ALIMONY IN A QUEER TANGLE

Former Chicago Woman Seeks to Have Two Men Support Her.
New York.—Is a woman entitled to receive support from more than one husband at any one time? Mrs. Estelle Werner, who obtained a divorce from Louis Pelletier, in Chicago in 1902, and later married her present husband, Charles Werner, is trying in the supreme court here to collect $4,269.13 back alimony from Pelletier, who is now a salesman in this city. He says that he and his wife agreed at the time he filed suit for divorce that he would not ask for alimony. It now appears that the Chicago decree provided that Pelletier should pay $40 a month alimony to his wife.

Opposing Mrs. Werner's claim, John N. Johnson, attorney for Pelletier, declared that public policy if nothing else, would seem to be against a woman receiving support from more than one husband. Mrs. Pelletier married Werner four weeks after the final decree of divorce was granted to her.
