Tom rushes to the water's edge but his old terror returns. A number of bathers quickly go to the rescue of Jane. She calls Tom a coward. Later, when they return to the city Jane is locked in her father's office when it catches fire. At the risk of his life Tom saves Jane. Explanations follow and the past is forgotten.
"Over the Irish Vineyard." This is an extraordinary novelty, telling the story of love, courtship and marriage. Simply through the actions of the hands and feet without displaying the features. It is without doubt the most unusual picture ever produced.
"The Tired Absent Minded Man."

NO CASCARET USER EVER HAS HEADACHE

A 10-Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels Clean, Pure and Fresh for Months.
Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, decayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.
Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passage way for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect on the liver or stomach.
Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.
A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your druggist means inside cleanliness and a clear head for months. Ask any of the millions of Cascaret users if they ever have headache.
