50,000 TO ATTEND ROUNDUP NEXT YEAR

MOTION PICTURE MAN SAYS THIS IS CONSERVATIVE GUESS

Every One Met Along Route Taken in Exhibiting Views of Festival Expenses Intend on to Take in Event of Third Annual Show.

There will be fifty thousand people at the least in attendance at the 1912 Round-Up, according to the opinion of Clark Nelson, who is taking the Round-Up, moving pictures through the northwest for exhibition and who has just returned from northern Idaho. Not only does he prophesy fifty thousand as a minimum attendance but extends his maximum to twice that number and declares he would rather bet on the maximum than the minimum as the nearest to the number that will be there.

Everywhere he has taken the pictures, he says, he is met with the same old story. "I wanted to come to your show this year but couldn't get away, but you bet your life I'll be there with bells next year. Mr. Nelson is not so credulous as to believe that all of those people now declaring their intentions will be at the 1912 Round-Up but makes his estimates on the actual fulfillment of hopes by one out of every ten.

Pictures, Big Advertisement.
The pictures, he says, are being received with great interest and enthusiasm and he thinks are advertising the show better than any other means that could be devised. In fact he says that his audiences realize so clearly the advertising value of the pictures that many are astonished to learn that he had to pay a big sum for the privilege of exhibiting them.

The weather was so cold in Idaho that Mr. Nelson decided to postpone further exhibitions in that part of his territory until later. Dr. W. H. Lytle, his partner in the ownership of the films, will leave tonight for Baker to give the people of that city their long awaited opportunity and Mr. Nelson's next trip will be to the Willamette valley and southern Oregon.

HUMAN LADEN SHIP TO SINK.

the half demolished cabin where they have taken refuge.

It is unknown whether the others have perished, as there are no means of speaking with the vessel.

Two tugs are standing by, just outside the surf, within a mile of the wreck, but cannot approach it. The beach is rocky and several cliffs make it almost sure death for those on board if she strikes the rocks before the breeches buoy is rigged up to her.

Ship a Hoodoo.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—The steam schooner, Washington, is regarded in shipping circles as a hoodoo. She was built by the Moran company, in Seattle in 1906, and litigation, minor accidents, etc., gave the sailors a superstitious dread of it.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Fruit Tract Is Sold.
Blanch Fielding and husband, John Fielding, have sold to Funt Wilson eleven acres of fruit land in the Milton-Freewater section for $1600. The deed was filed today.

One Marriage License.
A marriage license was issued today to George A. Forth and Esther Johnson, both of this county. The former, not being of legal age, filed the written consent of his parents with the clerk.

Petition to Change Boundaries.
County Superintendent F. K. Welles today received petitions for the changing of the boundaries of two school districts in the east end of the county. One was from District 18 on the north fork of the Walla Walla river and the other from District 67 on the south fork of the same stream.

Two Drunks Forfeit Bail.
The city was made ten dollars richer this morning by the sins of Frank Davis and a young Swede, both of whom were arrested yesterday for being drunk on the streets and who forfeited their bail of five dollars apiece this morning.

Miss Slusher Writes of Round-Up.
In the last issue of the Quarterly published at St. Helen's Hall in Portland, there is a very well written and comprehensive story of the Round-Up by Miss Edith Slusher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Slusher of this city, who is a student at that institution.

Minister Returns With Baby.

Rev. J. G. Dickson, the pastor of the Indian church at the Tutubilla mission, returned with his family Saturday from Lapwai, Idaho, where he had been for several weeks. They are rejoicing over the arrival in their home of a baby girl. Mr. Dickson announced yesterday at his first service: "We are very glad to return to our work, not two, but three of us."

Evangelist Passes Through.

Rev. G. W. Arms, Jr., who is the pastor-evangelist of the Presbytery of Pendleton, passed through this morning from Rev. B. F. Harper's churches at Valley and Fruitvale, where he has held a series of evangelistic services. Mr. Arms is on his way to Mt. Hood and Parkdale to hold a similar series in the field where Rev. W. L. Van Nuys is pastor. He reports six conversions at his meetings in the east end of the county.

Solbert Candidate for Council.

John Solbert today filed a petition with Recorder Fitz Gerald by which he becomes a candidate for councilman from the third ward. John Dyer has already filed a petition from the same ward and one has been circulated for the nomination of R. F. Kirkpatrick, present incumbent. However it is rumored that Mr. Kirkpatrick will not accept nomination for reelection and, if this be so, there will probably be but two nominees for the two offices.

Will Warble in Milton.

The newly organized Commercial Club quartet, which was given a great ovation at its initial appearance Thursday night at the Elks' smoker, is already gaining a reputation over the county. An invitation has just been received from the Milton Fruit-growers to sing before that body at its annual convention a week from Wednesday. Inasmuch as this organization has always been importing musical talent from Walla Walla for its meetings, the quartet feels much complimented.

Dr. McClure Here Few Hours.

