AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.

Friday's change is excellent. Don't miss it.

1. "The Making of a Man." Biography. A young girl becomes fascinated by the leading man of a barn-storming company, whom she meets at a dance given during the stay of the company in the town. Her father finds that his daughter is in love with the actor, and his discipline causes her to leave home. The actor realizes that he loves the girl and marries her. Her father forces her back home. The actor determines to make himself worthy of her. He returns to claim his wife, but is told she is dead--for she was considered dead by her family when she finally left home in search of him. Fate again brings them together.

2. "The Sheriff's Decision." Essay. A western drama of delayed justice. Played with excellent feeling, with superb scenic backgrounds.

3. "The Colonel's Son." Kalem. Col. Malcolm drives his son Dick from home. Dick goes north and enlists in the union army. He penetrates the Confederate lines as a spy, is captured and taken to headquarters of his father. Dick is to be shot and when the death sentence is read he shows he is a coward. His father remains loyal to his oath and allows the order of the court martial to be executed.

4. "Rangoon, India." Pathe. This pretty travelogue thoroughly explains the charm Rangoon has for tourists.

5. "Little Morley is Too Short." Pathe. The diminutive size of this individual has caused him much trouble and costs him the consent of his sweetheart's father. He dons a pair of stilts and makes his reappearance at his sweetheart's house where he amazes everybody with his surprising growth. The father, appreciating a good joke, grants his permission.

The Pastime.

Only the best in motion pictures shown here. Friday's change of program:

"Grandma." Essanay. The prettiest story ever told. A rich young mother neglects her child for the affairs of society. The baby girl is sent up with tenderness for lost time. The parents are in Europe. The grandmother steps into the mother's place in the child's affections and the mother early comes to realize that she hasn't been doing her duty and makes scenes at grandma's farm are delightful.

"The Human Torpedo." Lubin. How would you like to have swallowed a gallon of nitroglycerine and become a human torpedo whom everyone was afraid to jar. The cops followed this man and, no matter what he did, protected him from getting any jar.

"The Saving Sign." Kalem. This classic Indian picture is a headliner. This story represents an Indian making a sign, which he says is sacred. The white man to whom he explains it, teaches it to his daughter and later she is captured by the Indians, who are now hostile. When Ruth's hands are unbound at the stake she looks upward and makes the "sign" which so amazes the Indians that they agree to peace.

"The Spinster's Marriage." American Pathe. The story of what happens when a fine was imposed upon bachelors and spinsters.

"Working Elephants." An industrial film showing how elephants work after they have been trained.

The Cosy.

For Friday and Saturday an unusual western drama, two extra fine stories of home life and a dandy comedy:

"An Italian's Gratitude." Solax. Tony, his wife and two children street musicians, play each day before the house of Dr. Wilson, whose little daughter Mabel became very friendly with the Italian children. Tony's little boy being seriously injured, is saved by Dr. Wilson, but is left a cripple. One day little Mabel was run down and killed by a heavy truck. The Italian in gratitude and sympathy to the doctor offered him their well child, and being lonely the doctor accepts, not the one offered, but the little cripple.

"The Rustler Sheriff." American. Walton, a ranch owner, having surprised the rustlers running off his cattle, was killed, while his daughter and her lover vowed vengeance. Riding to a secluded spot the chief rustler transforms himself into the sheriff. Later he led the posse on false trails and Jack determines to locate the rustlers himself. He followed the sheriff and found out that he was leading a double life and notified the boys. They ambushed the gang but the sheriff escaped. Pursued through the wild mountains, he was finally pinned down by a landslide and killed.

"The Victory of Love." Great Northern. A father being on the verge of ruin, gave his daughter's hand to his creditor, turning a deaf ear to the pleadings of the girl. On the day of the wedding the lover comes and the father watching the pair and seeing their grief, calls off the wedding and decides to meet his obligations as a man should.

"The Patched Shoe." Solax. Andy, a farmer, was made a detective by a fake agency and after receiving his star he starts out. Seeing Martin, who has been locked out, climbing into the window, Andy takes him for a burglar and noting that he wears a patched shoe, he follows the trail. A series of adventures follow and Andy is finally thrown out of the Martin home, vowing "never again."

POSTMASTER WILL CENSOR POSTCARDS

Ban on Those Depicting Men and Women Kissing, Women in Scant Attire and Animals

Chicago.—A crusade against objectionable post cards has been started by Postmaster D. A. Campbell, who yesterday appointed censors at all Chicago sub-stations. The three chief kinds of pictures ordered barred from distribution are:

- Men and women kissing.
 - Women in abbreviated costume.
 - Animal pictures.
- "Not one postal card in a hundred bearing the picture of an animal is fit to be exhibited in public," said the postmaster.
- "For each objectionable card which is delivered," said Mr. Campbell, "the superintendent of the sub-station will receive ten demerits, or one point. When he has received forty-one points off his rating his salary will be reduced. When his rating falls below thirty points he will be discharged."

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

A COMMON COLD neglected may go quickly into CROUP, BRONCHITIS, or PNEUMONIA which often means a sudden fatality. Keep FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND always in the house and give at first sign of a cold. Refuse substitutes.

John Persons, Stewart, Ohio, writes: "We use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as our best and only cough remedy. It never fails to cure any of my seven children of cough. My 2-month-old baby has had a most severe cough which our Doctor said he could not cure and that Baby would surely die. Several of our relations and neighbors had gathered to witness the ending of the child's life. Two bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured the child and he is alive and well today."

DOCTORS FAILED. RESTORED BY PERUNA.

Catarrh of the Lungs Threatened Her Life.

Miss Ninette Porter, Braintree, Vermont, writes: "I have been cured by Peruna."

"I had several hemorrhages of the lungs. The doctors did not help me much and would never have cured me."

"I saw a testimonial in a Peruna almanac of a case similar to mine, and I commenced using it."

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me."

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment."

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

AIRSHIPS AT HUNT MEETS.

Latest Fad in the Society Circles of the East.

New York.—Society folk witnessed a rare innovation for hunt meets when four of their number made the trip from Nassau boulevard to Belmont terminal in aeroplanes.

The autumn meeting of the Hunt Racing association was in progress when a machine alighted in the center of the field and from it stepped Mrs. May Corcoran and Al Welsh. A few minutes later Philip W. Page landed with Miss Blanche Scott as his passenger.

The aeroplanes departed about an hour later.

Yet Italy is a very civilized and Christian nation.

AT THE OREGON THEATRE

JEANNE TOWLER IN "THE WHITE SISTER"

When Jeanne Towler comes to the Oregon theater tomorrow, Sunday, night, she will be seen here for the first time in a new play which has aroused more comment among critics, theatergoers and literateurs than any dramatic offering for many and many a season. The play is "The White Sister," a most unusual story, both in plot and sub-plot, the work of the late F. Marion Crawford. When "The White Sister" was first produced the announcement was made that it would be interesting to watch the attitude of the Catholic church with regard to this play and conjecture was rife among the laymen of every sect as to whether or not the church through its clergy could endorse or condemn the stage offering. Inasmuch as F. Marion Crawford was selected as the biographer of the late Pope Leo shortly before his death, it was thought probable that the play would make for a truer understanding of the Catholic faith. After the first performance a number of the prominent Catholics of Chicago were selected to attend a performance and report the peculiarities of "The White Sister" in their relation to the church. The result of the churchmen's visit was a statement issued by the Catholic publications to the effect that the play was based entirely upon fact, as far as the principles of the church were concerned; that Catholics would appreciate the play and enjoy it; that the characterization of the Nun was beyond reproach; and that people of every sect and creed could find no

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Costed Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.
