AT THE PICTURE SHOWS.

The Cosy.
Our steam-heated theater is nice and warm these cold afternoons and evenings. Program for Friday and Saturday.

"The Lie." Thanhouse. A pretty story, introducing the little "Thanhouse Kid." The elder of the two sisters was offered money by her employer to play a part, not knowing the result and needing the money she agreed and was the means of dividing two lovers. The hero later rescued her little sister from drowning and the big sister confessed to the heroine.

"Such is the Kingdom." Reliance, Gladys, the daughter of a minister, ran away and her father disowned her. She returned home, but was ordered out. Her father's assistant, a young minister, angry at her father's injustice, tore the insignia of office from his neck and exclaimed: "If that is your kind of religion, I don't want it." Shocked by the act, the old man saw the true light and forgave the erring girl freely.

"The Indian Rustlers." Bison. The Indians returning from an unsuccessful hunting trip and being hungry, decided to steal some cattle. Seen by a cowboy they tried to kill him. The Indians rushed to their tribe and the cowboys rushed to aid their pal. In a fierce battle the Indians were defeated and the cowboy saved.

"The Scandalmonger." Yankee. A comedy drama, showing the harm that a man gossip wrought by his malicious lies. Old Si likes to talk and in this case he talked too much and got a nice ducking in the millpond.

At the Grand.
Joe Noel, the female impersonator, is perfection and many were present who did not know that it was only a mere man until at the end of his act when he removed his wig and disclosed himself. He does his share of dancing, doing a jig while in the act of skipping a rope, to all appearances being a graceful young woman with a ready smile for the occupants of the bald-head row and very nimble feet.

"THE HOLY SPIRIT IN REGENERATION"
Evangelist Holmes to Discuss Important Topic Tonight.
Last night showed a goodly num-

FREE BOOK ON PILES.

Tells How Cures Are Made With an Internal Medicine.
Do you know the cause of piles?
Is it inward or external?
Is it a skin disease?
Will salves or cutting cure for good?
Do you know how Dr. J. S. Leonard found the long-sought internal cure?
These questions fully answered in a booklet mailed free by Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y., or by Pendleton Drug Co., who sell HEM-ROID, the successful remedy, at 11 per large bottle, under guarantee. At all drug stores.

AERIAL COWPUNCHER NOW IN OUR MIDST
Presido Eber Drives Post's Herd Out of Way of Aviation Trials.
San Francisco.—Cowpunching with an aeroplane is the latest innovation in aviation, introduced by Roy M. Francis, a young San Francisco flier, who provided its feasibility at the Presido.

Hubert Latham, the French aviator, has shot ducks from an Antoinette monoplane, and other novel uses of aeroplanes have been made by other air men, but Francis is the first to herd cattle with a flying machine.

Francis is a member of the aviation colony of Cavalry Flat at the Presido. When he took his machine out of the hanger for a trial flight yesterday, he found the field in possession of the post herd of cattle. The herd contained about fifty head, which were scattered over the entire eastern portion of the field.

To be flying over these cattle

ASK SEERESS TO AID.

Police Seek Help of "Occult Science" in Solving Hancock Murder Mystery.
Hancock, Mich.—The aid of "occult science" was asked by the police in their search for the murderer of Mrs. Ida Kaarela, who was killed at her home in St. Mary's a week ago.

A seeress appearing at a local vaudeville house was appealed to by Chief of Police Tibor.

She promised him to answer within two days. Matt Hendrickson, the woman's prospective husband, who was found at her feet unconscious from a bullet wound, was arrested, but the police have been unable to fasten the crime upon him, because the revolver with which they believe they believe the double shooting was done cannot be found.

Quick climate changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredients. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros, 55 Warren street, New York.

WOLF PANIC AMONG GUESTS OF A PRINCE
One of Troubestokoy's Pets Sends Men and Women Leaping Upon the Tables.
Paris.—Prince Paul Troubestokoy, the sculptor, has finished a figure of William K. Vanderbilt. The Russian master has not idealized the American railroad man. The figure would never be taken for a warrior, statesman or author, just William K., with a certain daintiness added.

One of Prince Troubestokoy's pets, which are wolves instead of dogs, has got him into trouble. He keeps his pets in a large garden of his house and studio at No. 22 Rue Weber. His personal dislike to the butler that he makes a dash for the servant every time he sees him. Hence he had to be chained. The prince says he had forty wolves, but he never has seen a personal dislike develop before.

At a recent dinner party where the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Graves and Mr. and Mrs. Algenon Boyesen of New York and

WAR PRESAGED BY SAINT.

Italians of Naples Accepted "Second Liquefaction of Blood" as Omen.
Rome.—While rumors of war have been disturbing Europe, the superstitious Italian is convinced that a European conflict is bound to come quite soon. His reason is the "second liquefaction of the blood of St. Januarius," which is reported to have taken place.

This miracle of the martyr's blood (which is preserved in a dry state in the Cathedral of Naples) ordinarily occurs, or is supposed to occur, three times a year and was duly reported on the expected date, a few days ago.

Next day, the priests in charge reported a second liquefaction and declared that the blood on this occasion took on a brighter hue. This was accepted as presaging a European war, for it is declared that a similar omen was reported just before the wars of 1850, 1866 and 1870.

FAIR REFORMER STIRS TOWN BY HER CHARGES

Clubwomen in Fashionable Audience Hear Their Husbands Denounced by Name.
Hammond, Ind.—West Hammond's intrepid young female reformer, Miss Virginia Brooks, shook up the dry bones in Hammond by denouncing in most sensational manner the people who rent building across the state line in Illinois for immoral purposes. She did this on the lecture platform in the First Presbyterian church, before a fashionable audience of society women, and did not hesitate for a moment to call a spade a spade.

Since Miss Brooks took up settlement work in West Hammond, after her successful crusade against civic graft and corruption there, she has been greatly in demand as a lecturer. The Hammond Woman's Club, an exclusive organization connected with the Indiana State Federation of Woman's Clubs, invited her to speak on "The Home."

The clubwomen expected her to tell