Dr. S. W. McClure, formerly a resident of this city when he was northwest chief of the federal bureau of animal industry but living at Gooding, Idaho, since his election as secretary of the National Woolgrowers' association, was in the city for a few hours this morning. He came in on the early train from La Grande after participating in the meeting of the Walla Walla county sheepmen and went on to Hermiston on No. 1. He will double back tonight and go on to Baker where he will address the Oregon Woolgrowers' association. He declares Pendleton looks better now than he has ever seen it.

OLD HERMIT ENTERS BONDS.

Austrian With Millions in Love With and Marries Cottager's Daughter.
Vienna.—The forest love romance of Herr Emanuel Feldheim, a millionaire, 77 years old, who for thirty years has passed a hermit's life at Nylsegyszaza, Hungary, has led to his marriage with Fraulein Jolan Klein, a beautiful girl of 17.

Herr Feldheim was the solitary occupant of a large house in the heart of a lonely forest, where he was in the habit of taking long walks. A year ago he noticed that a small cottage on his estate was occupied by a man named Klein, of good birth but reduced in circumstances, and that he had a beautiful daughter. After several meetings, when the old man would be accompanied in his walks by the young girl, he asked her to marry him.

By way of dowry Herr Feldheim has settled half of his fortune on his girl bride, whose exquisite dresses have been causing a sensation in Marlenbad, where the honeymoon is being spent.

His Calling.

"I don't know what to do with that boy of mine," said the conscientious parent.

"What's his distinguishing trait?"

"I haven't noted any, except that he likes to play practical jokes on people."

"Set him up in business with a motor car repair shop."

The highest waterfall in the world is Cholock Cascade, U. S. A., which is just half a mile high.

THE WHITE SISTER.

Local theatre goers who have been treated to nothing this fall but comic and musical operas had a decided change last evening when they saw Jeanne Towler in the "White Sister." It is no comedy, but a drama of the most serious sort. It becomes a tragedy when the soldier lover, Captain Giovanni Severi kills himself, thinking to make the path easier for his beloved.

"The White Sister," which is dramatized from the book of the same name is a powerful play. Captain Severi goes to Africa in command of an expedition and is reported killed, but returns alive and well after five years. Meanwhile his sweetheart has become a nun and so has renounced the world. In the book the bonds of love prove stronger than those of the church. But in the play the church comes forth triumphant for though he has won his point the soldier lover shoots himself rather than force his beloved to carry out the renunciation. There are many strange passages in "The White Sister" and Jeanne Towler is admirable indeed in the chief role. Robert Wayne, who has the part of Captain Severi is also an actor of good presence and ability.

"The White Sister" was witnessed by a representative audience last evening.

"The Love Tales of Hoffman" will be the next attraction, Sunday night, November 19.

COLUMBIA QUARTET TOMORROW NIGHT

Despite an announcement made to the contrary, the Pacific Lyceum Bureau entertainment course scheduled here by the high school for the winter, will be carried out and the first number of the course, the Columbia Quartet Concert company, will be given tomorrow night.

The Columbia Quartet and Concert company consists of Alva C. Fuhrman, violin, virtuoso, first bass and whistler, Charles J. Myers, flute soloist and second tenor, E. F. Williams, first tenor humorist and piano accompanist. These celebrated musicians received their education and musical training at the Ohio Institute for the Blind at Columbus, Ohio. N. V. Riddle, second bass and manager of the company since 1893. This is the oldest quartet and concert company on the platform today. The members of this company have been touring the Central States for the past eighteen years. During this period of time they devoted fourteen years of their work under the auspices of church societies and have contributed to the cause more than fifty thousand dollars. The remaining four years have been under the management of various Lyceum Bureaus. Have toured in all twenty states including the south. Their repertoire embraces a large collection of vocal and instrumental selections ranging from the popular hits of the day to the classic works of the old masters which make the audience cry with laughter and last of all the old time melodies which never fail to touch the most hard hearted.

COMMANDER ANDREWS TO HEAD NAVIGATION BUREAU

Will Succeed Rear Admiral Reginald F. Nicholson in Powerful Navy Department Jan. 1.—Latter Goes to Asia.

Washington.—Commander Philip Andrews, aid to the Secretary of the Navy, will become head of the all-powerful bureau of navigation in the Navy Department on Jan. 1, succeeding Rear Admiral Reginald F. Nicholson, who will hoist his flag as commander in chief of the United States Asiatic fleet. Admiral Nicholson will not assume his new command until some time in March.

In announcing the proposed change Secretary of the Navy Meyer said that he was in receipt of a telegram from President Taft approving the transfers, and also called attention to the fact that he now had a number of commanders instead of Admirals, heading the bureau of his department. Commander Anderson, born in New York, was appointed from New Jersey, entering the service in 1882.

Still other changes were announced by the Secretary. Rear Admiral Charles E. Vreeland, now aid for inspection, will succeed Rear Admiral Richard Walnwright, aid for operations, when the latter retires on account of age, Dec. 1.

One can readily imagine that talesmen in a case like that of McNamara would like to convict the badgering lawyers.
