UMATILLA COURT TO ATTEND CONVENTION

ALL COUNTIES TO BE REPRESENTED AT PORTLAND

Meeting Called for Purpose of Discussing Matters of Importance to Development of Several Counties in Oregon.

County Judge J. W. Maloney and Commissioners Horace Walker and H. M. Cockburn, constituting the Umatilla county court, are planning to attend the annual convention of the county courts of the state, which is to be held in Portland December 12-14, inclusive, at which topics of interest to the different counties will be discussed. Principal among these topics will be "good roads" and all organizations and persons interested in this work will be invited to attend.

In speaking of the coming meet, D. W. Wonaecott, president of the state organization, has said: "There are many vital questions to be discussed at this meeting, which are at this time of great interest to the people of the state at large. Prominent among which may be mentioned, the permanent improvement of our highways and the necessity of a more uniform method of improvement throughout the state.

Bridge Construction Work.
"Another vital question which is daily forcing itself upon the people of this state, is a more permanent method of bridge construction. Our old wooden bridges, especially the longer spans, are rapidly being replaced by steel and reinforced concrete structures.

"It is our purpose at this convention to have with us some good speakers in support of a more scientific and permanent method of bridge construction as well as road building thus giving our commissioners and the convention a more thorough knowledge and education along these lines of improvement. I say education, for indeed we are living in an age of higher education along the lines of a more modern and scientific method of road construction as well as bridge building.

"Another important matter for discussion will be road legislation. In this question alone to my mind is the key to the whole system. Speaking for myself, I would favor a law creating a state road extending from the Oregon state line north, through Portland, thence south through the Willamette valley, on south to the California line.

"I would also favor a state road from some point on the Oregon state line north and extending south through eastern Oregon to the California line.

To Talk of Convicts.
"With this bit of legislation, it would necessitate the passage of a law creating a state highway commission to superintend the improvement of these highways. The next in line would be a means of raising revenue, which is a very essential element in road construction. We then would be in a position to ask the governor that convicts improve our highways under the supervision of the state highway commission. These, with many other measures of road legislation, will be discussed.

"Another matter of interest for the convention, and one which I think would be a source of interest, would be a report from each county represented of the amount of money expended in the improvement of the roads, bridges and culverts of their respective counties for the past three, five or more years; also the amount and kinds of machinery employed, such as rollers, crushers, graders, plows, scrapers, etc. and other information that would be of interest to the commissioners."

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Many Pedagogues Leave.

With the special train loaded to capacity, the teachers of Umatilla county left last evening shortly after 5 o'clock for Baker where they will attend the annual institute during the three first days of this week. The institute will close Wednesday and the majority of the teachers will return to their homes that evening.

Round-Up Pictures Worth While.

The Eugene Register remarks editorially: "The Pendleton Round-Up as given at the Shell Friday and Saturday was worth while. There are many excellent things to be given the public through moving pictures that are interesting, instructive and entertaining—and then there are other presentations that have the opposite effect. Perhaps we should hold to the more philosophical view that it takes the good, bad and indifferent to make up this old world of ours. But, the more of the good we have in it the better off we are."

Eugene People to Round-Up.

Lee Teutsch, the real estate man, is in receipt of a letter from George Fisher, a Eugene seller of land, in which the latter declares there will be several Pullman loads of people leave Eugene for Pendleton next fall at Round-Up time. Mr. Fisher witnessed the last show here and is one of the many who were turned into boosters for the local institution by their attendance.

Commissioner Kicked by Horse.

County Commissioner Horace Walker is able to be on the streets after confinement to his home for several days by an injury received last Thursday when he was kicked by a horse. He was in his corral at his Stanfield ranch and was struck in the back by the heels of one of his horses when it kicked at another animal. He suffered two broken ribs and, although the fractures are healing rapidly, they still cause the commissioner considerable pain.

At the Grand.

Beginning tonight, Monday, Prof. Reese, the handcuff king, will perform some marvelous feats, being securely locked both hand and foot with dozens of handcuffs and chains he steps into a cabinet and steps out in a short time with all chains and cuffs off. His black cabinet tricks are very mystifying.

The Chestey Trio who appears will deliver a clever playlet entitled "The Third Generation." Both of these are feature acts and should be a good drawing card.

SAY EXTENTION TALK DELAYS DEVELOPMENT

"MEADOWS" FARMERS MEET AND DISCUSS SITUATION

Will Extend Invitation to State Board of Control to Visit Section and Inspect Proposed Work—Favor John Day Project.

(Special Correspondence.)

Stanfield, Ore., Nov. 27.—There was a well attended meeting of farmers who live on the "Meadows" across the Umatilla river from Stanfield, held Saturday evening at the home of Zoeh Houser for the purpose of discussing the matter of the proposed west extension to the Umatilla project. O. D. Teal was elected chairman, John Dorn secretary, and G. L. Hurd, assistant secretary. It was the consensus of opinion that the agitation of the subject of the proposed extension had retarded the development and improvement of valuable lands that the reservoir for the extension would likely cover, also that serious consideration should be given to the John Day project, which contains lands that would be more easily handled under irrigation and could be watered much more cheaply than the lands under the western extension of the Umatilla project. It was voted to invite the state board of control to visit this section of the country and look over the situation so as to acquaint themselves with actual conditions, especially with regard to the lands that will be covered by the reservoir of the proposed extension, thousands of acres of which are now in a high state of cultivation and occupied by beautiful homes. The chairman and the secretary were instructed to draft resolutions setting forth the reasons for carefully investigating the proposed extension and the development of the John Day project instead, a copy of these resolutions to be sent to the various officials who have a voice in matters of this nature and to the newspapers. The farmers are thoroughly in earnest in this matter and are determined to get a hearing and to do everything in their power to obtain the recognition that is due them, especially in view of the fact that the proposed extension to the Umatilla project is really beneficial chiefly to two wealthy corporations.
