AT THE PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum. A swell program for Tuesday's change: 1. The Clown and His Best Performance. Vitagraph. Little Paul Linton thought he had entered Fairyland when he attended the show. He was fascinated by the clown who always stopped before the child and gave a few extra touches to his act in acknowledgment of the boy's appreciation. 2. "Townhall, Tonight." Essanay. The funniest of the Essanay Snakeville comedy. Two wandering Thespian give a show and the cowboy audience leaves in disgust. They are caught stealing pies and one is locked up. The other makes up as an old lady and believing it the prisoner's mother the sheriff releases the boy and starts a subscription to send the couple back east. 3. "What Will Be Will Be." Lubin. Here's a love story that ends up with a tripple wedding. Widow Hopkins and her daughter Daisy, lived next door to Widower Morgan and his son Jack. A quarrel, a conciliation and finally the whole sale wedding. 4. "A Convict's Heart." Pathe. A convict escapes and is found by a little boy who takes him home, feeds him, gives him a new suit of clothes and helps file the shackles off his feet. There is a $500 reward offered for his recapture. The boy goes with the convict into the woods and there tells him the story of the mortgaged home and the hardened criminal, knowing that the human bloodhounds are on his trail, compels the boy to deliver him into the sheriff's hands at the point of the gun, which the convict himself supplies to get the reward and pay the mortgage. The Pastime. If you see it at the Pastime it is the best. Tuesday's change of program includes the feature film: "Maud Muller." Selig. Pictured from Eric B. Collins dramatization of Whittier's poem. He pictures to State of Ohio, City of Toledo, Lucas County. Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY. Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 27th day of December, A. D. 1886. [Seal] A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

us a midsummer day's meeting between Maud Muller and the judge. The judge tarries by Maud's hayfield longer than necessary. They separate and each become conscious of a longing in their hearts. Maud marries a man, unlearned and poor, the judge weds a woman who lives for fashion. And still in the heart of both the judge and the lass there lingers that aching void. "Dr. Bill's Patient." Essanay. This is a decidedly charming comedy, with many good hearty laughs. It is love at first sight with Dr. Bill and Cynthia. Cynthia's charms win him over and a rapid-transit love play comes to a delicious close. "Tommy's Rocking Horse." Melies. Little Tommy was a favorite with the X. Y. outfit. He was left in their charge for a day and the boys gave him a candy pull, which made him sick. Nothing would brace Tommy up save the rocking horse which he had long wanted. "The Liar." Pathe. A romance of the olden time when men were condemned to death for stealing. "The Magnet." Pathe. This film is a real treat.

The Cosy. For Monday and Tuesday, four of the finest pictures you ever saw. Every one is a top-notch: "Faith." Rex. A wonderfully beautiful story told in the matchless Rex way. The Rev. Barton lost faith in the gospel and resigned. Leaving a note for his wife and child he went west in search of gold. After five years he was successful. One night he took refuge in a miner's hut but was distrustful of the family till he heard the child saying her evening prayer. Fear vanished and the old faith in God returned. Next day she started home to find his loved ones, and finding them thanked God for faith. "The Hold-Up." Solax. A strong military picture. Drake, a mine owner in love with the colonel's daughter, overheard Lieutenant Harris arrange a fake hold-up. Wishing to ruin his rival, Drake told the colonel the hold-up was genuine and soldiers were dispatched with orders to shoot to kill. But the girl found out and riding like a whirlwind saved the lieutenant by explaining the matter. The fake bandits were reprimanded and let go. "Count Ivan and the Waitress." Thanhouser. The count, accused of conspiracy by the czar, fled from Russia, landing in America penniless. He earned a meagre living by music. He earned a count came fast and he was soon destitute. A waitress feeling pity for the aged man, took care of him. Later a pardon came and wealth. He bought the restaurant for the girl and left a fortune in the cash register before sailing for Russia. "Mutt and Jeff at the Fortune Tellers." Nestor. Take the best comedy that ever happened, boil it down till only laughs remain—then you have an idea of what this Mutt & Jeff comedy is like. She was a fortunate-teller and she told Mutt bum fortune for $2.00. In trying to avoid the awful things she predicted, Mutt got in a terrible mess, eggs-actly.

AT THE OREGON THEATRE

The announcement is made that Miss Anna Day, the sterling American actress, and her supporting cast of twenty players, will visit this city for an engagement of one night, Tuesday, November 28, at the Oregon theater in that fine old drama, "When Knighthood was in Flower." The play was dramatized some seasons ago by Paul Kester, the well known American playwright from Charles Major's great romance of chivalry, and was the vehicle Miss Julia Marlowe achieved one of her greatest stage triumphs. This season Mr. William K. Sparks secured the original Marlowe scenery, costumes and properties, and it is said that the play this season is being given the most elaborate stage setting since it began its career as a road company, after Julia Marlowe had relinquished her rights to it. One thing is certain, Miss Day's manager, Mr. Sparks, has spared neither money nor pains to give the theatergoers their money's worth.

A word about Miss Day would not be amiss. She has been given a tour this season that will take in all the principal cities of Canada and the United States. In many of these cities she has been seen before, where her charming personality has made for her many warm and true friends among the theatergoers. This is Miss Day's third season in the character of Mary Tudor, having been one year under the management of Mr. Ernest Shipman and the previous season with Mr. Frank L. Perley. This season Miss Day comes under the personal direction of Mr. William K. Sparks' contract with Miss Day is for five years, and during that time she is to be supplied with two new plays. Miss Day has, by hard work, sacrifice and real ability, climbed the ladder. Her growth professionally has been steady, but sure. This season in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" she will be seen at her zenith.

HAND BELL RINGERS SCORE A SUCCESS

The Epworth League always "makes good" when it promises a delightful entertainment. This was especially true last Saturday evening when the Imperial Hand Bell Ringers presented a superior musical entertainment at the Methodist Episcopal church. The company was composed of ten artists, the conductor, eight bell ringers and Mr. Bileau, soloist and humorist. At the beginning of the program, Mr. Bileau gave a short sketch of the meaning of hand bell ringing, which began in the latter part of the 17th century. He said the ringers first went around the homes at Christmas time, imitating church bell chimes. Their number was increased from 8 to 53. Mr. Giggie, the conductor of this company, now has 196, the smallest of which weighs 2 ounces and the largest 11 pounds. These bells have a rich, mellow tone, and music from the great masters was rendered in a manner to delight all music lovers. Perhaps the heartiest and most appreciated number was a selection from Il Trovatore. The clang clang of the Anvil Chorus came out magnificently. They showed their ability to play lighter music by taking up, as an encore the popular air, "Every Little Movement" to the delight of the younger set. The audience was also delighted by the rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" and Great Britain's national anthem, which is the tune of our "America."

Their glee numbers were excellent. The double quartette of "Yorkshire Choir Singers" giving just the style of music one hears today when he visits in the Yorkshire churches. The solos rendered by Mr. Bileau were very pleasing. His voice has exceptional range and sweetness. At the close of the program the audience was invited to examine the bells, the mechanism of which was more complicated than would appear to the uninitiated.

The next number the Epworth League will present will be the Virginia Jubilee Singers, who come highly recommended. Saved Many from Death. W. L. Mock Ark, believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affections for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove, he's right. Get a trial bottle free or regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by Koeppen.

Put a porous plaster on the chest and take a good cough syrup internally if you would treat a severe case of sore lungs properly. Get the dollar size BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP. With each bottle there is a free HERRICK'S RED PEPPER POROUS PLASTER for the chest. Sold by A. C. Koeppen & Bros.

If Your Neighbor Has Electric Light and you have not, just step into his house some evening after dark and compare its light with your own. Study each point of convenience, cleanliness, clearness, beauty carefully, and then figure out for yourself if it would not pay you well to have your house wired for electric light at once.

Electric Light Today is Cheaper and Better Than Ever Before since the General Electric Company placed its MAZDA lamp on the market. We have arranged to supply our customers with the G. E. MAZDA lamps on very favorable terms. These lamps give two to three times as much light as other lamps using the same current.

If your house is located on any of our distributing lines we shall be glad to advise you about having it wired and will give you more facts about the efficient electric lighting of your home.
